a note from the editor

The great success of the earlier International Guild Guides has confirmed our belief in a comprehensive guide, covering as much as possible of the civilized world. The same thoroughness and care which produced the earlier Guild Guides have been applied to this new 1968 edition. Substantial revisions have been made in whole country sections, with Canada and England being notable examples. No effort was spared to verify the accuracy of the information presented. We were most grateful for information furnished by travelers and in some cases, by establishment owners themselves.

Despite all precautions there will be some errors in these pages. We hope that you will send us corrections, no matter how minute, and that you will send in additions and deletions. We are particularly anxious that each listing be shown correctly, that the street address be exact and that a telephone number be provided. We hope your cooperation will make this possible.

We invite nominations from our readers to serve as "area editors." We will supply page proofs from this edition to those who volunteer to check entries for the 1969 Guide, which we hope will be the best ever. We are always anxious for listings and corrections anywhere in the world, but resort areas, college towns and areas with military installations are of particular interest.
