FROM THE EDITOR

Well, another week is behind and what a week it was. I have spent the past two weekends out on the road checking on things around the Southwest. My many thanks to Eddie Timms in Dallas for a wonderful dinner party during my stay there. Also thanks go out to the Bayou Lnding's John Stahl and the Old Plantation's Charlie Hott for their hospitality.

This past weekend I made it to New Orleans where the hospitality of Jerry and Tex (in fact, the entire bar staff) at the Bourbon Pub and Parade has always been outstanding. In fact, our cover this week is just a sample of the bartenders at the Pub. Jerry is the one with the moustache and curly hair, and Rick, well sit in my face!!!, is the one in the white pants. We'll have more photos in the next few weeks of these two hot numbers.

The Old Plantation in Houston is undergoing a major facelifting and all should be completed in time for the Miss Gay America Pageant in the next week. Ram Rocha is spinning the top tunes nightly and the dance floor is usually packed.

The Bayou Landing in Dallas had reported that Tiffany Jones would be appearing there on August 1st.

Due to several schedule changes, Tiff's appearance will be Sunday, August 8th instead. Tiffany will be appearing at the Depository in Houston on August 1st. Word has also come from the Landing that there is no more cover charge on Friday and Saturday nights. The club has a new D.J. from L.A.'s Studio One and the latest tunes are really spinning.

Jann Russell will be appearing again this Sunday at the Old Plantation in Dallas, while the Houston cast will be having its ever popular 50's show.

For those of you traveling New Orleans way, there's a hot little restaurant at 733 Bourbon Street right in the heart of the traffic called Jelemé. The food is fantastic, and it really is your kind of establishment.

And speaking of eating, in Houston there's Tooter's. The only gay eating establishment in the Bayou City continues to be one of the most popular after hour places around.

For those of you in Houston, TANGIER is no more. The bar closed its doors to gays last week and will no longer cater to gays.

AFTER DARK Book Store in Houston really seems to be catching on with the crowds as it is fast becoming one of the most popular places in town. For those of you who haven't found it yet, it's where the old Hi Kamp used to be on Travis.

Til next week,

Mel

BEG YOUR PARDON

The governor of Vermont, Thomas Salmon, has instituted

The governor told a press conference last May he believes that pot violations are not very serious, and therefore, that marijuana smokers should not be sent to jail.

According to the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, the Vermont legislature has so far failed to reduce pot penalties, so Governor Salmon has done it himself -- by simply pardoning marijuana offenders.

OLYMPICS ROMANTIC?

The current Olympic Games in Montreal could be the most romantic in history.

Officials have formally scrapped the rule which banned men and women athletes from entering each other's apartments. Under the new rules, athletes of both sexes will be free to hold late night parties together, and even spend the night with each other.

Olympic Official Jose Forset says female and male competitors will be permitted to do whatever they choose to do at night because -- in his words -- "We are living in the year 1976."

Says Forest, "We think its time Olympic athletes were allowed to grow up and think for themselves about such things." Athletes under the age of 17, however, will still be faced with bed time restrictions.

Now playing every Tuesday through Sunday nightly until September at Houston's Shamrock Hilton Hotel's Cabaret Theatre is Cabaret. The show features Pamela Whitten as Sally Bowles and Greg Ryan in the part of the American writer Clifford Bradshaw. Roxie Lucas is the Cabaret Emcee (that's right, a girl plays the part, and quite well I might add).

different than the film version. Bob Fosse, who directed the film, elaborated on the play somewhat to make the story lengthy and more enticing to the audience. But the play itself is no less enticing or entertaining.

woman who is in love with a marvelous old Jewish fruit vendor.

As you are probably telling yourself, that's not how the movie was. As I pointed out, the film was a variation from the original book by Joe Masteroff. The original play produced off Broadway was titled I am a Camera, later moving to Broadway as the play Cabaret and then on to film under the same name.

The play is being presented and produced by Theatre Under the Stars (TUTS) is a marvelous spectacle to witness. I have to admit that the first portion of the production was disappointing, but the cast soon got warmed up and took hold of things bringing the show off quite smoothly.

Each scene in the production moves from the noisy smoke filled Kit Kat Klub where Sally sings to the rooming house where Sally and Clifford have to face the trials and tribulations of what is called life.

Bruce Lumpkin directed the

RHODA BLABLITT

Well, gang, I can't say enough about all that lovely mail that has poured into the office for little old me. Your response to Rhoda is truly gratifying.

For those of you who haven't made it to the Bourbon Pub and Parade Disco, well, you're really missing something. The D.J. booth is plexiglass and suspended from the ceiling. And lately if the action on the dance floor is not enough for you, check up in the sound booth. I understand that the show up there is really HOT.

A hot flash came in just the other day about the upcoming Mr. Gay America Pageant in Dallas. It seems that some other individuals decided to have their own Mr. Contest in Florida after plans were announced for the big event. But it seems that the "new" show even went as far as to steal art work, advertising, etc. It should have an interesting outcome.

The Dallas MCC recently had another benefit show to help raise funds. Just what the funds are for isn't quite sure.

Tangier in Houston closed its doors this past week with a surprising announcement that it was turning into a straight club again. Well, not exactly straight, but a swingers club - you know where straights go and do what they want to do in the first place and then go home sanctified and purified!

And for those of you in Houston and that know about the northside bar the Horn-It, well things have quieted down out there quite a bit. I reported a few weeks ago about the "show" during the real show they were having a few weeks ago. Girls were fighting right and left, and it had been reported that a gun had been pulled. The report of the gun turns out to be erroneous and all rumor. The statement about a knife being pulled I can't say anything different about, as I personally saw a knife in someone's hand. Things have quieted down out there in the country and all does appear safe for those with the spirit of adventure.

And for those of you who have written in and asked if I have it in for T. G. Pretender and Mel, well, the answer is really no. After all, I have to work and socialize with the both of them, but when the dirt comes in, it comes in mostly from you the readers. It's just that some readers are more vocal than others and love to write. I mean that it is easy to pick up on idle bar talk and some folks really make a one liner into four paragraphs. It's all in the eyes of the reader!!!

Dear Aunt Sofa:

After nearly five years with my lover, I have suddenly become very bored with life in general. I love my lover very much, and our sex life is okay, but I have started looking at every male I meet as a potential sex partner. I can truthfully say that I have never tricked out on my lover and have been perfectly satisfied with our relationship until now. I hardly recognize myself with the fantasies I have at home in my free time. I haven't told my lover about these fantasies because I feel he wouldn't understand.

Oddly enough though, I don't bring my fantasies to bed with my lover. Maybe if I did, it would help, as deep down I really don't want sex with anyone except my lover. On the other hand, if I had an affair, maybe it would get the restlessness out of my system. Any suggestions?

ADVISE:

My personal feelings and reaction to yield to your restlessness by having an outside affair does not, I repeat NOT, get it out of the system of the person who feels the need of it.

If the affair is satisfactory, consequently the restlessness is reinforced by the excitement and satisfaction of the affair. Thus, the person is more intensely restless and more disposed to satisfy the desire for outside sex the next time.

Based on the statements you make about loving your lover very much and not wanting to have sex with anyone but him, my advice would be not to yield to your feeling to have sex with someone other than your lover. If I am wrong about the way you say you feel, then your responding to your restlessness is about your only other release.

And as far as your fantasies go, if you can jazz up your sex life with your lover by your fantasies, there is no harm in your doing so. If possible, sit and talk with your lover about ways of together making your sex life more imaginative and enjoyable. How about trying that?

Dear Aunt Sofa:

My lover continuously talks about the possibility of us having a three way with another guy. The fact of the matter is that I am satisfied with just my lover, and really don't want anyone outside of our relationship involved in something that is so sacred to me.

I am afraid that the idea of

Shopping Around

The Adult Film Association of America is accusing government prosecutors of "shopping around the United States" in order to find juries and judges to convict actors and filmmakers on pornography charges.

The A.F.A.A. is currently preparing a brief on behalf of Harry Reems, recently convicted by a federal jury in Memphis for his role in the movie Deep Throat.

The Association points out that many juries, particularly in California, have already ruled that Deep Throat is not pornographic. The A.F.A.A. says that the federal government "hand-picked" Memphis because of its tough rulings in other pornographic cases, and prosecuted Reems and the other Deep Throat principals in that city.

According to the A.F.A.A., the government is "subverting justice by handpicking courtrooms where local community standards have made obscenity convictions a virtual fait accompli."

having a three way has made him have ideas of having outside sex if I don't give in. He says that he is satisfied with our relationship, so I don't understand.

ADVISE:

Boredom with one's sexual partner may not be boredom with the individual, but the sex act between the two may have become a daily routine item.

Imagination is the key to success in most any sexual venture, and a lack of it may be what your problem is. Try to come up with some new and inventive idea. If that doesn't work, talk over things with your lover completely and find out what compromises can be made between the two of you.
