Shara has teamed up with some of nightlife's most sought after remixers on her latest single, I Will Carry You. Industry heavy hitters like Mike Rizzo, Corey Dee, and the Klubjumpers are all unleashing their own interpretations of the hard-thumping track. Strand has been supporting the release of the remixes by touring the country all summer, performing many of the nation's Pride festivals. It's working too! This week, the song climbs to #32 on the Billboard dance charts. Catch her live Saturday, August 10th when she performs the DJ Escape and Tony Colluccio mix of I Will Carry You at Southbeach Night Club.

It's unusual to release twelve remixes of a single at one time. I know! I'm grateful that so many DJs wanted to add their personal touch to my song.

You're performing the DJ Escape and Tony Colluccio mix at South Beach?

Yes, their mix has been getting a huge reaction all over the country, and is the #1 seller on iTunes so far. The beat goes hard and practically carries listeners to the dance floor. The first time I heard it, I instantly fell in love.

What makes I Will Carry You the perfect summer anthem? It's a song about love and loyalty, forever and always. It has a passion people in love can lose their minds to! For those who haven't found the one yet, this song gives hope that a special person is out there.

How did you find your way into the dance scene? I signed with D1 Music, an independent dance label in NYC. Our first EP was mostly adult contemporary songs, but the fans kept asking for dance remixes. We gave it to them with Jekyll or Hyde and I even got to go on tour, performing the track at gay clubs throughout the country.

What artists do you love to get down to?

Strong female voices rock my world. I love me some Rihanna, Katy Perry, Robyn, and Beyonce.

You've performed tons of pride events this summer. What are you most proud of?

I'm proud that I'm doing what I've always dreamed about, and it's actually cooler in real life than I'd imagined.

What's your message to gay fans?

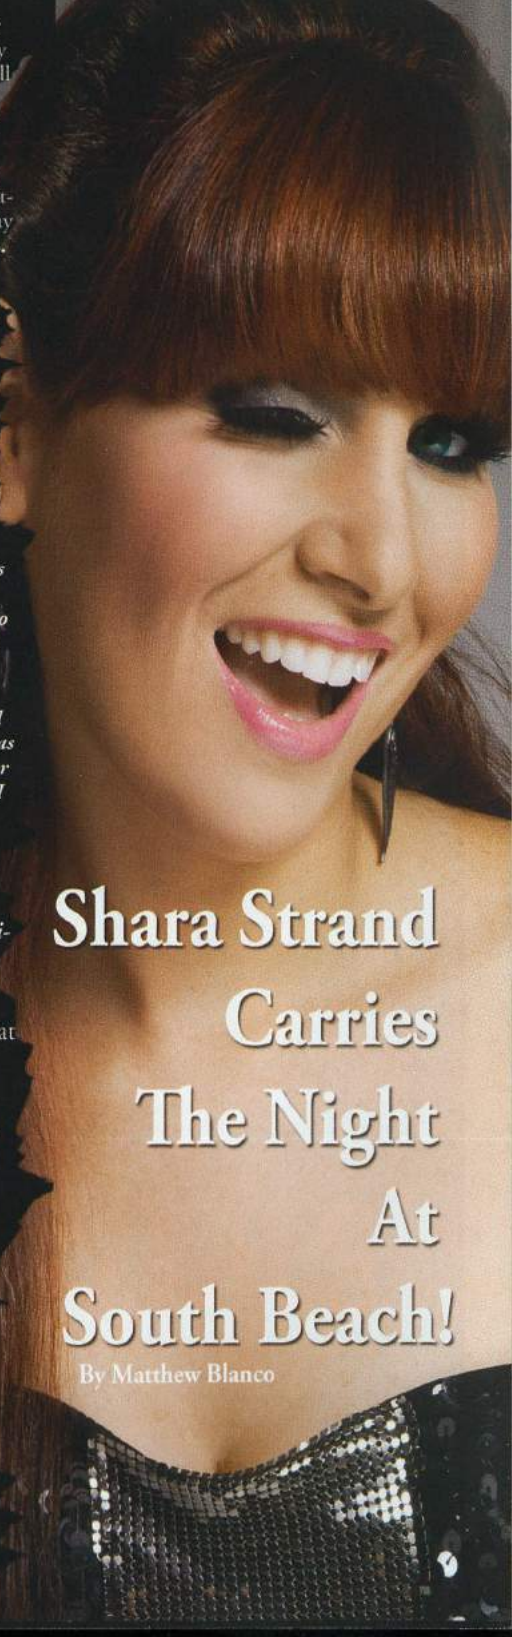

Always remember, you are beautiful and special, just the way you are.

HOUSTON

Houston's Newest Country Western Dancehall Gets Ready To Open

Get ready country boys, Texas' Largest Gay Country and Western Bar is coming to Houston. With the sad departure of the ever loved Brazos River Bottoms or the BRB as most people called it, comes a new chapter in Houston's "Country" music nightlife for the L.G.B.T.Q community, and it's name is Neon Boots. Neon Boots will take over the historic Esquire Ball Room.

Slated to open in August, the newest fixture in country music dance halls with nearly 10,000 square feet in club space. That's nearly the size of South Beach. A club that can easily hold 600 people inside With a massive outdoor area that will boast several bars and possible sand volleyball that can hold an additional 200 people.

Located at 11410 Hempstead Highway, Houston, TX 77092. Right outside the loop, and plenty of parking. No need to walk for blocks, and get this it's FREE Parking!

Before there was Gilley's, there was The Esquire Ballroom. Built in 1955 on what was then the outskirts of Houston on the Old Washington County Road (Hempstead Highway). The Esquire hosted many acts and events (even boxing matches) until its close in 1995. Neon Boots Management is hard at work re-vamping the venue to get it ready for it's Houston debut.

The Esquire Ballroom is rich in country music history, legends from Wille Nelson to Patsy Cline graced the stage. Interesting enough, Always...Patsy Cline, produced by Ted Swindley, premiered in 1988. The story was taken and expanded from a section of the Cline biography, Honky Tonk Angel. It chronicled the real-life story of her encounter in 1961 with Louise Seger, a fan and Mississippi native who arrived early at The Esquire Ballroom for Cline's performance. In a chance encounter before the show, the two met and formed a lasting friendship.

Patsy Cline at The Esquire

In the musical, Cline expresses her worry to Seger over the attendance that night, and Seger tells her she'll have no problem filling the hall. She later persuades Cline to spend the night at her house rather than a hotel. They stay up all night talking, and do a radio spot in the morning.

Larry was a regular act at the Esquire in the 1950s. One night he and his band were rehearsing at the Esquire Club in Houston Texas. A young man came in the club and asked for a job with the band. He also tried to sell Larry some of his songs for ten dollars apiece. Larry told him that his songs were too good and to keep them. Larry loaned him some money and gave him a job in the band. That young man was none other than Willie Nelson. Willie and Larry still remain the best of friends today and visit often.

With all this history in country music, this place is fitting for the return of life for the new Neon Boots Bar.

FROM A RECENT PARTICIPANT: "Developing from small children who are somehow "different", into the men we become, it is nearly inevitable that we will face hidden obstacles in how we relate to ourselves and to others as gay men. 'Informative' and 'revelatory' are guaranteed... 'transformative' is not out of the question."
