The American Athletic Conference consists of 13 prestigious institutions: the University of Central Florida, the University of Cincinnati, East Carolina University, the University of Connecticut, the University of Houston, the University of Memphis, the U.S. Naval Academy (in football only), the University of South Florida Southern Methodist University, Temple University, Tulane University, the University of Tulsa, and Wichita State University (as of July 1, 2017).

Under the leadership of commissioner Mike Aresco, the American Athletic Conference has written an impressive list of accomplishments, both in the competitive arena and the classroom. The American has taken its place at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics, with a collection of national team and individual championships and football and men's and women's basketball postseason victories that place The American among the elite Division I FBS conferences. The league has produced four NCAA championship teams – UConn men's basketball in 2014 and UConn women's basketball in 2014, 2015 and 2016 – in addition to two New Year's Six bowl champions, five NCAA individual championships, and one Rhodes Scholar. Additionally, American Athletic Conference teams have advanced to the College World Series, reached the semifinal and final rounds of the NIT, qualified for the match play round of the NCAA Men's Golf Championship and registered top-10 finishes at the NCAA Cross Country and Outdoor Track and Field championships.

The American Athletic Conference was one of six finalists for the 2016 Sports Business Journal Sports League of the Year award, along with Major League Baseball, Major League Soccer, NASCAR, the National Basketball Association and the PGA Tour.

In football, Temple and Navy were ranked in the final College Football Playoff poll of the 2016 season, marking the second straight season that The American finished with at least two ranked teams. Seven teams from The American played in bowl games, while three teams (USF, Temple, Tulsa) finished with at least 10 wins.

The American has had a combined 15 teams play in bowl games in the last two seasons, highlighted by Houston's win against Florida State in the 2015-16 Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl. Houston's finish at No. 8 nationally in 2015 gave The American a top-10 team in the final national polls for the second time in three seasons after UCF finished No. 10 in the 2013 rankings after the Knights' Fiesta Bowl win against Baylor. Additionally, Memphis, Navy, USF and Temple have all finished in the top 25 of either the CFP, Associated Press or USA Today polls as members of The American.

Individual teams in The American have enjoyed unprecedented success since the conference's formation. Houston went 13-1 in the 2015 football season, setting a school record for wins, while Navy won a program-record 11 games in its first season in the conference, also in 2015. The 2014 season saw Memphis finish with 10 wins in football for the first time since 1938, while Temple enjoyed its first 10-win season in 2015.

Beyond the gridiron, The American sent four teams to the 2016 NCAA Men's Basketball Championship, and the league had the best men's basketball postseason record of any conference in 2014. Since the conference's formation in 2013-14, teams from The American have registered top-10 national rankings in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball, men's soccer, men's golf, and men's track and field. Student-athletes from The American won three NCAA individual titles in track and field in 2016-17 as Cincinnati's Annette Echikunwoke won the indoor weight throw, Tulsa's Marc Scott won the outdoor 10,000-meter title, and Houston won the crown in the outdoor 4x100-meter relay.

Under The American's banner, SMU advanced to the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship for the first time since 1993. The UConn women's basketball team won its NCAA-record ninth, 10th and 11th national championships and broke its own NCAA record with a 111-game winning streak that spanned three seasons. UCF, East Carolina and Houston have all achieved top-10 rankings in baseball in the past three years. Tulsa placed sixth at the 2016 NCAA Men's Cross Country Championship, while USF finished the 2014-15 season at No. 8 in the final men's golf national ranking.

American Athletic Conference student-athletes have distinguished themselves in all facets of intercollegiate athletics. Temple linebacker Tyler Matakevich won the Bednarik Award and the Nagurski Trophy as the nation's top defensive player in 2015, while Navy quarterback Keenan Reynolds finished fifth in the Heisman Trophy voting. UConn basketball standout Breanna Stewart finished her career as the most decorated player in college basketball history as she was chosen as the consensus national player of the year for the third time and became the first player to be named four times as the Most Outstanding Player at the Final Four. Reynolds and Stewart were selected as the winners of the 2016 AAU James E. Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athletes, marking only the second time in the 86-year history of the award that multiple winners were chosen.

Additionally, SMU's Avery Ackers was chosen as the Division I women's volleyball Academic All-America of the Year in 2015, while Navy offensive guard E.K. Binns and East Carolina wide receiver Zay Jones have both been named as finalists for the 2016 Campbell Trophy, which is presented by the National Football Foundation to the top scholar-athlete in college football. Tulsa cross country standout Kirk Smith was chosen as a Rhodes Scholar in the fall of 2016, while two student-athletes from The American earned NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships in the conference's first three years. The conference had a record 16 student-athletes earn CoSIDA Academic All-America accolades in 2015-16.

American Athletic Conference alumni have made their mark in professional sports as well. UCF quarterback Blake Bortles was selected by the Jacksonville Jaguars with the No. 3 pick in the 2014 NFL Draft. More recently, a number of American Athletic Conference athletes have been selected in the first round of the professional entry drafts in football, basketball, baseball and soccer. The American has had two first-round picks in football in each of three of the last four seasons, while the conference produced four first-round picks in the 2016 WNBA Draft.

The American Athletic Conference holds media rights partnerships with ESPN and CBS Sports which provide the conference with outstanding national exposure on the two industry leaders in sports television. The football portion of the contract calls for nearly 90 percent of conference-controlled games on national broadcast or national cable platforms. The first two American Athletic Conference Football Championships were televised by ABC as part of Championship Saturday.

In men's basketball, the television deal calls for all conference-controlled games to be televised, with more than 63 percent slotted for national broadcast or national cable – a minimum of 107 games. The entire postseason tournament is televised, including the championship game, which is on ABC or ESPN. Sixty percent of the American's women's basketball games are carried on national cable, regional sports networks or ESPN3, while the conference has a multi-year agreement with CBS Sports Network for coverage of select baseball games.

American Athletic Conference teams have access to the pinnacle of college football's postseason structure. An American representative would be chosen for the College Football Playoff semifinals if it is among the top four teams in the CFP selection committee's final ranking. Otherwise, the league would place its champion in a New Year's Bowl if it is ranked higher than the champions of Conference USA, the Mid-American Conference, the Mountain West Conference and the Sun Belt Conference.

Additionally, The American holds primary or secondary partnerships with 12 bowls for the current six-year cycle, ensuring multiple annual matchups against the nation's top conferences and providing desirable postseason destinations to member institutions.

The American Athletic Conference serves its membership from a state-of-the-art office located in Providence, Rhode Island. The location of the conference headquarters – just steps from the city's Amtrak station and 10 minutes from T.F. Green International Airport – gives the conference easy access to its member schools. The conference headquarters also serves as the home of the American Digital Network, which provides live coverage of all 21 conference championships.

Mike Aresco has established himself as one of the leading figures in intercollegiate sports as commissioner of the American Athletic Conference. Aresco was named to his current position Aug. 14, 2012, and had his contract extended by The American's Board of Directors in 2017. He has overseen a strategic reinvention of the conference, which has become one of the premier conferences in the nation. Conference teams have won four NCAA Championships and two New Year's Six bowl games since the 2012-13 academic year. The American was named in 2016 as a finalist for the Sports Business Journal Sports League of the Year award, and was the only entity from college athletics to be so honored.

The American's inaugural year produced a remarkable string of accomplishments as UCF won the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl and finished the season ranked No. 10 in the Associated Press poll. UConn won NCAA titles in both men's and women's basketball as American Athletic Conference teams had the best postseason winning percentage of any conference in men's basketball. The league sent four teams to the NCAA tournament and saw SMU advance to the championship game of the NIT.

The American was the only conference to have a Bowl Championship Series win and teams in the Men's Final Four, the Women's Final Four and the College World Series in 2013-14. Teams from the conference finished in the national top 10 in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, men's soccer, baseball and men's golf.

The American, after having as many as five teams ranked in the Associated Press poll during the season, produced three teams in the final College Football Playoff poll of 2015, including Houston, which defeated Florida State in the Chick-Fil-A Peach Bowl and finished No. 8 in the final national rankings with a 13-1 record. Navy, in its first year as a member of the conference, finished No. 18 nationally after a school-record 11 wins in 2015. UConn went on to win its fourth straight NCAA title in women's basketball, while The American sent four teams to the NCAA men's basketball tournament.

Among the milestones reached in Aresco's tenure have been the introduction of the American Athletic Conference Football Championship in 2015 and the launching of a dynamic Power 6 branding campaign, which aligns The American with its peer conferences and celebrates the competitive success that the conference has enjoyed at the highest level of collegiate competition. In the wake of the changes created by college sports realignment, Aresco has solidified the conference. He led negotiations that resulted in television contracts with ESPN and CBS Sports, which have given the conference unprecedented national exposure and branding with the two industry leaders in sports television. Aresco organized the process whereby the conference was renamed the American Athletic Conference – a name that has been accepted nationally – and he also oversaw the process that resulted in the conference's popular graphic identity.

He has also successfully worked with the conference schools to arrive at an equitable distribution of existing revenue for the current and new conference institutions, bringing about a period of cohesiveness that is unprecedented in the league's history. He has restructured the conference office staff to maximize efficiency and better serve the needs of the membership. Among his other significant accomplishments on behalf of the American Athletic Conference were the spearheading of expansion efforts, which resulted in the addition of East Carolina, Tulane and Tulsa as of July 1, 2014; Navy as a football member in 2015, and Wichita State as a non-football-playing member in 2017; launching the American Digital Network; successful site negotiations for the conference's men's and women's basketball championships; development of The American's broad-based strategic plan, and the launching of a multifaceted brand marketing campaign.

Additionally, Aresco brokered a multi-year marketing rights agreement with IMG College, the industry leader in collegiate sports marketing, and oversaw the development of The American's new football bowl lineup, which features numerous annual matchups against the nation's other top conferences. Aresco has played an active role in the formation of the College Football Playoff, serving on the College Football Playoff Management Committee and helping to select the 13 members of the CFP Selection Committee. Aresco also serves on the College Football Playoff Site Selection, Strategic Planning and Public Relations committees. He was instrumental in securing the arrangement that puts the American Athletic Conference champion in a New Year's Day system bowl if it is the highest-ranked team among the champions of five conferences.

In basketball, Aresco has secured the conference's participation in an officiating consortium partnering with the Southeastern Conference and the Atlantic Sun Conference to ensure that the highest-quality game officials are assigned to American Athletic Conference contests.

Aresco is a member of the Conference Commissioners Association National Letter of Intent Policy and Review Committee as well as the CCA's enforcement and women's basketball working groups. He serves on the board of managers for both College Football Officiating, LLC, and Men's College Basketball, LLC. He is also a member of the FBS commissioners' media subcommittee. He is a charter member of the steering committee of the Columbia University/New York City Chapter of the National Football Foundation, serves on the NFF's screening committee and serves on the board of the National Sports Marketing Network.

Aresco has been a leader in the NCAA governance redesign efforts and a strong and articulate spokesman in various forums for the integrity of the collegiate model.

Aresco came to the conference from CBS Sports where he was Executive Vice President, Programming. He was responsible for all college sports programming for CBS Sports and CBS Sports Network. Aresco oversaw the acquisition and management of CBS Sports college properties, including the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship, regular-season college basketball and football, conference basketball championship games, football bowl games and other programming. His responsibilities included game selection and scheduling, day-to-day operations, contract negotiations, identification of future acquisitions, development of programming strategies and coordination of new media and marketing initiatives.

Aresco played an integral role in the landmark deal that created the CBS Sports-Turner Broadcasting partnership, which resulted in the acquisition of the NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Championship rights through 2024. He managed the complex 14-year agreement that provides expanded national broadcast and cable coverage of the NCAA basketball championship. Aresco also was instrumental in the CBS Television Network's groundbreaking bundled rights agreement with the NCAA, which granted CBS exclusive rights to the NCAA tournament from 2003 through 2010. The 2010 NCAA Championship won a Sports Emmy in the Outstanding Playoff Coverage category. He also was a significant contributor in the development of new media platforms for the NCAA Championship, including March Madness On Demand, a highly successful streaming platform.

In 2008, Aresco negotiated a historic 15-year agreement with the Southeastern Conference to televise the league's football and basketball games. The agreement also provided multiple new media rights for CBS, CBS Sports Network and CBS Interactive. He forged numerous basketball agreements with major conferences and negotiated 10-year extensions of the Army-Navy and Notre Dame-Navy football rivalries. Aresco was the creator and executive producer of The Tony Barnhart Show and Courtside with Seth Davis, both of which aired on the CBS Sports Network. In 2004, he was appointed by the late NCAA President Myles Brand to the Basketball Partnership, a select panel whose mission was to explore ways to improve and promote college basketball.

Aresco joined CBS Sports from ESPN where he was responsible for overseeing the acquisition, scheduling and development of long-term strategies for all ESPN college sports properties. Earlier in his tenure at ESPN, he was responsible for programming a wide variety of sports properties, including College Football Association, Big Ten, and Pac-10 college football, NCAA events, including early rounds of the NCAA basketball tournament, the College World Series and various professional sports events, including thoroughbred racing, Top Rank Boxing, CFL football, Australian Rules Football, rodeo and yachting. He was the architect of ESPN's signature Thursday night college football series and helped develop ESPN's Bowl Week. He joined ESPN in 1984 as Counsel and was named Assistant General Counsel in 1988 before moving to the programming department.

Aresco is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Tufts University (B.A., magna cum laude, history), The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts (M.A., international relations), where he held a John Moors Cabot Scholarship, and the University of Connecticut School of Law (J.D.). He practiced law privately in Hartford, Connecticut, for several years.

Aresco has been a regular speaker and expert panelist at national symposiums and seminars on the topics of college athletics and sports television. He was awarded the 2013 Distinguished Graduate Award by the UConn School of Law Alumni Association and was elected to the Middletown (Connecticut) Sports Hall of Fame in January of 2015.

Aresco and his wife, Sharon, have two adult sons: Matthew, an Emmy-nominated television producer who lives in Connecticut with his wife, Elizabeth; and Brett, an actor who lives in New York City.

The 2017 American Athletic Conference Women's Soccer Championship will be decided at the home of the overall conference number one seed. Quarterfinal matches will take place on Wednesday, Nov. 1, followed by the semifinals on Friday Nov. 3, and the championship game on Sunday, Nov. 5.

In 2013, top-seed UCF downed Rutgers in penalty kicks to capture The American's automatic qualifier. The final and both semifinals were scoreless draws decided in penalty kicks. The weekend produced three teams in the NCAA Championship, as UCF and Rutgers were joined by Louisville in the field of 64.

In 2014, No. 4 seed UConn upset the regular-season champion and top-seeded UCF in the semifinals, 1-0. The Huskies proceeded to advance past No. 3 seed USF in the final, 3-2 in penalty kicks, after a scoreless draw to claim The American tournament championship. For the second consecutive year, three American Athletic Conference teams extended their seasons to play in the NCAA tournament. UCF, UConn and USF all earned bids to the NCAA College Cup, with UCF advancing to the third round before being eliminated by the eventual national champion, Florida State.

The following year, the No. 4 seed Cincinnati upset the 2015 regular-season and top-seeded UConn in the semifinals, 3-2 (OT). The Bearcats also advanced past No. 2 seed USF in the final, 4-2 in penalty kicks, after a 1-1 draw to claim The American tournament championship. Cincinnati, UConn, and USF all earned bids to the 2015 NCAA College Cup, while UConn advanced to the third round before being eliminated by Rutgers University.

Last year, the American Athletic Conference Women's Soccer Championship was held in Storrs, Connecticut. Top-seeded UConn shut out both No. 4 seed USF in the semifinals, 2-0 and No. 3 seed SMU in the championship game, 1-0. Both UConn and SMU received bids to the NCAA 2016 Women's College Cup where UConn advanced to the second round before falling to Auburn University.

The most in-depth coverage of the 2017 American Athletic Conference women's soccer season can once again be found on the American Digital Network, the over-the-top streaming video platform of The American and its 13 member institutions.

The American's partnership with L2 Productions provides video production services for more than 65 events annually on the American Digital Network through the 2018-19 academic year.

The American and L2 Productions have collaborated on live video production of regular-season and championship events for the past three years. The American Digital Network produced more than 80 events in the 2016-17 season. All events are carried by professional-grade, multiple-camera productions which include accomplished play-by-play announcers and expert analysts.

As a result of the partnership, the American Digital Network will continue to provide complete live video coverage of The American's postseason championships in cross country, swimming and diving, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, tennis, golf and rowing.

The ADN will also provide coverage of any games of the conference's women's soccer, men's soccer, softball and baseball championships that are not carried by one of the conference's television partners.

Additionally, the American Digital Network will provide coverage of regular-season women's basketball games as well as select regular-season contests in soccer, volleyball, softball and baseball. The ADN will have full wraparound coverage of The American's postseason championships in football and men's and women's basketball.

In addition to its coverage of regular-season and championship events, the American Digital Network is the home for on-demand previews and game highlights as well as "The Rise," a weekly look at the conference that includes scores, highlights and feature stories.

The American Digital Network is also the primary source for coverage of the conference's Summer Kickoff and Media Days in Newport, Rhode Island. Coverage in 2017 will include live segments from the event's famous New England-style clambake as well as look-ins from the podium, including roundtable discussions with The American's 12 head coaches and the opening remarks by Commissioner Mike Aresco.

All of The American Digital Network productions are available on desktop, tablet, mobile and Roku devices at no charge. The ADN includes DVR functionality and immediate access to archived replays.

NOTEBOOK

• Although the Knights helped Roberts Sahaydak secure her 100th career win as head coach last year, the 2016 season was a rollercoaster for UCF, as the squad finished 9-8-2 and saw its season end in the quarterfinal round of the American Athletic Conference (AAC) tournament.

• The UCF women's soccer team added six new faces to their roster this season. The five freshman and junior transfer boast youth national team experience - both domestically and internationally - and have won championships on the state and national levels.

• For the fourth time in the last five years, UCF boasts a reigning conference Player of the Year among its returners. Saga Fredriksson was named the American Athletic Conference Defensive Player of Year in 2016.

• The Knights had two players selected for the 2017 Preseason All-Conference Team including defender Saga Fredriksson and goalkeeper Vera Varis. Varis was also tabbed as the 2017 American Preseason Goalkeeper of the Year.

NOTEBOOK

- Head Coach Rob Donnenwirth enters his 19th campaign at the helm of the program with a 171-141-42 record. In the American Athletic Conference, he is the second-longest tenured head coach behind only UConn's Len Tsantiris (entering 37th season).
- The Pirates second leading scorer (19 pts) in 2016, Courtney Cash, returns for her junior campaign looking to improve upon last season.
- Graduate student transfer, Michelle Newhouse, joins ECU from West Virginia where she guided WVU to its third Big 12 Tournament championship in four seasons. She played between the posts for the Mountaineers in the first three rounds of the NCAA Tournament en route to WVU finishing as the national runners up in 2016.

NOTEBOOK

- Head coach Diego Bocanegra, an Upland, Calif., native, comes to Houston from Notre Dame, where he spent the last three seasons as an assistant coach for the 2016 ACC regular-season champions and helped lead the Fighting Irish to a No. 9 national ranking heading into the NCAA Tournament.
- 10 newcomers will join 16 returning lettermen from the 2016 roster, including 8 student-athletes who started at least 12 games.
- Houston's 2016 second leading scorer, Selena Peters, returns this season for her final campaign, while looking to position the Cougars to play for a conference tournament title.
