Presentation of Graduates

Class of 2020

School of Arts and Sciences

Greeting from the Executive Dean

Congratulations School of Arts and Sciences Class of 2020!

This year we celebrate your graduation from afar. Yet make no mistake—your resilience and success are recognized by me and the entire Arts and Sciences community.

Finishing your undergraduate degree during a global crisis is a heroic achievement. You should look upon it with tremendous pride.

In 1932, during the depths of the Great Depression, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt told graduates they would play a great role in America's recovery. This holds true today when we need your courage, creativity, and problem-solving skills.

I have confidence that the education you received in the School of Arts and Sciences—with our emphasis on Excellence, Opportunity, and Leadership—has prepared you well for that task.

I would like to conclude with FDR's closing remarks to the Class of 1932:

Yours is not the task of making your way in the world, but the task of remaking the world which you will find before you. May every one of us be granted the courage, the faith, and the vision to give the best that is in us to that remaking!

Class of 2020, it is truly an honor for me to recognize your achievement, to welcome you as Rutgers alumni, and to usher you into the next phase of your lives as active and engaged adults, and future leaders.

Peter March
Executive Dean

The Academic Costume

The wearing of academic dress dates back to the early days of the oldest universities in the world. In the American Council on Education's book entitled American Universities and Colleges, it is suggested that "Gowns may have been counted necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head. . . ."

Throughout the years, European universities have continued to show great diversity in their academic dress. American universities, on the other hand, when they decided to adopt academic dress, immediately established a code of regulations which today is followed by almost all American institutions. The establishment of this code has made it possible to distinguish between the Bachelors, Masters, and Doctors, and, at the same time, recognize the university which has given them the degree.

Gowns: Bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves and is worn closed. Master's gown, worn open or closed, has oblong sleeves, the front part of which frequently is cut away at the elbow. Doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves. It is worn open or closed. Cotton poplin or similar material is used for the Bachelor's and Master's degrees, and rayon or silk ribbed material is used for the Doctor's degree.

Hoods: The hoods vary in sizes: 48 inches for the Doctor's degree, 42 inches for the Master's, and 36 inches for the Bachelor's. All hoods are lined in silk in the academic color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. If the institution has more than one color, the colors are shown in divisions using chevrons.
