I actually just now saw this answer to me in that thread heh

Really though why are you studying languages, because it's actually pretty useful to know them or just to show off

Those are the only 2 options, yes.

Seriously, what is the problem with wanting to poke around at something, and see how it works just for the hell of it? So I learn a few phrases, expressing to the people an interest in their language (or in your eyes, I guess i'm showing off. whatever), and then they maybe teach me a little bit more about how it works. Studying languages for me is partially just an interest. If I learn a little about everything on the menu, and can then just sit there and say "well that was fun" whats the god damn problem? Somebody wants to go rockclimbing, goes up a smallish mountain, then is content with not doing it again. You don't say "Well what was the point of that then? Rockclimbing is good for your body and you must do it often if you want results! What, are you now going to pretend like you're some badass that climbs mountains all the time? get out, faggo!" The guy doesn't want to devote years of his life to it, but he experienced it, and knows how it works. That's perfectly fine.

However when it comes to the whole situation I brought up about learning some phrases and the europeans not giving a crap, its not a case of "they're not flattered now they won't admire me and I will never be king of the campus!" but moreso a case of " they don't care, well looks like im being shut out from learning this a little bit from a native. oh well, fuck it." I'll still hang out with them, but it just gives a little less shit for us to talk about. So it sucks a little bit - hence discontent - hence posting in this thread.

Like sure whatever, if you're interested in languages go ahead etc. but on other hand I find it kinda stupid to expect random native speakers of languages be there to teach you?

That has actually sometimes happened to me and I have seen it happen to some other finnish people too online

For example I was watching some finnish videos on youtube, and then I started noticing this same user commenting on these videos, like how he tries to learn finnish, hey can you teach me finnish, I love finnish, hey how do you find a finnish girlfriend, if I went to Finland do you think finnish girls would like me, mina rakastan suomin kieli, etc it was weird

Maybe I can find him again, maybe he has continued his shenanigans

Phinny was a total putz, but I think he was just doing self-parody with that Newgrounds famous thing. That joke originated in Mumble after his Justin Wong video came out.

Then again, Phinny just existing is self-parody, so who knows!

That reminds me. He kept sending me videos of his friend practicing Czech. And asking me questions about how his pronunciation was and if he was actually doing well. I pointed out that I'm not Czech and my Czech actually sucks really bad but it seemed pretty good. He kept asking me on other occasions and I kept saying it seemed okay but I'm not good in Czech.

Eventually I just told him to stop asking me because I'm not the proper person to judge someone's skills in Czech. Then he goes into this spiel about how he thought someone would be interested to see someone learning their language blah blah blah.

Super, BUT IM NOT CZECH.

I need to find that post.

Why you always got me analyzing Czech? My Czech grammar sucks. I can tell you his pronunciation is still pretty goofy. And his rhythm is a bit weird too. He's just saying a bunch of random shite. Like "how well did you sleep" or "how much does this cost" and directions and stuff.

fuckinstupid wrote: PhinnyCupcakes wrote: I'd love to get some criticism from a native on my chinese =/ was just thinking he might want the same for his czech.

Problem is, I'm not a native. I can speak Czech since it's similar to Slovak, but it isn't my first language. Can't analyze his grammar, can only tell you he sounds goofy. But Czech is not easy to pronounce.

Tide: I'm not angry or annoyed, just saying I'm not the best guy for the job.
