TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sirs:

I think that the following story is of interest to the gay community and am asking that you publish it in your magazine. The item was broadcast on September 8 over KLYZ Radio.

The new NBC situation comedy Snip never got started. The folks over at KPRC-TV have announced that the series will not start as advertised next fall. It was a new situation comedy being sent down by NBC which was suppose to be on the fall line-up, but it seems that some people have objected to a character who is portrayed as a homosexual hairdresser.

One of those people is a member of District 16, Texas Hairdressers and Csomotologists Association, Mrs. Dorothy O'Banon:

"I called my state president and asked her about it and she said definitely she thought that that was the thing to do, is to try and stop it. So after I found out the proper names to contact that are in the upper echelon of the broadcasting company, then that is what I did. I wrote letters to all of them, asking them to please help us try to preserve the integrity and the reputation of our profession."

According to Channel 2 sources, Snip might be aired next January when things cool down a bit.

I called KLYX and found out that the following statement is in the original story on file at the radio station but was not broadcast over the air: "O'Banon says her group opposes having homosexuals or deviates of any kind depicted as hairdressers."

Thank you,
M.L. (Houston)

Dear M.Z.:

Thanks for the news item. It certainly is one that is noteworthy to the gay community. From what I have been able to find out, Snip has not been cut nationally, but on a local level in Houston.

For those who wish to protest the dropping of Snip, write to Program Director, KPRC TV, Houston, Texas.

Dear Mel,

I just wanted to say how much I really enjoyed a "nude" pin up in a gay publication. It seems that no one has bothered to try one out and I hope your response will be one that will keep it a regular "feature item."

A.G. (Austin)

Dear A.G.:

Thanks for your vote of confidence on the male nudes. It has not necessarily been the attitude

IN MEMORIAM

Sunday, September 12, 1976, William Ert Molina passed away in Canada.

William Ert was known to many across the Southwest as a top name female impersonator by the name of Vickie Karr.

William Ert and Tony Molina came into the national limelight four years ago when they were granted a marriage license in Texas and became the first legally married males in the United States.

William had been suffering from a terminal illness for some time and had left Houston to return home.

and of course everyone knows the location of the Locker on Westheimer. The Locker, Houston's only leather bar and originator of fun festivities will have an offering not to be missed!

Dear A.G.:

Thanks for your vote of confidence on the male nudes. It has not necessarily been the attitude of most gay publications in the Southwest not to print nudes, but more so the policy of printers.

Frontal nudity has been one of controversy for quite some time, but it appears to be winning out. The mail has been overwhelming in favor of a male picture weekly, and we will try to keep a "pin-up" in the paper when available.

After all, you wouldn't want one that wasn't "quality" merchandise would you?

William had been suffering from a terminal illness for some time and had left Houston to return home.

TOO BEAUTIFUL

By Lambert Wilhelm

It seems that regardless of the medium, "occult" is definitely the "in" topic of the day. We first went through it with the Exorcist in paper form before it hit the screen. Since that time, it has hit us in just about every form imaginable. Now Too Beautiful comes to us from Parisian Press and author Lambert Wilhelm to combine the occult with that of porno.

The only thing that really

Imagine a beautiful youth with the knowledge and the fear of the occult and another youth with neither the knowledge nor the fear, but the desire to step into something so daring and dangerous to take and bargain with his life.

But not only has this chance of fate been "prearranged" but it proves to be the test for Satan's Consort.

So for the reader who has just about read it all and wants a change

"I keep dreaming I'm prancing thru the sand at Muscle Beach in my Maiden-Form Bra!"

Whenever the urge arises. . . .

It seems that regardless of the medium, "occult" is definitely the "in" topic of the day. We first went through it with the Exorcist in paper form before it hit the screen. Since that time, it has hit us in just about every form imaginable. Now Too Beautiful comes to us from Parisian Press and author Lambert Wilhelm to combine the occult with that of porno.

The only thing that really makes Too Beautiful stand out is not the fact that it is a gay porno novel, but that the author seems to have some knowledge, or at least have done some very fine research into occult.

Imagine a beautiful youth with the knowledge and the fear of the occult and another youth with neither the knowledge nor the fear, but the desire to step into something so daring and dangerous to take and bargain with his life.

But not only has this chance of fate been "prearranged" but it proves to be the test for Satan's Consort.

So for the reader who has just about read it all and wants a change of pace, a story that leads into an exciting adventure of black magic and murder, but don't leave out the sex, Too Beautiful can be found at your favorite local porno shop. It is a book truly out of the ordinary.

HOW TO CATCH a Husband

AND GOOD THINGS TO KNOW

M. W. MACDONALD

RHODA BLABLITT

A great many of my readers want to know the steps one can take in getting rid of an unwanted husband. Ladies of caliber, take note: although Abraham Lincoln freed the slaves somewhere between the Emancipation Proclamation and Surrender at Appamattox, nowhere does it say that there is a law against indentured servitude between two consenting adults, in the privacy of their own home at least.

Verbal agreement being, in most states, inadmissible as court evidence, it is therefore necessary to secure one's marriage and abode from outside interference with the proper legal documents. To this end I include here a couple of tips which could come in handy just in case your newfound husband gets a wild hair up his ass and decides to leave you for that cheap trick he met last night in the Plantation Room:

On the Powers of Attorney

There is a wonderful little device invented by the buildres of our country's highest judicial courts

A power of attorney in the wrong hands can work wonders on checking accounts, mortgage payments, credit receipts, car notes, tax schedules, stock options, real estate transactions, gas, lights, water, electricity, telephone, and inheritances. Think of what it can do to mend your broken heart.

Out of Sight, Out of Mind

Should worse come to worse, keep in mind the possibility of having your lover committed to an institution. It is an easy matter to drive someone crazy - just keep telling them that they are.

Act fast, though. Lots of people have been railroaded into insane asylums, so long as they have lacked the benefits of a little time and a good attorney.

I am reminded of my dear grandmother's wise counsel, "If you can't have it, have it put away." At all costs, avoid having ex-lovers running about town. They rake hell on your social image.

Porch-swing Romance and he is in the act of assaulting you, to avoid unpleasant inquiries.

On Tricking Out

Few of us, I am sure, have not at one time or another stumbled upon the nasty suspicion that our husband is tricking out. For the prominent socialite, there are several steps to take to avoid such an unpleasant occurrence in her happy marriage.

What some might consider a "dirty trick", byt well worth your while, is the precaution of keeping the KY tubes filled with Mentholatum Deep Heating Ointment while you're away. It is sure to deter unsanctioned sexual congress in the marriage bed, as well as some poor faggot screaming to the lavatory, cock and balls in hand.

Another method of curbing your hubby's sex life outside the home is to shave off all his pubic hair. He'll hardly want a witness to the fact that his dick is as bald as his uncle Peter.

How to be a Prominent Socialite

Well, gang, Rhoda is back one more time!

It seems that Monday afternoons at Sally's with bartender Terry West has taken on quite a festive atmosphere. Our editor, C. J. Harrington, Ah Men's Lee and Chuck, and a few other tag alongs have become regular Monday faces. If Ms. West doesn't hold back with the Southern Comfort, she may wind up in the Deep South, or at least the back alley anyway! You'dhavethought it was a holiday Monday with Valerie Vaughn doing Diana Ross on a bar stool and Dickie Chaisson having his clothes ripped off in the front bar. Quite a festive afternoon.

It seems that Dike Danita has her new hair cutting shop open in Houston. She has come up with the "original" name Mein Hair. How clever! I understand with every crew cut she is giving away a free jar of Butch Wax. It's also come through the grapevine that she'll take in poodles until she can dig up some business.

And what about 2609 North Pearl Street in Dallas? Rumors seem to be flying every where about the old Bayou Landing Club. It appears that a new club will soon be appearing on the horizon and should give Dallasites a choice of bars once again.

And speaking of new bars, Sparkle Plenty in Houston should be opening its doors sometime the latter part of this month. It should make a nice stop over "between" bars.

And our personal congrats to the Locker's Terry Wesley who took the title of Miss Texas At Large this past Tuesday night in Big D. Houston's Donna Day was 1st proper legal documents. To this end I include here a couple of tips which could come in handy just in case your newfound husband gets a wild hair up his ass and decides to leave you for that cheap trick he met last night in the Plantation Room:

On the Powers of Attorney

There is a wonderful little device invented by the buildres of our country's highest judicial courts systems, called a power of attorney. Coupled with the marriage vows, you should always have your hubby sign one as a matter of common courtesy.

EXAMPLE 1: "I (his name) hereby appoint (your name) with my Power of Attorney, that he may conduct any and all of my business transactions and act as my attorney in fact. . . in matters both real and personal. . . ."

and so on and so on, as you like it.

Although your husband may, when he comes to his senses, revoke your license over his affairs, the instrument isn't to be taken too lightly. Considering that by the time he gets around to doing something about it, you can pull enough shit and streudel to send him back to the bargain counter at the TG & Y for the next five years.

Cover Boy

For those of you wondering if you've seen this issue's cover boy before, well, you have. Nineteen year old Burt Hunt appeared on our cover a few weeks back, and the response was that people wanted to see more of Burt. And with that request, we obligingly comply.

Act fast, though. Lots of people have been railroaded into insane asylums, so long as they have lacked the benefits of a little time and a good attorney.

I am reminded of my dear grandmother's wise counsel, "If you can't have it, have it put away." At all costs, avoid having ex-lovers running about town. They rake hell on your social image.

Porch-swing Romance and Marriage on the Rocks

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary to part with your beloved on less than amiable terms (say while he's gone out shopping), you will no doubt be faced with a hard set of choices in the matter of portioning out dear possessions which both of you have acquired within the course of your marital relationship. These things, when brought to the attention of the divorce courts by competent attorneys, are called COMMUNITY PROPERTY.

The minute you decide to divorce your husband, call up a lock smith. Whatever you think he deserves, you can pile outside on the doorstep for him to pick up at his convenience. Whatever you want to keep for yourself, simply don't put outside for him to pick up.

Now in the event that the wretch isn't satisfied with your choice of what he can keep and what he can't keep, and comes banging on the door, obsolete key in hand, raising hell and waking the neighbors up, and making all other types of gross disturbances, pick up the phone and call the police. Report that a crazy man is trying to break into your home.

It is sometimes helpful to shoot the nasty brigand on the spot while you're away. It is sure to deter unsanctioned sexual congress in the marriage bed, as well as some poor faggot screaming to the lavatory, cock and balls in hand.

Another method of curbing your hubby's sex life outside the home is to shave off all his pubic hair. He'll hardly want a witness to the fact that his dick is as bald as his uncle Peter.

How to be a Prominent Socialite

The truly prominent socialite is hardly distinguishable from anybody else, except by virtue of certain Ethics which might be construed as out of the norm.

Consider that you only go around once in life.. Consider that you've got to grab for all the gusto you can get. Consider there are 3.4 billion people out there ready to grab it before you do, and you're well on your way to Enlightened Self Interest, which is another word for "snap". All the prominent socialites have snap.

Too, one must learn, if one expects to be prominent, that apathy is the key to good health and the preservations of fortunes. Remind yourself daily that you do not get paid to care.

It is a fact that people who do too much caring are sent to an early grave, and nine times out of ten, pennyless besides. Not giving a damn will keep you young and lovely for many years to come. Pretend to care, but don't really.

Always seem gracious. Always speak to everyone. But surround yourself with festive people.

Always maintain an air of polite sexual aloofness, speak in soft tones even when delivering death threats or reading a person to whaleshit. Understatement is the best policy.

that a new club will soon be appearing on the horizon and should give Dallasites a choice of bars once again.

And speaking of new bars, Sparkle Plenty in Houston should be opening its doors sometime the latter part of this month. It should make a nice stop over "between" bars.

And our personal congrats to the Locker's Terry Wesley who took the title of Miss Texas At Large this past Tuesday night in Big D. Houston's Donna Day was 1st runner-up and I understand the show was a hot one for the big girls.

Til next time,
RHODA

Never compromise.

Never be embarrassed, but blush often when you are flattered.

Maintain good friendships with ladies and gentlemen of the press, even if they bore you. Learn to make small talk. At times you can make it obvious that you are just making small talk.

Curse moderately: too much or too little will have people thinking you are dumb.

Above all, convince yourself that you are one of the nicest people you know. Then convince everyone else that you are one of the nicest people you know.

And if you're ever going down, drag everyone with you.
