Few new artists embody the spirit of downtown NYC more completely than Cazwell. A leading figure in the renaissance of New York City nightlife, Cazwell's music—a ridiculously fun mix of electrified dance music and old school hip hop—is the perfect example of the new spirit of pop. Bridging the gap between avant-garde club culture and the cutting edge of mainstream music, Cazwell is one of today's most unique and charismatic performers, who describes his own style as, "if Biggie Smalls ate Donna Summer for breakfast."

PAGE

Welcome to the all new "Page 006" with AbOUT Magazine. I'm your "Society Columnist" Roxanne Collins. I will be covering all things celebrity in Montrose. If anyone in the who's who is doing it, I'm reporting it. I want to entertain you as well as inform you about the private lives of

Seems that is where the drama began. Sources reveal that some Louisiana residents were a bit salty with Athena after her departure and they leaked her lack of residency to the Texas America system officials. Sources went on to say these people had it out for her. This is your favorite L.G.B.T celebrities. We have a lot of friends and fans in and around Texas but this will not deter me from reporting any and all celebrity news. It isn't personal, it's just tea folks. I will be as fair and balanced as possible, offering both sides of any dispute the opportunity to tell their story. I promise to check all facts, but I will never reveal a source unless given permission to quote them. Now, here's the tea...

Tea... it ain't just for sipping anymore!

Pageant Tea: The pageantry world was gasp collectively here in Houston when Athena Campbell was stripped of her Miss Gay Texas America crown last fall. The newly transplanted diva had taken Houston by storm when she arrived on the scene. It was no surprise when she captured the Miss Gay Texas crown...did I say newly transplanted?

Houston by storm when she arrived on the scene. It was no surprise when she captured the Miss Gay Texas crown...did I say newly transplanted?

where the story takes a messy turn. Someone got to Athena and said it was her friend and roommate Kofi, a former Miss Gay Texas America, had done it. I asked Kofi if she had a statement for the story and she replied "That was my roommate why would I want to take money out of the house?" She went on to say she had no part in initiating any investigation into the matter. As I said I go to all sides of the story, Athena's take on it was that she had no proof that Kofi was the villainess in this piece, her sourced came from within Kofi's camp. She went on to say she missed her friendship and would like nothing more than to get back to a where they were before...good friends.

This says to me that although Athena's gut may believe Kofi had a hand in her demise, her heart feels differently. I told Kofi of Athena's desire to get back to place of genuine friendship; Kofi said she was open to that. So it looks like the door for reconciliation is open. My work there is done.

STOP THE PRESSES: Athena at the end of the phone call goes onto say that whether Kofi was involved or not does matter!!

She has PROOF that the organizers of Texas America did her wrong! She has requested a sit down interview to tell the complete unfiltered truth about WHO FRAMED ATHENA CAMPBELL, and she is ready to spill the tea! Stay tuned for that interview!!!

Also in the lane of pageant tea...It seems Texas USofA promoter Craig Henderson is in the middle of a feud of his own with long time friend and celebrity photographer Michael Andrews. The feud began when Michael took to social media and blasted the promoter for rigging a pageant. That is what the streets are saying... here is the real tea! I asked Craig about the feud and he said he was genuinely hurt by the allegations launched by his friend. Although thinking his pageants are unfair by people is nothing new to Henderson, it was however a blow to come from a friend and so publicly; he was not only insulted but saddened that a friend would do this. I went to Michael to get his side of the matter, and he wanted to take this opportunity to clear it up. He is genuinely sorry that he attacked in the manner that he did. He went onto say that what he said was inflammatory and not intended solely for Craig. His rant was about the general mistreatment of girls in to know he was there; He was smuggled in and out without the roommate's knowledge. Do people still even have secret sex? Maybe I'm behind the times lol. I will be following this story closely.

In honor of the ban on Gay marriage being overturned, I am happy to announce a celebrity wedding complete with a celebrity bridesmaids. Alexis Nicole Whitney is all set to exchange her nuptials in July to long time love Mr. Frank Davis. The ceremony will take place at Grace Lutheran Church in Montrose. The celebrity maid of honor is TC's cast mate Zinnya Larue Whitney. The all star bridesmaids include; Layla Larue, Ashleey Houston, Jada Brooks, Monique Johnson, Annyconda, and Leandra Lang just name a few. There are 15 bridesmaids in total. I would like to say congratulations and I will be there with bells on July 19th!

And now we come to boob-gate! I hear all sorts of rumors in this business, and now with this column I get the opportunity to put them to rest as I hear them. I recently was told by a source that Kara Dion, a former Miss Gay Texas America and show director of Guava Lamp, offered a regular gig at Guava Lamp to Dessie Love-Blake, a former Miss Gay Houston Newcomer, if she would sell her the breast plate that Dessie had instead of selling it to one of the Millennial Doll London Adour to be exact. Now anyone with social media knows how London has been dying to have a the pageantry world. It is his belief that promoters seem to care more about making money than having fair pageants. The particular pageant in question was in Corpus Christi. Michael says he did not know the winner or first runner up nor did he even attend the pageant. He says he is sorry that it seemed like he was attacking Craig and singling him out. That was not his intention. His apology to me showed character.

In the smushin' room it seems two of the hottest DJ's in Montrose had a drive by not too long ago. Although they are seen as rivals there apparently is some underlying sexual tension between them. DJ Eddie Escobedo says it's fueled by competition. I haven't been able to confirm this with the other DJ as he has been unavailable for comment, so at this time I can't name him as a participant in the story. However DJ Eddie Escobedo claims it was one time, and it was done in such secrecy that even the other party's roommate wasn't allowed breast plate. So I went as usual straight to the horse's mouth. It just so happened the day after I heard the rumor I ran into Kara. I asked the former Miss Gay Texas about said rumor, she erupted with laughter. She informed me that Dessie had been hired long before she ever bought said breast plate. Dessie was going to sell it to London but remembered Kara had asked to buy it months ago when it wasn't for sale. Dessie would later confirm the assertion made by Ms. Dion. Ms. Love-Blake went on to say "If she wanted to bribe Kara Dion everyone knows to use Michael Kors NOT tittles". So with that I felt comfortable putting boob-gate to rest. Even if it were true quid pro quo is as old as the business of drag itself.

Well my glass is empty, but before I want to enlist your help. Page six always has an "IT girl" of the moment whom they report on regularly. I want Page 006 to follow suit. Who do you think is the "IT girl" of Montrose? Go to the Page 006 face book page and leave me your suggestions. Whoever gets the most votes will be our "IT" girl...but remember just like the Houston weather hot can turn cold over night!!!

SHARON NEEDLES

RuPaul's
DRAG RACE

BLASTS INTO HOUSTON AT SOUTH BEACH. YOU DON'T WANT TO MISS IT!

Sharon Needles was crowned "America's Next Drag Superstar" on April 30, 2012, as the winner of RuPaul's Drag Race, Season 4. Born in a small Iowa town surrounded by cornfields and haters, her rise to stardom is a true fairy tale, or more appropriately a tale of delicious horror, complete with coffins, hearses, pallbearers and lots of blood! In early 2013, Sharon released a twelve-track studio album, PG-13. The producer of the album said "Sharon Needles is the most paranoid, disgusting, vile, lewd, corrupt, and obscene bitch I've ever met. And I mean that in a good way. Basically, there are three human needs in life: Sex, Scotch, and Sharon Needles."

Those numbers are set to drastically skyrocket as federal judges in Texas, Kentucky, Virginia, Oklahoma, Utah and Ohio have struck down bans on same-sex discrimination in marriage. While those states do not yet allow same-sex marriage, the days of inequality are definitely numbered. The federal cases are setting up the eventual showdown at the Supreme Court of the United States, which will hopefully finally bring equality to all couples.

2013 will go down as one of the greatest years in history for equality in the LGBT community and 2014 is quickly shaping up to be just as great.

With gay marriage being legalized in 17 states (California, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Iowa, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Rhode Island, Vermont and Washington) and Washington DC, coupled with broad protections provided in Colorado, Oregon and Nevada, marriage equality was quickly overtaking the United States as 2013 came to an end:

- Over 38% of the U.S. population lived in a state that either has the freedom to marry or honored out-of-state marriages of same-sex couples.
- Over 41% of the U.S. population lived in a state with either marriage or a broad legal status such as civil union or domestic partnership.
- Over 43% of the U.S. population lived in a state that provided some form of protections for gay couples.

Laying Down The Gavel

by: Thomas C. Graham, ESQ.
Exclusive to About Magazine

Thomas C. Graham, ESQ. is a licensed attorney in the state of Texas graduating from the University of Houston Law School.

However, the reality of the happy rush to marry is that inevitably there will be same-sex divorce. Several high profile same-sex couples that have been legally married in other states have filed for divorces. While the excitement to finally have the legal right to marry might make the idea of finally having the romantic destination dream wedding seem exciting, the ugly reality of divorce will soon become a common occurrence in the LGBT community. If our "traditional marriage" forefathers have shown us anything, almost 50% of marriages end in divorce.

What the future of LGBT marriage and family law cases will look like is still unknown. However, it is recommended that same-sex couples honestly look at the legal ramifications of marriage before they blindly head toward the joy of becoming one in the eyes of world, and instead end up becoming two in the eyes of viewers of the inevitable Gay Divorce Court television program.

I Have ISSUES

#15 "You're Not My Type"

"What's your type? That question is almost as reductive as the words 'I'm sorry'. I hate the words 'I'm sorry' but that is issue #9 and right now I am focused on the issue #15 types. Is there really such a thing as 'my type'? When I was young and considered chicken I thought I had a type. It was any semi-straight d*@k dancer I could seduce off of a box. Was that truly my type no but I had body image issues and once you go from fluffy to thin the food on the buffet gets stocked with a better selection of meat.

I was young and to say I was a tad naïve is a major understatement. The first "dancer" I slept with I foolishly believed we were going to be in a relationship and run off buy a house and be the happy little "dancer + drag queen couple". Once we got bored with each other I imagined we'd adopt a few malato kids. To say the least he had a type and I was not it, out of drag, and I am left wondering what happened to those two malato kids I never got to adopt.

I was twenty-four back then and now I am forty-two, knowing now I was a beyond naïve I was an idiot. Not only did I have types in bed I had types in friends. If there is a thing beyond shallow I was truly it. If you did not fit into the perfect mold I wanted nothing to do with you. Like wars have stripped us of great writers and artist my bigotry of what beautiful is stripped me of what might have been good friends or great companions.

When people tell me that a guy is not their type because he is smooth, or he is blond, or uncircumcised, too skinny, too fat or my favorite their penis is not big enough. Do you know what I hear you are a gay Hitler and if you had your way you would march those guys off to an Easy Bake Oven if given the chance. Let's pretend you're not a whore and you didn't attempt to sleep with guys on the first date or swap penis pics like a game of Go Fish. What if you went out for three months and then on the third month you decide it's time to put out and you find out your worst not my type fears. But you're in love now, do you ditch them for things they have no control over? And if you say yes you would dump them you should really jump face first into a Metro bus. Love comes along but maybe once and if you decide you can't love someone because of attributes they have no control over you don't deserve love. I think it is time we stop being so shallow and love the people who love us for the person we are not the person we were not blessed to be for them. I know this I have had two best friends one an Adonis and the other a real man, a little fluffy. Now know romantic or best friend relationship is ever perfect but I know which one would be there for me without a second thought. One would be there the other one would still be in the mirror.
