! Trolling Industrial Complex - Tools, Resources, and etc.

↳by CrassCrab » 11 Jan 2011, 15:57

Like the military, a troll outfit must be stocked and equipped with the tools of their trade. Be it audio recording, video ripping, or 7334 h4x0rzin'. This thread will be dedicated to the needs of those requirements. Make a request, be it software, data (IE videos, audio, pictures), or advice.

Request: I need videos of camwhores sitting at their computers being bored/teasing or whatever but not actually ever showing anything. This is needed for the trolling of /drinking. For a room to go public on the tinychat listings it must reach a occupancy number of 20. While we're able to do this easily initially it can prove difficult to maintain these numbers. What I think is needed is an incentive to stay.

Reason: more detailed thread title

This is an awesome idea, we should work towards creating a trolling toolkit that includes videos, copypasta, basic infoz etc...

Call Graph: Free Skype Recording Program
<http://callgraph.biz/>

It's incredibly easy to use, and it records both sides of the conversation. The recording puts both people talking into one file, but each person's side comes out a different speaker so you can split it up later if needed.

Audacity: Sound recorder and mixer.
<http://audacity.sourceforge.net/>

Free program that lets you record shit really easily. Can also mix audio together and export it in many different formats. Can also be used to strip audio out of recordings that you make with Call Graph.

Frontspac's penis etc.

This is a great thing to sticky in here. Might want to change the title, but regardless, dis good.

As for the camwhores, for a loop to be effective on anyone other than the severe retards (random people we get into /drinking are obviously morons, but they're self aware enough to leave once they get a dose of Daffy), it needs to be a pretty long loop.

I'd suggest biting the bullet and start surfing public tinychats with a shitload of people in them yourself. Find a camwhore in one and record her for as long as you can.

The only issue there is their nick will be in the top left, but you can clip that out.

What program(s) do people use to backup livejournals, or grab the journal entries they've friended, these days?

It's way better.

Also these are very useful.
