Marc Pournier was the victim of a brutal murder. His body was discovered on November 14. His burnt out vehicle was located near by in a wooded area near FM 1485 of Montgomery County, TX. His body had indications of blunt force trauma to the head, been gaged and tied.

Authorities will not confirm the crime is being investigated as a possible 'Hate Crime,' but they family and his close friends think so.

Marc had been missing since the Thursday before his death; after receiving a late-night 'disturbing' call and, not showing up for the work the following day.

According to "Tony," a friend of Pournier; the family located 'items' in Pournier's room that allowed them to identify who possibly called. "They were able to see who called Marc," the friend states; referring to the late night call the victim received.

The friend describes that information they obtained from "items' as overwhelming.

Local authorities later received a tip of the body's location from a 'person of interest' that is connected to the victim. A source close to the investigation acknowledges investigators are close to an arrest.

An autopsy was performed on Monday.

Every "Drag Race" season needs a diva. And few were more polarizing than Roxxxy Andrews. The curvy queen made it to the Season 5 finale, and her double-wig lip sync is one of the show's most memorable moments. Get ready for glamour and plenty of body-ody-ody. Autograph party & photoshoot following show. Show after midnight.

Each year a volunteer works hard, a politician gets a law passed; a new business opens its doors to the community. Maybe it's a photographer, a drag performer, a bartender, or a hair stylist - they are all doing their part in Houston seeking equality for all. They become someone to look up to, and it lets others praise their achievements. It allows our youth an opportunity to see that hard work and dedication pays off, that doing the right thing gets you rewarded.
