De Anza College Overview

De Anza College offers a broad range of academic and career programs, cultural activities, sports and social events each quarter to about 24,000 students. Students can earn associate degrees in 63 fields of study and 102 certificates of achievement. About 40,000 friends and neighbors participate in De Anza's Community Education programs each year. They enjoy noncredit, fee-based Short Courses and the Extended Year Summer Enrichment Program for youth.

Students attending De Anza enjoy the full college experience. They can join a club or start a new one; walk through time at the California History Center; visit the stars at the Fujitsu Planetarium at De Anza College; explore the diversified ecosystems of the Cheeseman Environmental Study Area; exercise in the Life-time Fitness and Wellness Center between classes; or participate on a sports team – there are plenty to choose from. An education at De Anza isn't just about books and tests; students also discover a diversity of people representing cultures from around the world and learn how to become fully engaged, politically aware citizens. The college's Institute of Community and Civic Engagement helps advance this goal.

Learning at De Anza College happens in state-of-the-art facilities, many funded through voter-approved Measures E and C. The college is committed to designing and constructing new buildings using green building materials and methods. Both the Science Center and the Kirsch Center for Environmental Studies are LEED® certified; the latter received the Platinum rating, the highest available. LEED® buildings are rated on sustainable site development, water savings, energy efficiency, materials and resources selection, and indoor environmental quality. The much-anticipated Visual and Performing Arts Center (VPAC) opened for classes in winter 2009 and features a 400-seat theater, art museum, adaptable classroom space and an outdoor smart classroom. It is also LEED® certified. The Mediated Learning Center, to be LEED® Platinum certified, is slated to open in 2012.

Multiple student services are efficiently located in the Student and Community Services Building, also LEED® certified. The Campus Center, the hub of student activities, meetings and study areas, contains a full-service Food Court that uses environmentally responsible practices such as buying organic produce from local farmers and providing biodegradable cups, plates and eating utensils. These are all part of the college's efforts to be environmentally responsible.

De Anza consistently ranks among the top California community colleges in the number of transfers to CSU and UC. De Anza's top transfer institutions include UC Berkeley, UC Santa Cruz, UC Davis and UC San Diego as well as San José State University and San Francisco State University.

The audience will please remain seated until after the recessional.

Since 1981, the Special Education Division has provided sign language interpreting for Deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals. Interpreters this year are Susan Roberts and Clare Sullivan.

Reception

Graduates, guests, faculty and staff are cordially invited to attend a reception immediately following the commencement ceremony. De Anza’s Dining Services and Patrick Gannon, director of the Campus Center, will provide refreshments in the Outdoor Events Arena. Vocal Flight, directed by Michelle Hawkins, will provide music. Our special thanks go to the De Anza Student Body (DASB) for funding the reception refreshments.

Special Awards

DeHart Memorial Scholarship

Alejandro Jimenez of San José is the recipient of this year's DeHart Memorial Scholarship. He graduates this spring with a 3.67 GPA. Jimenez, a native of Mexico City, will transfer to UC Berkeley with a double major in English and anthropology. Jimenez wants to become a writer and print journalist.

While attending De Anza, Jimenez was on the staff of La Voz, the student newspaper, and was also an active volunteer with Generation Engage. The nonpartisan not-for-profit organization empowers young adults with the access and resources they need to become active citizens and engaged participants in their communities. Jimenez also volunteered four hours a week in the emergency department of the Stanford University Medical Center and has been working to establish a campus club for AB540 students.

The annual scholarship is presented in memory of A. Robert DeHart, founding president of De Anza College. It is awarded to a graduate who exemplifies service and participates in campus life relating to his or her personal values and goals.

President's Awards

Jake Parent of San José maintained a 4.0 GPA in his political science major and plans to transfer to UC Santa Cruz in the fall where he will major in politics and community studies. Parent says his journey to overcome personal obstacles in his life has given him a new set of values centered on the idea of how true happiness and pleasure in life come from how much he does for others.

Parent and four other people raised funds and resources to open an orphanage, clinic and school facility called the Amin Institute in Kabul, Afghanistan. One of his goals is to grow the Amin Institute into a permanent and powerful participant in the protection of children affected by war.

Kenia Vega, also of San José and a liberal arts major, will graduate with a 3.29 GPA and transfer to San José State University or Santa Clara University with a major in communications. A single mother, Vega is the first in her family to graduate from college and transfer to a four-year institution. One of her goals is to establish a charitable foundation to enable and encourage single parents to get an education.

Vega served as vice president of the Latina/o Empowerment at De Anza (¡LEAD!) student leadership program and as a mentor in the Puente Program. She is one of the co-founding members of the first AB540 scholarship at De Anza. Vega also volunteers at Boys & Girls Club as a tutor and translator.

The President's Award is presented annually to a graduating student who has overcome significant adversity or obstacles and has shown great perseverance in seeking an education at De Anza.

Special Recognition

President's Leadership Awards

Anne Argyriou, Academic Senate President

Al Guevara, Classified Senate President

Terrell Sterling, DASB President

Academic Regalia

The academic costume worn today can be traced back to the European universities of the 12th and 13th centuries, where scholars and clerics wore hoods and robes to stay warm in unheated buildings. Use of the academic gown came to the United States in 1754 with the founding of what is now Columbia University. Until after the Civil War, students at most universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence.

Academic dress consists of the cap, gown and hood. The mortarboard is a head-hugging cap topped with a square flat surface from which a tassel hangs. Styling of the gown varies according to the degree of the wearer. An associate's degree gown displays the college colors. A bachelor's degree holder wears a simple black gown with long, pointed sleeves. Those with a master's degree wear a more elaborate gown with slit openings in the sleeves. The doctoral gown has bell-shaped sleeves, velvet panels down the front and around the neck, and three velvet bars on each sleeve. In the hoods, the color of the velvet border indicates the type of degree held, while the color of the lining designates the official colors of the institution granting it.

Colors symbolizing academic areas of study are:

2009 Commencement Speaker

Tamim Ansary grew up in Kabul, where his father taught science and literature at Kabul University and his American mother taught English at the first girls' school in Afghanistan. In 1964, Ansary moved to the United States when he received a scholarship to attend high school at Colorado Rocky Mountain School. He graduated with honors in 1970 from Reed College in Portland and began his writing career working for The Portland Scribe.

Ansary is the author of "West of Kabul, East of New York," a memoir about a bicultural life straddling Afghanistan and America, and "Destiny Disrupted: A History of the World Through Islamic Eyes." He has also written 38 nonfiction works for children, contributed to major textbook programs, and edited and published "Snapshots: This Afghan American Life," an anthology of work by 15 young Afghan-Americans whom he mentored. His own short fiction has appeared in Gettysburg Review, Rosebud, Zyzzyva, Prism International and other publications. Ansary directs the San Francisco Writers Workshop and teaches occasionally through the Osher Institute of Lifelong Learning in San Francisco and Berkeley.

He has appeared on the Bill Moyers Show, the News Hour with Jim Lehrer, the Oprah Winfrey Show, Hardball and numerous National Public Radio programs.

Congratulations
