All hail the queens! One week before the sixth season premiere of "RuPaul's Drag Race" on February 24th, Logo TV, has announced that the mega-hit franchise has been greenlit for a seventh season.

Production has kicked off with a nationwide casting call to find the fiercest queens across the land to compete in this genre-defining, battle royale of drag.

To get fans revved up for the new season, Logo TV is pre-releasing the first episode exclusively on the new Logo TV app. A week later, LogoTV.com will exclusively premiere RuPaul's new single "Geronimo," from forthcoming album BORN NAKED on Monday, February 24.

"A new album, a season premiere and the official greenlight for season 7...all in the same week!?! I'm so verklemp!t I could plotz," said Executive Producer, RuPaul.

"RuPaul's Drag Race continues to be a perennial fan favorite that has slowly become a pop culture phenomenon attracting a wide-range of viewers," said Pamela Post, Vice President of Programming for Logo TV.

As Logo TV's highest-rated series to date, "RuPaul's Drag Race" has consistently grown its audience across all platforms each season.

At present, it's just shy of three million fans across all of Logo TV's social platforms, including 1 million fans on Facebook, with tens of millions of video views online.

Fans that can't wait another minute for the season six premiere on February 24th, can download the Logo TV app for free on iPhone and iPad to stream the first episode exclusively in the app.

Fans can also exclusively stream "21 ½ Moments that Made Us Gag," which is packed with unseen footage and insider insights featuring RuPaul, Michelle Visage, former contestants and journalists who countdown the most outrageous, shocking and heartfelt moments from the first five season of "RuPaul's Drag Race" and "All Stars."

Be Sexy. Be Fabulous

"The Fact That Gay Marriage Isn't Legal Everywhere At This Point Is A Joke."

Adam Levine is recently quoted saying if he were the US President for just one day the first thing he would do is make gay marriage legal.

Adam and his band Maroon 5 lands in Houston at Rodeo Houston on March 13th. The front man says his pro-marriage equality views have little to do with the fact that he has a gay brother.

'I would feel the same way regardless,' Adam says. 'I happen to have a gay brother, but that doesn't mean I'm more of an advocate for equal human rights. That shouldn't change anything about the way that I feel.'

'The relationships that I have with people - whether it's my brother or a friend, gay or straight - that shouldn't really ever come into play,' he adds. 'Someone's sexual preference is their sexual preference. Let's move on.'

'It's just so silly and it doesn't make any sense to me that you wouldn't be able to marry whomever you want to marry. It's not our business,' he says. 'I don't know why we're obsessed with making everything in this country our business, all the time. It seems we're a little behind on that, and we just need to make it legal and stop caring so much. It doesn't matter. And it shouldn't matter.'

WE ARE THE CONSTANT IN CHANGE

Since 1981, Legacy Community Health Services has been a constant presence in the lives of LGBT Houstonians. We were there at the beginning of the HIV/AIDS epidemic, providing testing and linking clients to care. We are still here now, offering comprehensive medical care. For more than 30 years, Legacy has been a source of comfort for those who traditionally face barriers to care.

We are, now and always, constantly here for you.

Dominating the Houston DJ scene with his incredible and effortless talent, DJ Joe Ross started at the age of eighteen years old with his first gig at Guava Lamp. The year was 2003, and his creative sounds and blends allowed him his first opportunity to be heard, and he did not disappoint.

Moving forward in his career Joe Ross found himself experimenting at different venues in Houston that allowed him to land an six month residency at the popular, but now closed, Club Richs.

"It was an opportunity that left me confident and happy but always striving for more" Ross shares. He feels this allowed him to follow in the footsteps of DJ's who inspired him, and his goal towards become an amazing and incredible artist.

His one residency quickly became multiple clubs and events and several awards that include Outsmart's Gayest and Greatest and AbOUT Magazine's F.A.C.E Award for DJ of the Year. His goal for playing for crowds who shared his appreciation for excellent music had been met.

Houston, Pensacola, to Los Angeles, Joe Ross had expanded his dream that he dreamed of eleven years ago. He currently holds local residencies at South Beach, F-Bar Houston, and Dua (Formerly Mo Mong's).

"Everyone who comes to the clubs that I play at brings great energy and is essential to what I do".

About Magazine is happy to follow the dreams of a talented person and soon hope to see Joe Ross reporting on the top 40 Billboard, continuing his dream in producing great music for the Houston club-land and the rest of the world.

AT YOUR BEST

This past month has had my mind expanding on my feelings of love and loss. We beat ourselves up if relationships, friendships or otherwise don't go as planned. We feel we could have done more (OR THAT) we deserve more. The truth is we love each other the best we know how. Sometimes it might come off super shitty, but we are only fucking human.

We must learn to accept reality; sometimes reality is a fucking EXTRA CRAZY hot mess. You must learn to leave that shit up to GOD and accept its part of his plan. I know it sounds odd coming from a hoe like me, but shit gets real. You're going to have to have faith in something these days. This world is a dark fucked up fuck hole of extra jizzy madness; I mean, have you ever watched the fucking news?

We have to live, learn and hopefully grow. We have to try to be the best versions of ourselves. WE MUST learn to fucking evolve into better human beings, and not be the same fuck ups WE see every day.

Just the other day, this sweet staff member of a club I promote at handed me a card with some bible quotes written inside the damn thing. The old me would have rolled my eyes, but it was really sweet and kind.

The quote to me that stuck out was "blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the children of god." See to me that means don't be a fucking cunt starting drama enthusiast.

Learn to play along to get along, TO be your best.
