Subject: AW: R: further misrepresentations by Myron

This disturbed man (Myron) has brought himself into much trouble by his last statements on the Blog. We at AIAS have repaired this mess multiply in the past but he seems not to be able to learn anything from this. Now he will have to undergo the hard method. Meanwhile we should concentrate on our important research work. Let's convert our minds to positive thinking. Only within this spirit progress is possible.

To Whom It May Concern:

I wish to lodge an official complaint about Professor Myron Evans, in the Physics Dept., as pertaining to his behavior in Classical Mechanics. Basically, I don't believe that the gentleman in question is familiar with the concepts of soap or deodorant. I sit on the next to the last row of classroom 118, and he smells so badly that I have had to leave class on several occasions. During the week which ended on Friday, 2-25-94, he wore the same sweater, shirt, pants, and shoes that he had worn on Monday, and every day in between. On Monday, 2-28-94, he was still wearing the same shirt and pants, but had changed his sweater. His body odor became overwhelming on Friday, and was no better on Monday. Please ask him to take care of this problem, or I'm afraid I will fail because I have to leave so many class periods early.
