£ 1911/1914 Kursbuchs give this German spelling. However, the Guide Orient (published in Constantinople) implies that French spellings were still the official form prior to WW1. Spellings of Arabic names vary enormously in different publications, particularly on the Medina Line. Only those in timetables, recent State Maps ($) and some from Hedjaz Railway by Tourret (#) are shown. Additional stations from Tourret, Naval Intelligence H/book 1943 & other sources (#) are included - it is not known if these were served by passenger trains. Former & alternative (+) names: [] Distances in kilometres. Gauge: 1.435m unless noted. All points served by passenger trains unless shown: () or noted. term = terminus
