

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

JAMES ROSEMOND,

Petitioner,

v.

Case No. _____

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Respondent.

Declaration of Jim Brown

I, Jim Brown, declare pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746 as follows:

1. My name is James "Jim" Brown.
2. I am a retired professional football player, sports analyst, actor, and philanthropist. I played football for the Cleveland Browns from 1957 to 1965 and was elected to the Pro Football Hall of fame in 1971. I retired from football in 1966 to focus on an acting career, and I appeared in more than 40 films over the ensuing decades.
3. In 1988, I founded a program called Amer-I-Can. Our team works with young people in the inner cities and prisons, particularly in Cleveland and Los Angeles. We help individuals meet their academic potential and improve the quality of their lives by equipping them with the skills to confidently and successfully contribute to society. In connection with this social and community work, I have met with numerous political leaders, including nine United States presidents.
4. In 2020, I supported James Rosemond in his effort to have his sentence commuted. I had several conversations with then-President Donald Trump and his advisors, in which I expressed my support for Mr. Rosemond's efforts.
5. On December 18, 2020, President Trump called me and informed me that he had decided to commute Mr. Rosemond's sentence to the time he had already served in prison.
6. During this conversation, President told people in the room with him: "Let's get this guy home for Christmas." He told me that he had "looked at everything"—meaning the materials we had provided about Mr. Rosemond's case—and "believe you guys" that Mr. Rosemond's sentence should be commuted. "I want to do this," President Trump added, referring to the commutation.
7. Based on my conversation with President Trump, I believe that Mr. Rosemond's sentence was commuted on December 18, 2020.

8. On January 20, 2021, President Trump left the White House. During the intervening period, President Trump never suggested to me that he had decided not to commute Mr. Rosemond's sentence.

9. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on 6-14, 2021

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Jim Brown", is written over a horizontal line.

Jim Brown

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

JAMES ROSEMOND,

Petitioner,

v.

Case No. _____

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Respondent.

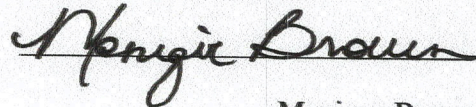

Declaration of Monique Brown

[Faint, illegible text from the reverse side of the page is visible through the paper.]

I, Monique Brown, declare pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746 as follows:

1. My name is Monique Brown.
2. I work with a program called Amer-I-Can. Our team works with young people in the inner cities and prisons, particularly in Cleveland and Los Angeles. We help individuals meet their academic potential and improve the quality of their lives by equipping them with the skills to confidently and successfully contribute to society. In connection with this social and community work, I have met with numerous political leaders, including U.S. presidents.
3. In 2020, I supported James Rosemond in his effort to have his sentence commuted. I had several conversations with then-President Donald Trump and his advisors, in which I expressed my support for Mr. Rosemond's efforts.
4. On December 18, 2020, President Trump called me and informed me that he had decided to commute Mr. Rosemond's sentence to the time he had already served in prison.
5. During this conversation, President told people in the room with him: "Let's get this guy home for Christmas." He told me that he had "looked at everything"—meaning the materials we had provided about Mr. Rosemond's case—and "believe you guys" that Mr. Rosemond's sentence should be commuted. "I want to do this," President Trump added, referring to the commutation.
6. Based on my conversation with President Trump, I believe that Mr. Rosemond's sentence was commuted on December 18, 2020.
7. On January 20, 2021, President Trump left the White House. During the intervening period, President Trump never suggested to me that he had decided not to commute Mr. Rosemond's sentence.
8. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on 6-14, 2021

Monique Brown