INTRODUCTION

This Directory has been compiled to help you know where to go when seeking entertainment or new acquaintances. No place pays for its listing. All listings are from recommendations made by our readers. If you find errors or omissions, please let us know.

No attempt is made to comment on the furnishings, location, or clientele of places listed in this Directory since no two persons would evaluate a place in the same way. We recommend you visit each place and make your own judgment as to the ones you prefer.

Places that would be termed "semi -" are indicated by this symbol □ in front of their name. Remember that places vary from day to day and certain hours are more popular than others. When you visit the place, ask which days and hours are best.

Every effort has been made to make this Directory accurate at time of printing. However, management of these places change, new places open, established places close, city politics change - all of which create errors and omissions.
