Back in the July/August Issue we asked you to send your Nintendo Nightmares, your tales about disasters that struck during game play. And did you ever! We heard about all sorts of inopportune interruptions and untimely terminations. In this issue we present the "best" of the "worst."

Your Worst NINTENDO NIGHTMARE

A STICKY SITUATION

I was playing Super Mario Bros. 3 and had finally made it to King Koopa. I was thirsty, so before I took him on I paused the game and got a Pepsi. I took a long drink then set it down. A friend walked in just then to see how far along I was. My parakeet had climbed out of its cage to observe. Then my friend jumped onto the bed, startling the bird, which took off and crashed into my Pepsi, knocking it against the Reset button. It reset my game, but worse yet, spilled Pepsi all over me.

IT'S MY TURN

I was about to finish Karate Kid when the screen started getting fuzzy. Then the power went out. When it came back on my game was gone. I was mad because I had told my sister that she could play

SMB when I was done. God must be a girl.

La Crescenta, CA

FLUSHED WITH PRIDE

Have I got a story for you! I bought two Game Boys for my sons for Christmas. A few weeks ago I heard a scream from upstairs. David, 11, had flushed the toilet while he was holding four Game Paks, and three of them fell in. Two were flushed and one was left floating.

We retrieved it and dried it off and it still played. The other two stopped up the toilet. The maintenance man at our apartments thought he could dissolve them with lye, so he poured it in and let it soak for 24 hours. It was still stopped up the next day, so he decided to take the plumbing apart to remove the obstruction. When we got the games out they looked fine. The lye hadn't even hurt the labels on them. We rinsed them with clear water. (I hated to do that, but after all, they'd been submerged for four days!) We let them dry then tried them. They both play perfectly. I am impressed!

The only problem I have with Game Boy is borrowing one from my sons. If you come out with any more puzzle games I'll have to buy one for myself. My thanks for a quality product and hours and hours of quality entertainment!

IT'S LIGHTS OUT

When I finally beat Bowser in Super Mario Bros. 3, my brother and I wanted to take a picture, so we turned off all the lights. Unfortunately, the lights were all connected to the wall socket and IT TURNED OFF MY DARNED GAME!!!

ONE HOT GAME

One day my brother was playing Double Dragon II when my mom smelled a fire. Everyone had to evacuate. We left so fast that he forgot to pause his game. Smoke was coming from the laundry room, but it was just a fire.

Richie Nabring

MAILBOX

I am writing about my son, Joseph, who is 11. He is a Nintendo Freak who has been legally blind since birth. He started playing when he was 3 and has become a master. Playing Nintendo has changed his life.

To start with, he couldn't see moving objects except when they were up close and moving slowly. Then his grandpa bought him an NES. After about a year we had his vision tested for school. We were stunned to learn that his vision had improved greatly. The doctors were all as shocked as we were. After talking with Joe, they concluded that he had perfected his vision by playing Nintendo. Since the screen continuously moves, it strengthened the muscles in his eyes. The doctors have encouraged him to play an hour a day, and more if possible. He was so happy he asked the doctor about getting a prescription for a couple new games. The difference now in his sight is unbelievable. The dean of the school of ophthalmology examined our son and just shook his head. He said that it has given him something to recommend for other kids with his problem.

His dream is to go to the University of Washington and work for Nintendo developing new games. He even jokes that he would like to have Howard Phillips' job. Don't be surprised if someday an eager kid with glasses walks into your offices. That would be my son, Joe.

ARE YOU DESPERATE?

In an upcoming issue, we'd like to feature letters from Nintendo desperados. If you've ever gone to extremes to get your hands on that one special game, we want to hear from you. Have you made cross-country treks, camped outside toy stores, considered trading your first, second, and third born? Write to us about your desperate adventures!

VIDEO SPOTLIGHT

David Fier and I have been playing Nintendo games for about a year and a half now. He actually started about a month before I did, giving him about 30 days more experience. We are both Nintendo freaks, with one difference. David's mom lets him play only an hour a day while my mom doesn't restrict me. When visitors come to my home I can always be found with my hands wrapped around my NES Advantage, trying to defeat the bad guys. David prefers the regular controller because he claims that they are easier for him to handle. Whenever I'm in a jam, I call David for advice. He has shown me how and where to warp, zap, jump, fly and get 1-Ups. In World 8 of Super Mario Bros. 3 he had 21 lives left when he beat Bowser. He helped me destroy the Mother Brain in Metroid and talked me through many labyrinths in many games. To date, he has finished Super Mario Bros. 1, 2 and 3, Metroid, The Legend of Zelda, The Adventure of Link, Simon's Quest, Dragon Warrior, Willow, Mega Man II, Duck Tales, Rygar, Wizards and Warriors, Kid Icarus, and several other easier games. He's working on too many games to mention. He never reads instruction manuals. He simply plays and learns. I doubt that I will ever have his extraordinary dexterity or his ability to solve the puzzles posed by the games. David's mom—my daughter—who lets him play an hour a day is 30. My mom is 86. David is 5. He's a special guy who deserves mention.

FEDERATION OF SPACE LOONIES

SOLAR JETMAN™

HUNT FOR THE GOLDEN WARP SHIP

BLAST OFF TO A COSMIC CHALLENGE

Exploring the universe can mean a hard day's work, but the rewards are great for a dedicated Solar Jetman. Thirteen unique worlds await exploration. On each planet you'll fight angry aliens, the force of gravity, limited fuel supplies and a maze of caverns. So why bother? To obtain the fabulous Golden Warpship! Help along the way comes from bonus stages and shops stocked with hi-tech accessories for your jetpod. Rookies first need to get the hang of the controls—then, look out space scum!

FEDERATION POLICY

1 DEFEAT OBNOXIOUS ALIENS BEFORE GETTING THE GOODS

Aliens shoot first and don't ask questions. On the way to treasure sites, defeat all enemies, even if it means a return trip to the Mothership for refueling. When the path is clear, get the booty.

FEDERATION POLICY

2 IF YOUR POD IS TRASHED, GET BACK TO THE MOTHERSHIP

Without a pod, a Solar Jetman's life expectancy is approximately 12 seconds. Not good. But if you make it back to the Mothership you'll restore the lost pod. Dive into a warp for a quick return trip.

FEDERATION POLICYUSE THE MAPPING DEVICE TO AVOID BECOMING ALIEN CHOW*3

The reason you get a Mapping Device is so that you won't get lost in the vastness of space. Use it frequently when moving at high speeds to stay clear of damaging obstacles.

FEDERATION POLICY*DUMP YOUR POD BEFORE GOING INTO THE CYBERZONE STAGES*4

Collecting Crystals in the Cyberzone requires great maneuverability. Destroy your pod and enter the Cyberzone in the jet-suit after collecting the Golden Werpship Part.

FEDERATION POLICY*GET PASSWORDS BEFORE GOING TO THE ACCESSORY STORES*5

When you reach a new planet with a store, skip the store and get the password. Then, whenever you enter that password, you'll have all your money and you can buy what you need from the shop.

ACCESSORIES MAKE THE POD

Accessory items in the shops can give you a big edge, but only one item can be used at a time. Buy a few of each to see which is the best on a given planet. Then start over and buy only the items you need. On the planet, equip the pod and watch the Weapon Meter. Defeating certain enemies can restore spent energy.

HOMING MISSILES

These missiles circle the pod until they come in contact with an enemy target and then explode.

SMART BOMBS

They are guided dead on target if dropped near an enemy ship.

STAR BULLETS

Star Bullets fire one at a time, but one hit is all you'll need.

MILITARY BULLET SYSTEM

Fire powerful streams of bullets for quick encounters.

EFFICIENT ENGINES

Better fuel economy will increase your range of exploration.

ANTI GRAVITY

Counteracts the pull of gravity. Helpful where gravity is 30 or higher.

TIME BOMB

Drop the bomb and wait about six seconds for the explosion.

MULTI WARHEAD MISSILES

Like Homing Missiles but they aren't destroyed after one hit.

DOUBLE STRENGTH THRUSTERS

Extra protection for your pod. Great in tight passageways.

DOUBLE STRENGTH THRUSTERS

Extra protection for your pod. Great in tight passageways.

EFFICIENT ENGINES

Better fuel economy will increase your range of exploration.

DOUBLE STRENGTH THRUSTERS

Super power for quick attacks and escapes. Good on high G worlds.

SUPER MAPPING DEVICE

The position of many warps and all treasure locations are displayed on your map.

ITALIAN RACING JETPOD

A faster cannon and the ability to pass through warps makes this jetpod a must for later stages.

TITANIUM BULLET PACK

Hard-nosed bullets will destroy targets with fewer hits.

MOMENTUM KILLERS

Stop on a dime! This item is great in hard-to-manuever tunnels.

MAPPING DEVICE

Once you buy the Mapping Device you won't lose it. The display shows the local area of the planet.

NIPPON SPORTS JETPOD

A bit faster and tougher than the original jetpod, it's a good buy if you're rich. If not, save up for it.

PLANET 2 MEXOMORPH Gravity: 24, Diameter: 31

SURVIVING ON MEXOMORPH

Rating: Relatively Easy. Your first job is to get the Booster—one of the most important items in the game! Then head underground. Snag the Navigator—a Map Device in disguise—to save money. The toughest enemies are the Hopping Boom Tubes. Shoot down on them from above. Destroy Super and Anti Gravity Planets with Tintle Bombs.

A PIECE OF THE WARSHIP

Inside the cavern where a piece of the Golden Warship is hidden, you'll face an array of Limpet Guns. Defeat them all before hauling the Ship Part back to the warp zone. Move forward slowly and look for the best angle from which to shoot the Limpets.

SEEING THE SIGHTS OF OMEBRU

Rating: Moderate. Green chompers (ships with steel jaws that move in straight lines vertically or horizontally) will attack early in the stage, but they are easy to defeat. Deeper in the planet you'll face a larger robot ship. Titanium bullets will help in your attack. There's also a hidden warp zone in the center of the circle of ships. Inside you'll find three more warp zones. The 1st goes to Planet 5, the 2nd goes to Planet 6, and the 3rd goes to Planet 7.

After squeezing through a crack you might need a new ship.

GOLD SHIP PART

The warp entrance is guarded by swarms of Mini Fighters. Use the nearby Extra Ship to go in fresh. Once you're inside, keep right to avoid the Boom Tubes. Attack the large Robot Ship near the Ship Part from below and at a distance.

PLANET 4 CORSO QUESRO Gravity: 8, Diameter: 39

THE CORSO CONNECTION

Rating: Moderate. The Time Bombs and Multi Warhead Missiles are useful in taking out the guns. The lower third of the cave reverses gravity. Best of all, you can tow warp zones!

GOLD SHIP PART

Time your boost past the Boom Tubes to avoid getting zapped then attack from the right. Other enemy guns can be destroyed by firing at them through rocks.

BOKKY OR BUST

Rating: Relatively Difficult. To the far left you'll encounter a large red Robot Ship that fires Multiple Warhead Missiles. Shoot into the open panels to destroy sections of the Robot Ship. To the far right you'll see a moving warp zone. Inside is a Bonus Stage. The screen scrolls vertically while you collect Crystals.

This time it's a large green Robot Ship that is blocking the passage to the Ship Part. Position your pod to fire into the open panels to destroy it.

A LONG AND WINDING ROAD

Rating: Difficult. Swarms of Mini Fighters and Trumpet Towers are a major problem. Even worse, in the underwater lower-half of the planet, enemy ships block the tunnels.

GOLD SHIP PART

On your way to the warp area you should make use of the Extra Ships and Energy that are scattered in the narrow tunnels.

Coming up on Planet 8 you'll want the Italian Racing Jetpod.

Did you save enough money?

SLOUCHING INTO SHISHKEBAB

Rating: Moderate. Far to the right of where the Mothership lands is a moving warp to a Bonus area. In the Italian Jetpod, travel through the warp zones to save time. Warp #7 goes to #9 and #9 leads to Warp #19.

Rating: Moderate. In the upper levels are numerous Limpit Guns and Star Dragons. There's also a Bonus Warp on the outer surface, but it moves off the screen quickly. Use warps and the Italian Jetpod to skip between caverns.

Join Nemo on a trip through the dream world of Slumberland and get ready for some wide-awake excitement. Fans of Super Mario Bros. 3's animal suits and fantasy setting will love Little Nemo.

Nemo's journey to find his playmate takes him through eight action-packed dreams in search of Magic Keys to unlock the Doors of Sleep!

Little did Nemo know when he accepted an invitation from the Princess of Slumberland to visit her world ("Just to play," she said) that he would find himself on the edge of danger. "Play" in this strange land seems to involve taming wild animals with a bag of candy, among other things! Where is that Princess, anyway?

MUSHROOM FOREST WELCOME TO SLUMBERLAND

Nemo's Mushroom Forest is as wild as Mario's Mushroom Kingdom. Fortunately, Nemo can tame some of the savage animals with his candy.

Spiry Snails

Slow moving and surly, these snails have no taste for sweets. It requires good timing to jump over them.

A mighty leap, up and over!

Even if the Snails don't want any candy, toss a few on their noggins.

As the Frog, Nemo can bounce the Snails away with his belly!

Flying Ants

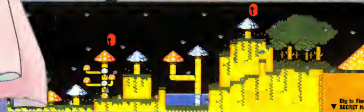

The helmets these buzzing bad guys wear won't help them if you belly bounce them as a Frog.

Flying Ants aren't very smart or fast. If you see them coming, you can often just stand and stare at them, and they'll fly back the way they came.

Don't backtrack, or enemies will reappear.

Big to Play
SECRET M

The Mighty Mole

Transform into a Mole and you can dig into the earth with your powerful claws. Being a peaceful animal, the Mole has no ability to attack.

Explore all the subterranean passages, and be sure to get the two Keys hidden underground.

The Fearless Frog

As a Frog, you can easily leap from platform to platform over the falls. But be patient and watch out for Flying Ants!

While you're on these small platforms, give the Ants a clear berth. Just wait for them to go by, or dodge them if they get too close.

A Final Key

The sixth Key at the top of the falls can be retrieved by either the Lizard or the Frog.

In most cases you will need to be a specific animal to get a Key.

Secret Hall

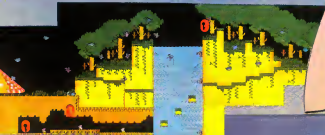

By using the different animals' powers creatively, you can find secret passages and alternate ways of collecting all the Keys you need to unlock the door at the end of this area. Experiment and explore everywhere!

Dig towards the left when you first go underground, then head down to find the Secret Hall.

When you leave, you'll reappear on top of the big mushroom. Riding the Lizard, you can get a 1-Up at the top of the falls.

FLOWER GARDEN A PRETTY DANGEROUS PLACE

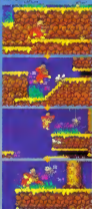

Nemo won't have time to stop and smell the flowers in this garden—it's full of serpents, porcupines and unfriendly birds!

A couple of helpful Blossom Brownies offer advice to Nemo in the Magic Flower Garden. Be sure to talk to Oomp, who lives under the first pond.

Hillside Hijinks

To survive your trip up the hill, you'll have to jump a lot and move slowly so you encounter one enemy at a time.

If you move forward too quickly, several enemies will attack at once. Nemo needs an animal friend—fast!

This Guy Looks Tough, But...

A big, orange gorilla doesn't look like he'd be interested in candy, but he'll gladly give you a ride for a few choice sweets.

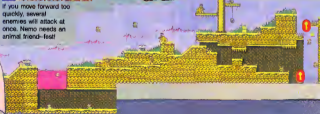

When you're riding the Gorilla, he'll clobber your enemies for you!

Remember Oomp's Tip!

The Gorilla can take you to the top of the tree to find the Lizard, but it's a tough climb! Jump up and down on the branches until the Deadlylion Seed floats straight at you, then dodge.

Once you get the Key, hop onto the Lizard. You can then fit into small passages.

A Burrowing Bumble Bee

Feed the Bee some candy, then touch him for a magic transformation! As a Bee, you can fly short distances.

Get the Key floating below, but stop for rest before you fly up and out of the cave.

Unlock This Key's Mystery

Mastery of the Bee's flying skill is essential to succeed in the garden. To capture the Key floating by the spikes, tap the A Button just right.

Wait on the flower until you've dodged the falling Seed, then go for the Key—carefully!

Bess Hates To Bathe

You can't get any farther than the third big pond as the Bee. As Nemo, take a swim to find a secret passage deep underwater that will take you to the end.

Pass up the healing box if the Tadpoles are on your tail, but once they're out of sight, go back for it.

There's More Than Scum At The Bottom Of A Pond

Check the bottom of each pond for a secret passage. Dive to the bottom of the second pond to locate a Key and a 1-Up!

Don't bother the grizzled Tree Snake who lives in the secret cave by landing on him. Push Down and Right as you fall.

Love That Purple Lizard!

The final key you need is in a tree, so climb up riding the Lizard! Wait for him to come out from the little overhang he's under, then quickly feed him candy and mount up!

Once you've got all six Keys, jump from the tree branch, over the last Snake, and head for the door!

HOUSE OF TOYS A HAIR-RAISING TRAIN RIDE!

This area can be frustrating at first, but once you learn the pattern, it's easy. There are several safe spots on top of the train. If you stick to these, you can avoid danger.

Basic Training

At the start of your train ride, stand near the front of the second car and don't make any drastic moves. Be ready to jump, duck or dodge when the toy planes and balloons attack.

Stick close to this general area at the beginning of your train ride.

NIGHT SEA DARK UNDERWATER ADVENTURE

Nemo will meet a couple of potential friends in this watery dream.

The Hermit Crab can dig under the sand and fight enemies with his claws. To easily avoid the Tadpole Toughs, hitch a ride on the Big Fish.

Nemo Goes Fishing

The Big Fish will give you a ride, but first you must feed it. Not an easy task, considering that the mean Tadpoles will chase you around.

It can be helpful to stun the Tadpoles with candy as you try to feed the Big Fish.

A Dangerous Jump!

In a subterranean cave, your friend the Frog wants to help you make a dangerous jump. To achieve it without being skewered, start your jump in the middle of the area below the opening.

If you jump from directly beneath the opening, you'll get stuck on the spikes.

Safety Zones!

To avoid the mashers, camp out near the rear of the second car in the train and enjoy the ride.

Then move to the end of the second car for three times down.

When the ceiling starts falling, duck at the end of the train and wait for the spikes to come down four times.

Flying Squirrel's Ambush

Leap over the first Flying Squirrel and then duck to avoid the spikes. Ditto on the second squirrel.

Repeated jumping sometimes brings out the Squirrels early.

It will take a lot of practice to make it through this level. Memorizing the obstacles is essential.

There are more than enough Keys to be found in the House of Toys, so don't worry about missing a few.

A Hidden Cave— Davey Jones' Locker?

The dead-end cave actually leads to a hidden undersea grotto. Between all the spikes on the walls and the Spiny Fish, it's a very dangerous place. But you can get a 1-Up and a Key there, so it's worth exploring.

Is This Crab On A Diet?

Sometimes animals are reluctant to eat, or are in a difficult position to feed. Don't get too close to this Hermit Crab. Hug the sea bottom and feed him.

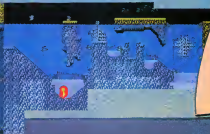

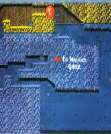

Watch out for the spitting Barnacle!

A Flying Fish Finish!

Be ready to leap or duck to avoid the Flying Fish and head for the door! You need only five Keys to finish this dream.

You can Belly Bounce the Flying Fish if you have transformed into the Frog.

NEMO'S HOUSE IT'S NO HOUSE PARTY!

Full of rambunctious enemies, Nemo's House is a difficult stage to conquer. You must make wise use of all the animals' abilities, and only a few Healing Items are available.

Some Animals Are Tougher Than Others!

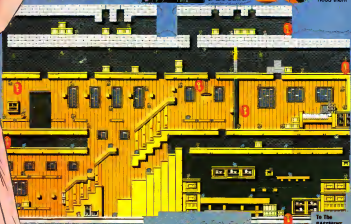

Each of the animals has a different number of Life Boxes. Try to use animals with more Life Boxes, like the Mouse, as often as possible.

Collect the best Healing Items when you have a lot of Life Boxes.

Pass up the Life restoring items until you really need them.

First Stop: The Basement!

Work your way down to the basement of the house where you'll find a Healing Box, 1-Up and a Key. Get the Lizard to collect the items, then turn into a Bee and fly out.

Retain the Bee's powers to get to the attic of the house (the upper left area).

Trek To The Attic

The most crucial part of this area is flying up to the Mouse in the attic with as much life as possible. Avoid the little bats and the dish-tossing Monkeys!

Master the Monkeys!

On your way to the basement, turn into the Frog to belly bounce the Monkeys.

Wait until they're under you and drop on them.

There's A Mouse In The House!

Once you have tamed the Mouse and hitched a ride, you can use his hammer to defeat enemies. Collect as many Healing Items as you can for the fight ahead.

To make it past the Flying Turtles, use the hammer to beat away the eggs they spit, then run underneath the Turtle itself.

If There's No Door, Make One

The Mouse's hammer can also break the gray-colored walls. You'll have to jump and swing the hammer simultaneously to completely clear away the barriers.

It can be tough to avoid the mashes as a Bee or Mouse. Get through quickly!

Monkey Sting, Monkey Do!

Monkey guards the last Key. Don't get too close to him. Wait until he stops throwing dishes. Let him have it with the Bee's stinger, then get the Key.

Spring and sting!

The Bee's Flight Is Limited

The Bee can fly short distances, but he must plan ahead. To get to the attic from Nemo's room, start from the bed post and fly up quickly.

You can't fly all the way up from the floor of the room.

This dream starts high on the rooftops and goes up to the clouds! The Bee's powers of flight are essential for this dream's aerial action.

Automatic Scroll Action

On your way up to the Cloud Ruins, the screen scroll will be automatic. Stop to rest on as many clouds as you can.

The way down from the Cloud Ruins also involves automatic scrolling. Jump for the lower clouds as they scroll into view.

The Lizard Is Your Ally

To make it through the narrow gap at the lower right of the Cloud Ruins, you'll have to ride the Lizard.

Zip on through!

Escape From The Clouds

Change back into Nemo to leave the Cloud Ruins.

All the Keys you need are right by the exit door!

TOPSY-TURVY WHICH WAY IS UP?!

Nemo will have to use all his animal handling skills to tame this nightmare world. It's very long and the proper sequence of animal powers must be used to make it through!

Constant Change!

Go right from the start to get the first Key as Nemo. Find the Frog, collect the nearby Key, then go for the Bee. As the Bee, you can collect a couple more Keys, then fly up to ride the Mouse.

Later, you'll turn into the Frog again to get the Bee to clear the area.

Whew!

More Simian Hijinks

A monkey guards one of the Keys, and you'll have to defeat him as a Bee. Stay far enough away that he doesn't throw dishes, then sting him good.

If you have the wrong animal helping you, look around and you'll probably find the one you need.

Hammer Time!

Ride the Mouse up the wall, carefully avoiding the falling Seeds. It'll be difficult to break the wall with the Seeds attacking, but if you're patient, you can do it. Break a few blocks, run away, then go back and break some more.

Once you've broken down the wall, head straight for the healing bowl!

Scroll Strategy

Approach an enemy slowly, and when it appears on the edge of the screen, backtrack slightly. When you go forward again, the enemy will sometimes be gone.

Chase the Monkeys away using the scroll strategy.

NIGHTMARE LAND MORE THAN JUST A BAD DREAM

Nemo finally meets the Princess at the end of his Topsy-Turvy dream. It turns out that good king Morpheus has been captured by the Nightmare King, and Nemo must venture into Nightmare Land to rescue him!

Nightmare Land is Nemo's toughest challenge yet with four sections to defeat, each guarded by one of the Nightmare King's toughest bad guys. Nemo won't need Keys to get through the four parts, but the job will not be an easy one!

You'll lose plenty of sleep trying to beat this character.

Nemo can't defeat the evil creatures of Nightmare Land with a bag of candy alone. So, the Princess gives him a magical Morning Star, which he can use to cast bolts of force (Select and hold down the A Button).

"I'm your worst nightmare, Little Nemo!"

SLUMBERLAND ANIMAL HANDLING TACTICS

Use care when handling the animals of Slumberland.

Although you can feed them candy, tame them, and then gain their use. Until you do, they will remain wild and dangerous.

Make sure the animal has eaten three pieces of candy and is asleep before you try taming it.

Some animals refuse to eat candy. These cannot be tamed (your candy will run them).

Remember, the animals are wild, and will often charge at you before they've gobbled their pieces.

Your toughest challenge lies ahead in Nightmare Land! Use all your animal friends' powers wisely and you'll defeat the Nightmare King!

CRYSTALIS WHERE IS THE TOWN OF AMAZONES?

The town of Amazonas is southeast of Brynmaer. To get there, you'll need the Sword and Ball of Water. From Brynmaer, journey to the east until you reach the river. Then find a shallow place in the river and make a bridge by freezing the water with the Sword and Ball. Cross the river and move southward. You'll find that all of the inhabitants of Amazonas are women. If you talk to them and they see that you're not a woman, they'll kick you out of town. There's a guard outside the house on the east edge of town. Use Paralysis on the guard so that she can't make you leave town. Then enter the house and go downstairs to find the elusive Blizzard Bracelet.

Make a bridge east of Brynmaer and move south.

To enter, use Paralysis on the guard located outside the house farthest East.

CRYSTALIS WHAT DO I USE TO DEFEAT THE STATUES OF MOON AND SUN?

You'll find these powerful statues in a cave behind the Pyramid, east of Sahara. The only way to defeat them is to use their namesake Bows. The Bow of Moon is in the town of Amazonas. Use the Change Spell to disguise yourself as a woman before you come into the town. When you speak to the chief of Amazonas, offer her the Kirisa Plant. She'll return the favor by giving you the Bow of Moon. The Bow of Sun is in the mountains near Shyron. After you cross two bridges on your way up, turn right at the next intersection. Keep moving to the right, break through a wall, then use the Flight Spell to cross over to a Chest. Inside, you'll find the Bow of Sun.

Only arrows from the Bows of the Moon and Sun will damage these statues.

CRYSTALIS WHERE IS THE PSYCHO SHIELD?

The Psycho Shield is the most powerful shield ever. With it, you'll be able to guard against Poison, Paralysis and Petrifying spells. You'll find it in the fiery world at the top of Mt. Hydra. After you use the Key of Styx, move north past the statues and turn right. Then use the Flight Spell to cross the water and continue until you find the Chest.

Fly across this gap to the Psycho Shield.

Use the Psycho Shield to protect yourself from the most powerful enemies.

TOMBS & TREASURE

HOW DO I ADVANCE TO THE NEXT EXPERIENCE LEVEL?

Your success in this complicated adventure hinges on always doing the right things at the right time. Make sure that you explore thoroughly and leave no possibilities overlooked. Your experience level will increase as you perform certain tasks and those higher levels will give you the strength to defeat advanced enemies. You'll start your journey with Level 1 experience after you have collected everything that you can from the Laboratory and then left. In the High Priest's Tomb, you'll encounter Skorper. Defeat this low level enemy with your Sword. After Skorper is gone you'll advance to Level 2 experience. Other key moves will trigger more level increases. Make sure that you examine everything that you come across carefully. The descriptions of items will often give you a clue as to how and where you should use them. Here's a list of important things that you should do in the beginning stages of the game:

1) After you have changed to Jose and pushed the right wall in the High Priest's Tomb, take the Mosaic Tile and the One-Eyed Mask.

Take the Mosaic Tile and the box will open.

2) Put the Mosaic Tile in the door of the El Castillo Pyramid. Once inside, take everything that you can, smash the Tall Flask to get the Ring of Itza and move the pile of Gold to reveal the Red Jewel. Once you join the Red Jewel and the One-Eyed Mask, you'll be able to use the Mask to read the Tablets in the Stone Box. These Tablets explain activities that you will have to perform later in the game.

Smash the Tall Flask to reveal the Ring of Itza.

3) Wash the Golden Mirror in the Well of Paradise. Then take the Golden Pipes and join the Pipes with the Bandage.

4) Defeat the Snake Master in El Caracol by joining the Red Jewel with the Sword and using the Sword to fight. Then put the Silver Globe in the stand and let the girl play the Golden Pipes.

5) At the Court of 1000 Columns, defeat El Slug by joining the Red Jewel and Sword and using the Sword. Then look at the column and smash the ground near it. This will reveal the Golden Globe.

6) Return to El Caracol. Take the Silver Globe and put the Golden Globe in its place. Then change to the girl and let her play the Pipes.

7) Go back to the Court of 1000 Columns and smash the ground again. This time you will reveal the Silver Head.

8) At the Temple of Warriors, defeat Cadaver in the same way that you beat El Slug and take the Sun Necklace. You can try to take the Blue Jewel. But at this point, you will probably not be able to freeze the Jaguar who is the guardian of the Blue Jewel.

This should get you started on the right track. Remember to be thorough. If you can't take an item, try to manipulate it in some other way and try to join the items that are in your inventory with each other. The Sword can be joined with various Jewels for extra strength. The following table explains just what sort of strength you'll need to defeat the creatures that you will encounter in your journey and recommends an experience level that you should attain before fighting.

ENEMY	STRENGTH	WEAPON
Skorper	1	Sword
Two-Beak	2	Sword
Snake Master	7	Sword/Red Jewel
El Slug	8	Sword/Red Jewel
Cadaver	10	Sword/Red Jewel
Jaguar	15	Golden Pipes
Hornskull	17	Sword/Blue Jewel
Venom	19	Sword/Blue Jewel*
Tecot	21	Sword/Blue Jewel*
Scarface	23	Sword/Blue Jewel*
Tentacle	30	Sword/Blue Jewel*

*Use the Akbul Jewel before you use the Sword and Blue Jewel while taking on advanced enemies.

TOMBS & TREASURE

The Sun Necklace acts as a clock of sorts. Wash it in the Well of Paradise and you'll be able to tell the time of day.

Find the Sun Necklace in the Temple of Warriors.

WHAT DOES THE SUN NECKLACE DO?

Washing the Sun Necklace also raises your Experience 2 levels. Once you know the time of day, you'll be able to carry out the activities described on the Stone Tablets. You can advance to the right time of day by using the "Wait" command.

Wash away the dirt in the Well of Paradise.

Look at the Necklace to tell the time of day.

TOMBS & TREASURE

There are two special items that you can find hidden in the walls of the second floor at El Caracol by using the reflective powers of the Golden Globe. To get to the second floor, change to

Jose and push the Pedestal. The wall will open to reveal the stairs. Once you are upstairs, place the Golden Globe in the Pedestal there and wait for sunlight. When the Sun is shining, change to the girl and play the Golden Pipes. A beam of light will come into the room and bounce off the Globe, illuminating a section of the wall. Look at the wall and then smash it. You'll find the Crystal Key.

Place the Golden Globe in the Pedestal and wait for sunlight.

Play the Pipes and a beam will point to a section of the wall.

Smash the wall to reveal the Crystal Key.

DR. MARIO™

TM 1990 Nintendo of America Inc.

Line Up The Colors

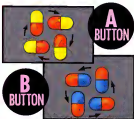

Mario tosses capsules into the bottle in an attempt to stomp out the viruses that have taken over. It's up to you to control the capsules so that their colors line up with the colors of the germs. A vertical column or horizontal row of four same-colored capsules and/or germs will disappear; problem solved. When the bottle is clear of germs, you'll move on to the next emergency. If the capsules pile up to the top of the bottle, though, the patient's a goner.

Match the colors four-in-a-row and knock out the germs.

Capsule Control

Capsules move just like Tetris blocks. Slide them left, right and down using the Control Pad and rotate them with the A and B Buttons.

Choose Your Specialty

There are two variables to make the operation a challenge for both interns and experts. The virus level determines the number of bugs that must be eliminated and the speed setting varies the drop speed of the capsules. Start low and slow, then work your way up.

Regulate the seriousness of the case.

DR. MARIO'S DIAGNOSIS

No one knows as much about the methods of manipulating capsules as Dr. Mario. Here are a few of his winning strategies that you should keep in mind when starting your own practice.

Look At The Big Picture

When four capsule colors and viruses line up in a row, they disappear and make room for other colors to fill the space. Make sure that you examine how placement of each capsule affects the colors around it, so that when you make matches you drop the right colors into the most advantageous spaces. Some placements can result in multiple matches.

When four capsule colors and viruses line up in a row, they disappear and make room for other colors to fill the space.

This drop results in a line-up of two yellow capsule colors.

Make a two color match in one move with this placement.

Plan Ahead

Dr. Mario always keeps one step ahead of the game by holding up the next capsule he'll toss. Consult with him while you're playing and you'll be able to better plan where to place each capsule.

What's up, Doc?

Finish It Off

When you're down to just one germ, don't worry about how your moves affect the rest of the bottle. Just concentrate on making a match to eliminate the bug.

De-bug the bottle.

THREE AT A TIME

With some practice and patience you can set up the capsules so that three lines disappear in a single move.

A triple play will come in handy in a two-player game.

Mend Your Mistakes

Complications can develop if germs are buried under mismatched colors. Think about the affect of each placement before the capsule settles and you may be able to avoid some difficult situations. When colors fall and bury germs under them, make matches to uncover those germs and work toward a cure.

Clear the mismatched colors and uncover the germs

Work From The Top Down

Since capsules drop from the top, it's a good idea to clear away the highest viruses first. That way, you'll open up maneuvering space and give yourself room to work into the lower areas. If the viruses are very high, you may consider making horizontal matches.

Clear away the highest viruses first to make room for maneuvering.

Fill The Space

Since the capsule control in this game is very much like the control in Tetris, there are some techniques that work well for both games. One such maneuver is sliding pieces to the left or right into open spaces. That way, you can fill spaces sideways that are surrounded on three sides. This is important to remember when the stacks have grown so high that you can no longer place capsules on top.

You can slide it up to two spaces

Rotate the capsule and slide it in with a quick move to the right.

An intern's eye sees little hope for a match

Work it in and match the colors

Think Before You Stack

If you can't find a perfect match for a falling capsule, place it to the side so that you'll have space in the middle to manipulate other falling capsules. Wherever you stack, always look for both horizontal and vertical matching opportunities.

Don't let the capsules stack up in the middle

The red virus is difficult to reach.

After some completions, the field is clear

Two Can Play This Game

Doctors Duel Over Dexterity

The best way to play is with two players in an all-out, split-screen, simultaneous battle! Race against another budding doctor to get your name in the medical journals. With the right moves, you can upset your opponent's research and move on to critical acclaim.

TWO PLAYER

Three crowns take the spot.

Double Trouble

Line up your capsules so that you'll make two matches with one move and your opponent will receive two capsule-halves.

Make a double to bury the other player in unexpected pieces

You can keep playing, while the other player has to wait for the two yellow halves to fall.

Try For A Triple

If you can arrange three matches with one move, three colors will drop down into the other player's bottle. That could mess up anyone's plans!

MAKE THE MATCH EVEN

If one player is more experienced than the other, you can make the match fair by indi-dually choosing Virus Level and Speed.

Study And Practice Are The Keys To Success

When you face-off with another potential Dr. Mario champ, you'll have to play with precision and speed.

Not only will you be obliterating viruses in your own bottle, you'll also be trying to slacken your opponent's pace by sending over colors. The way to do this is by making doubles and triples. Doubles send over two colors, triples send three and practice makes perfect. Dr. Mario recommends that you practice the methods of making winning moves on your own. Then you'll be ready for a two-player game with a competitive edge.

PREPARE
FOR A
TWO-PLAYER CHALLENGE!

Prepare A Practice Field

In this practice session, the object is to learn how to set up and carry out double and triple scores. To clear the bottle for practicing, start with a low virus level. Play to a point where only a few capsules remain stacked to either the left or right edge and near the bottom of the bottle. While practicing, use the capsules shown in the examples and set the others out of the way.

Get the screen of all but one virus

BE CAREFUL NOT TO ELIMINATE ALL OF YOUR VIRUSES WHILE PRACTICING.

Doubles

The key to making multiple matches is to set up sets of three same-color capsules and to wait for an opportunity to complete those sets with a single move. Here are two examples of two-set matches.

CLINIC

STUDY
THESE EXAMPLES.
THEN GIVE THEM A TRY!

Example #1

This is a basic vertical double. Stack two three of a kind matches end to end and wait for a capsule with both colors.

Example #2

Remember that you can make matches both vertically and horizontally. Here's an example of a double horizontal match.

Start the stack with a double red.

Stack three reds high.

Then start stacking blues.

Finish the setup and wait.

Start with a red and yellow capsule.

You'll need a double-yellow to set up the bottom match.

Connect the reds.

Complete the setup.

Blue matches first. Then the red drops and you've scored a double!

When the next red and yellow capsule hits, you make both matches simultaneously.

Triples

Triple-match scores are similar to doubles, but they do take more precision and time to set up. The results are worthwhile, though, since your opponent will be pelted with a three-color shower. When you are following these examples, remember to set capsules that don't fit into the scenario to the side.

THESE ARE MORE DIFFICULT.
PRACTICE HARD!

Example #1

Just like the first double example, this multiple match is vertical. The twist is that now there are three colors in the equation.

Start with a base of yellow and red capsules

Another yellow and red capsule would make for a perfect double, but wait it out for a triple.

Build blue onto the yellow and set up a red match.

A blue and yellow capsule sets off a chain reaction. In this scenario, the area will clear completely once the matches are made.

Example #2

In most triple scores, you'll incorporate both horizontal and vertical matches. This will enable you to bring a wider array of capsules into your scheme.

A horizontal yellow match is the first part of the setup

Begin to stack red capsules but leave a space for the blue match.

DR. MARIO'S BOARD EXAM

Now it's time to check up on your own abilities to recognize multiple score setups and to see if you qualify to be a full-fledged doctor. Examine the following situations. Then take a look at the next capsules to come into play and decide where they should go in order to score a double or triple. Think about setting up near completions of the same color and then making it so that the last capsule makes the matches. The answers are on the next page.

ELIMINATE THIS VIRUS WITH A DOUBLE

CONGRATULATIONS!
YOU'VE DONE AN EXCELLENT JOB

Blue will be the next color to build up.

All of the matches have been set up. Now wait for the trigger.

Blue matches first. Then red falls and yellow makes three!

HERE ARE THE RESULTS

If you haven't figured out the answers to Dr. Mario's Board Exam, study them here and try to work out a few more examples on your own. Understanding doubles and triples will give you an advantage in competitive situations.

PRACTICE PRACTICE PRACTICE

Even when you understand the principles of multiple matches on paper, the only way to really master the Dr. Mario is by making up a practice field in a one-player game and trying out double and triple scores. When they become second nature, try out your skills in a two-player game.

IF YOU FIND TRIPLES EASY, TRY A QUADRUPLE!

It probably won't ever happen in a playing situation, but you might try to find a way to score a coveted quadruple while practicing. Give it a try and keep fine tuning your Dr. Mario skills.

SPECIAL FEATURING
GAME BOY

DR. MARIO

Dr. Mario is pulling double duty! Germs are taking over his lab on the NES and spreading to Game Boy, too. Now, you can help him at home and on call!

The Basics

Tetris-playing skills are going to help out a lot here. You'll manipulate Dr. Mario's vitamin capsules just like the Tetris blocks. Mario tosses them and you must match them up with the germs. Stack four of the same shade and they disappear. Except for being black and white, the game is virtually identical to the NES version.

Germs have taken over the medicine bottle.

Drop capsules to neutralize the menace.

Link Up For Added Challenge

Two players contribute to the chaos with a race to find the cure. When you make two or three matches with one move, extra capsules will drop into your opponent's bottle. Clear out your viruses before your opponent can or try to fill up his or her bottle with extra capsules. Two-player matches are best three out of five.

Watch The Virus Count

You can't see your opponent's screen, but you can tell how many viruses are left in the other bottle. Try to stay ahead of the game.

THE FUTURE IN LAW ENFORCEMENT

RoboCop Rocks Through A New 10 Stage Mission For Game Boy

A powerful compact video game system calls for an equally powerful high tech hero. That makes RoboCop the perfect choice for Game Boy! The streets of New Detroit are teeming with hoods and it's RoboCop's job, once again, to show some mechanized muscle. Help RoboCop uphold the prime directives and clean up the city for innocent bystanders. In the first of 10 incredible stages, RoboCop faces the slime and riff-raff on the streets of this futuristic city gone bad. Flow through the thugs with a steady stream of bullets and you should be able to survive with little more than a scratch. What follows are critical highlights to help you through some of the tough spots.

Weapons

Grab a Jar of RoboCop's nutritional supplement, Baby Food, for extra energy.

With a 20 Round 3-Way shot, you can go high and low with one pull of the trigger.

Hi-Power bullets are useful against powerful enemies, but you only have 15 rounds.

The Manta features mini-explosives with 10 rounds of incredible punch.

Stage 3

RoboCop's second patrol pits him against a greater number of more powerful villains. It will serve you well to proceed cautiously. Don't waste ammo and don't let the

Sniper

This guy fires at a 45 degree angle and straight down. Avoid the streams of fire.

Mad Bomber

The grenades lob, then roll. Jump out of the way and take the bomber out.

Punch It!

You'll earn points for shooting the barrel, but only punches destroy it.

Bikes

Two-wheeled tough guys tend to pop up into the air. Be ready for an assault from above and fire.

Stage 2

A thug shields himself from RoboCop's advances by holding close an innocent pedestrian. You'll have to work quickly and accurately. Aim for him when he steps away and keep plugging or time will run out.

Aim for the villain with your crosshairs and fire when you've got a clear shot.

Stage 6

Directive 4 clearly states that RoboCop cannot arrest senior officers of OCP. This rule leaves him unarmed against gang leader Dick Jones.

RoboCop continues to fight through OCP headquarters with a bare fist ed assault against ED209. Dodge the bullets and jump to reach ED209's nerve center.

Stage 7&9

The complicated elevator system of OCP headquarters comes into play in Stage 7. Blast the enemies as you go.

The most challenging action-packed battle takes place in the junkyard confrontation of Stage 9. Keep going!

Stage 10

If you thought Stage 2 was tough, just wait for this final showdown with Dick Jones. He's got the President and he'll fire if you don't act in time. Get Jones in your sights in a hurry and let him have it.

Club Thug

Direct contact with this villain is bad news. Take him out from a distance.

Two For Two

Drop one guy from this window and another one shows up.

Blast 'Em!

Some Snipers don't show until you've passed. Blast them if they're causing problems.

Careful Where You Fire

You could break this jar of Baby Food if you don't watch it. Be careful.

Extra Ammo

Punch the cans and you'll earn two bullets for each.

Keep Fighting!

There'll be more creeps to beat before it's over.

PLAY ACTION FOOTBALL™

Football action is not only heating up on fields and in stadiums all over the country, but it's also happening on Game Boy screens with a pocket-sized companion to NES Play Action Football. Options and plays abound in this versatile version of America's favorite sport. If there's a time-out on the field, pull out your Game Boy for non-stop action.

Four Ways To Play

There are four game options to choose from. In a one player game, you can play against any one team or take on all of the teams in the playoffs. Game Link with another player and you can work together on one team or head two different teams and face off.

- 1P VS COMP
- 1P VS 1P
- 1P PLAYOFFS
- 2P VS 1P

Kick-Off

With good reflexes, you can control the direction and strength of your kick. Send it down field and run for it.

Play At Your Own Level

Four different skill levels determine the strength and speed of the teams. Beginners should choose Level 1.

Choose Your Team

Lead the team of any one of eight big football towns. Each team has unique plays.

Offense

Each team works from a set of eight offensive plays. Choose your strategies from the plays on hand.

Send It Down

Surprise your opponent with a long pass on first and ten.

Fade to the left,

Pass to the open man.

Complete! Keep running!

Lead Option

Keep the other team guessing with a quick fake.

Fade to the left like before.

Hit the running back with a lateral.

Push through the crowd.

Defense

The defensive plays are the same for each team. There are eight different formations of zones and blitzes. Try to guess what the other team is going to do and react.

Use a zone formation when you see a passing situation.

Blitz if you think you've got a good chance for a sack.

Playoffs

After a few off-season practice games, give the playoffs a shot. You'll go against the weakest team first, then you'll move on to the championships.

Start at the bottom. Work your way up.

Keep track of your password and you'll be able to have a second chance at the title.

Dive

You'll find occasion to dive in both offensive and defensive plays. Get short yardage easily when you have the ball or dive to tackle when it's the other team's ball.

Stiff Arm

It's usually best to go around a pack, but a stiff arm works too. Press the A Button rapidly to show some force.

FROM AGENT #980

When he starts to fall, continue to hold Up on the Control Pad and press the B Button rapidly. Special Modes

Our Agents have found that four sets of initials entered into this traditional tile matching game will send the game into special modes. Press the Select Button to call up the Subscreen and select a new game. You'll be given a prompt to enter three letters. Choose the letters REV and the game will begin with all of the tiles facing down. Choose ZAP as the initials and the sound that occurs when a tile can't be moved will be replaced by an electronic zapping effect. The letters STF, when entered, will call up the game's credits. Enter MAN and all of the tiles in the Chinese character format will incorporate the character for the number 10,000. In the format more familiar to western cultures, the MAN mode chooses only numbered tiles. You'll find it easier to win in this mode since there are fewer kinds of tiles and more possible matches.

COMING SOON

Game Boy development is continuing at a steady clip. Word is that Electronic Arts, the company that's bringing Skate or Die 2 to the NES, is developing a skateboarding game for Game Boy tentatively titled Tour De Thrash. Sounds great! Capcom is planning to continue it's association with Disney by developing Game Boy games starring Mickey Mouse and Roger Rabbit. Also on the horizon is a series from Game-Tek called the InfoGenius Line featuring a dictionary, thesaurus, personal organizer and more, all packed into Game Boy Game Paks! The long awaited Game Boy Role Playing adventure from Kemco/Seika is now titled The Dove and The Key. We hope to see it some time next year. Check future issues of Nintendo Power for more info on coming games.

Castlevania III Dracula's Curse

Go Forth, Destroy Dracula
With The Knowledge Of A Master

A Trip Into Castlevania's Past

Make Your Way To The Castle Of Count Dracula
A wretched and winding path must be followed to reach Dracula, who plots from his lair in Curse Castle to overrun Europe with his undead forces!

FOR APPRENTICES

TAKE ROUTES 1-2 or 3-4-7-8

FOR DEVOTEES

TAKE ROUTES 1-2 or 3-5-9

FOR MASTERS

TAKE ROUTES 1-2 or 3-5-6-10

This path is the shortest and lets you enter the Castle at the midway point.

This will allow you to choose Alucard as your companion "spirit," but is a longer path.

The most difficult way to the Castle; it will also start you in the lowest level of the Castle.

Choose From Three Helpful Spirits

In Castlevania III, you play the role of Trevor Belmont, youthful hero and originator of the Belmont warlord line. Your task is to foil the schemes of the Middle Ages' ultimate evil—Count Dracula. You will not be alone in your quest to conquer the Count. Along the way, you'll encounter three companion "spirits," each with special abilities, which you can enlist as your allies. Choose wisely though: "spirit" you take along, for you can only have one accompany you at a time in your journey. In addition, once a helper has been dismissed, you cannot gain his services again. (For your first journey through Castlevania, we recommend finding Grant and keeping him with you until the end.) As you gain more experience, you can try using the other "spirits," or even go alone.

During 1686, the young Belmonts, having blood a common thread, Dracula, the immortal vampire, is under no duress to find world divided with evil.

Dracula, the Belmont family was destined to battle him and take revenge. The Belmont family was a line of warriors of blood and soul.

The lands of Dracula are ruled by the King of the North. The King of the North is the most powerful.

ROUTE-1

(BLK 1-01 thru 1-04)

WARAKIYA

Trevor begins his quest in the village of Warakiya. Fearing the invasion of Dracula's undead troops the villagers have fled, leaving Trevor alone to face the onslaught. Advance scouts of Dracula's armies have already invaded the town, but Trevor can easily master these weak forces.

Total Number of Small Hearts and Bonus Bogs in this Route:

= 30 ♥ = 7 (9300pts)

Forsaken Street

Warakiya's town square is vacant, but valuable items can be found in the candles. Get them all for a Long Chain Whip, a Dagger and extra Hearts.

TREVOR BELMONT

A century before Simon Belmont gained fame for defeating Dracula, his forefather Trevor also battled the evil Count. When Dracula recently marshalled his undead armies to sweep through Europe, the people called for a hero, and young Trevor Belmont answered.

Trevor's knife strikes true.

Flies out horizontally and returns.

Burns evil creatures.

It is quite deadly to most foes.

Bats In The Belfry

Dracula's Bats have taken residence in the church tower and can be difficult to detect against the ornate stained-glass background. Be ready to whip them when they swoop to attack.

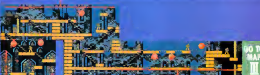

Bone Chukkers

These skeletal threats lob deadly bones as they leap about. Clear them out before you go for the items in the candles.

You should have the Long Chain Whip by now, use it when the Bone Chukkers come into range.

Medusa Head Menace!

You'll meet Medusa Heads in more dangerous places, but here is where you can learn their attack mode. To avoid one, run away until it almost hits you then go towards it. The floating head should pass harmlessly under you.

Study the Medusa Head's pattern.

Don't jump on the trap doors.

As you ascend the stairs in this section, swarms of Medusa Heads will assail you. Ignore the candles, and concentrate on moving up as fast as possible. Deal with the Medusas using your whip or special weapon. The 1-Up at the top of this section can be collected by Grant on the way down the tower.

Use The Pocket Watch Wisely

The Pocket Watch can help you get past the Medusas. If it looks like one is about to hit you, freeze it. Remember, the Watch uses 5 Hearts, so you probably will run out on your way up the tower.

Grinding Gears

To ride the giant gears, you have to put your foot on one of the teeth. Wait until the last moment before you jump off.

SHOT MULTIPLIERS

The Double Trouble and Triple Threat can sometimes be found in blocks. Also, if you use a Special Weapon to defeat 10 enemies in a row, you'll earn the Double Shot item. Defeat another 10 with Special Weapons to get the Triple Threat item.

NASTY GRANT

To defeat the huge, ghostly-looking creature at the top of the tower, keep your distance and use a special weapon such as the Sacred Water or Dagger. Be ready to dodge when he's on the ceiling, because he'll throw up his way. He also attacks with a Dagger like yours, which can be jumped over.

When you see the monster, jump over it.

To The Top Of The Tower

Again, the Medusa Heads attack when you are vulnerable—on stairs and perilous platforms! Go as fast as you can without making a misstep, and you can get through taking only a little damage. But hesitate, and you'll be lost!

Don't get mashed between the gears.

Avoid fighting on the edge of a platform.

As soon as you jump onto the lower gear, jump for the upper.

GRANT DaNASTY

Grant was once a fierce pirate captain—until Dracula killed his family and put a curse on him. Once Trevor breaks the spell, Grant can become a companion "spirit" who will help Trevor (Press Select to summon Grant's powers).

The Dagger and Axe are available to Grant as special weapons.

CLIMB WALLS!

Grant learned to climb any obstacles while working the rigging of his pirate ship. His jumping abilities are also formidable.

ESCAPE FROM THE CLOCK TOWER!

Use Grant's speed and climbing powers to get out of the clock tower quickly. He can fit through small spaces and climb over walls that would otherwise block Trevor's progress.

Grant's powers are useful, but can be tough to handle. Practice!

FOREST OF DARKNESS

Deadly owls reside in the Forest Of Darkness. Whether you've entered by way of the clock tower or from Warukiya, you'll have to face them. But it is worth the effort to gain the chance of getting a new "spirit" palper.

Whoooo's There? Giant Owls!

The hostile owls roosting in these trees have a tricky attack. First their eyes gleam through the branches. Then, in a flurry of feathers, they burst from hiding and swoop to the attack. The Boomerang is the best weapon to use against them.

Throw the Boomerang, then move on. You get extra points for destroying more than one owl with a single throw.

Push up the Map for now because the block didn't give you access to a safe spot. Stay on the platform until it's safe to attack the Cyclops in the head.

After crushing the Cyclops' foot, you'll find Sypha. You have to wait until you have the Magic Beam before.

SYPHA BELNADES

Long thought dead by the people, Sypha was actually captured by the Cyclops and turned into a statue. Sypha's main weapon is his staff, but since he is physically weak, he must strike swiftly to win.

POWERFUL MAGIC

Hidden in candles and lanterns along the way are the magic items Sypha must collect to cast spells. Three different items can be found:

Mystic fire destroys everything.

Freezes enemies for a short time.

Shoots energy in three directions.

Crows In The Crow's Nest

DOUBLE TROUBLE ON DECK!

WARNING The final challenge on the ghost ship pits you against two heavy hitters. First, a pair of mummies burst out of one of the coffins, attacking with diabolical bandages. They are easy to destroy with the whip. Stay behind the left platform to dust the first one, then quickly go after the second.

Lore Of The Great Vampire Hunters

KNOW THE HISTORY OF CASTLEVANIA

It is very important for any Vampire hunter to know the legends of Castlevania. No matter what Age you are battling the forces of evil in, their powers and weaknesses remain the same. They are, after all, eternally undead! The great Vampire Hunting tradition of the Belmont family begins with you, young Trevor. Here is a look at your future generations...

Castlevania

Vampire hunting fans were delighted when the adventures of Simon Belmont first appeared in 1987.

The Adventure

Giant Eyeballs and vines to secret passages were added to frightening features in the Game Boy chapter of Simon's adventures.

Simon's Quest

Simon's epic battle against evil continued a year after his first outing in Castlevania II, which greatly expanded the Belmont legend.

FROM AGENT # 202 Fire Free Bowser

Enter the second passage from the top of this room.

perform an odd maneuver which takes the flame from Bowser's attack. On your way to Bowser, you'll fly through an open room of Podoboos and Donut Lifts. In that room, far to the right, you'll come across four possible passages. Enter the second passage from the top and follow the path until you reach Bowser's chamber. In Bowser's chamber, fly straight up against the wall to the left. When you fly out of the screen, continue on to the left until you can see the other side of the wall. Then turn around and return to Bowser's chamber. When Bowser appears he'll try to spit fire but his flame will be extinguished! After Mario has been stomped by Bowser, he'll shrink to his smallest size and the P-Wing will no longer be activated. If you keep Mario on the ground, though, he'll be invincible from other attacks. Once the floor breaks under the pressure of Bowser's incredible jumps, move out of the way and let Bowser fall through!

Normally, Bowser has a dangerous flame attack.

With this trick, Bowser's just a lot of hot air.

Let Bowser stomp you once.

You'll be invincible as long as you stay on the ground.

Fly up and over the wall to the left. Then turn around when you see the other side.

Two Bowsers!

While you're flying high above Bowser's chamber, you will be able to get to a second Bowser by flying over the wall on the left and dropping to the other side. This Bowser is identical to the original and will be no more difficult to defeat.

There's another Bowser on the other side of the wall. He's just as strong as the first one.

Musicruise Sound Tests

Three super cool sound tests have been built into this new Ninja thriller. With them, you can sample the music and sound effects of the game without actually playing. After you have reset the game, press and hold Up and Left on the Control Pad and the A, B and Select Buttons. Then press the Start Button and the Title Screen will appear. While continuing to hold the other buttons, press the Start Button again immediately. A drawing of Ryu like you've never seen him before will slide onto the screen with the message, "NINJA II MUSIC 00." Change the music number by pressing Left or Right on the Control Pad. Start the music by pressing the B Button and stop the music by pressing the A Button. That's the first sound test.

Press and hold Up, Left, A, B and Select. Then press Start once so the Title Screen will appear and press Start again for the sound test.

To access the second sound test, press and hold Up and Left on the Control Pad and the A, B and Select Buttons as before. Then press the Start Button for the Title Screen to appear. While still holding the other buttons, wait for the Title Screen to fade and press the Start Button again while the screen is temporarily blank. The Title Screen will reappear. Immediately, press the Start Button again and a drawing of Irene will slide onto the screen with the same sound options as before. For the third sound test, press and hold the same buttons as before after resetting the game (Up, Left, A, B and Select) and press Start to bring up the Title Screen. Wait for the Title Screen to fade and press Start again. Then wait for the Title Screen to fade a second time and press Start yet again. When the Title Screen returns, immediately press Start one more time and drawings of both Ryu and Irene will slide onto the screen with the message, MUSICRUISE. This sound test will feature the numbers and titles of the selected pieces, with both music and sound effects from the game and a meter which moves to the sounds selected.

While holding Up, Left, A, B and Select, press Start for the Title Screen to appear. Then let the Title Screen fade and press Start again. Press Start immediately for the Irene sound test to appear or let the Title fade again and press Start twice for MUSICRUISE!

FROM AGENT #333

Add Lives

One curious feature of the password for the second Wizards & Warriors adventure is that it saves both the position of the player and the number of players in reserve. If you don't have two players in reserve when you save your password, just change the fifth character to an "N" and you will.

FROM AGENT # 710 Warp! Warp! Warp!

In last issue's review of this great two-player simultaneous slitherer, we let you know about a quick and easy way to Warp to Level 3. Now we've discovered two more Warps. The Warp we've mentioned before is at the beginning of Level 1. Jump onto the first one-square island. Then jump up and down and use your forked Snake tongue. In seconds the island will open up and let you sink inside. Warp!

The second Warp is also in Level 1. It'll send you straight to Level 8! You'll have to demonstrate some mighty quick slithering for this one. From the beginning, get moving in a straight line to the right. Jump to avoid obstacles but don't zig or zag. If you get to the area near the end of the level with 96 Snake Seconds, or more, remaining, you'll see a Warp Rocket. Jump for it before it goes skyward and you may just be able to blast off to an advanced round of Snake Rattle 'N Rollin'. Warp!

If you prefer not to skip all of the Levels, you can Warp from Level 3 to Level 5. At the beginning of Level 3, start moving to the left. Just after you slither through a narrow aisle riddled with Bladez, you'll come to an open area with two Nibbley Pibble Dispensers. Above the Dispensers there's a Pibble Lid that is very difficult to reach. If you can get to it and open it up, you'll Warp to Level 5. Open the Pibble Lid to the right and grab the Speed Up. Then jump to the platform (1) left of the leftmost Dispenser. Next leap to the right, aiming for the platform (2) just right of that Dispenser and open the Pibble Lid to cash in on a Clock. The most challenging jump comes next, onto the platform (3) which is to the right of the rightmost Dispenser. Finally, jump left up to the platform (4) to the Pibble Lid. Warp!

DOUBLE DRAGON

FROM AGENT #909

Trade Punches

Teamwork is key in a new street fighting strategy our Agents have developed. With this maneuver, you and a partner can fight to the very end without ever losing a character. Choose a two-player game where the fighters can cause damage to each other (2P Play B) and, while you're playing, keep an eye on your partner's Life Meter. When your partner reaches a critical level, punch his or her character until it has been defeated. This way, you will earn the life that your partner loses. When the area is clear of enemies, let your partner defeat your player and reclaim his or her life. Keep trading lives and you'll never see "Game Over" again.

Start a two-player (2P Play B) game.

When your partner is low on life, defeat him.

Clear out the enemies.

Let your partner defeat your player and reclaim the lost life.

Here's a corrected reprint of the Double Dragon II continue codes. When the game is over, key in the code for the appropriate stage and wait for the "Continue" message to appear.

FROM AGENT # 710

Unlimited Wizards

In your search through Kastlerock, for the mystical staff, you'll come across many life threatening predicaments. In some rooms of the castle, you may expend dozens of lives before you can master all of the many dangers and obstacles. For that reason, our Agents have conjured up a code that will give you an uncountable number of Wizard lives. At any point in the game, press the Select Button to go to the Subscreen and press the Start Button and B Button in the following sequence:

B, Start, Start, B, B, Start, Start, B, B, Start, Start, Start, B, Start, B, Start, Start, Start, B, Start, B, Start, Start, B, Start, Start, B, B, Start, B, Start

As soon as the sequence is entered correctly, the screen will flash. The number of lives in reserve will not immediately appear to change but, when you press the Select Button to resume the game and press Select again to go to the Subscreen, there will be B Hats of Life on the screen which will not disappear as you lose Wizards. If, at some point, your supply of lives in reserve begins to deplete, you can easily enter the code again. This code will also fill your bottles of Potion. Use it any time to replenish your supply.

Press the Select Button to enter the Subscreen. Then enter the code shown above. The screen will flash. Return to play. Then go back to the Subscreen. Lives and potions will be replenished!

FROM AGENT # 824 Head Start

It's not easy to fight through time and space and defeat the Evil Wizard Sabaron. To help you, our Agents have discovered a way to crack the game's password. With this technique, you can start at the beginning of an advanced chapter, or at the beginning of the game, with extra items and experience. As your password, enter the number of the chapter in which you'd like to start followed with the letter "W". You'll begin at the selected Stage with a high experience level and a long list of items. Even if you select Chapter 1 (with 1W as your password) you'll begin with Level 5 experience and several abilities which you would not normally have at the beginning.

Enter the number of the desired chapter and "W" as your password to start with a high experience level.

Another way to skip to the desired chapter is to enter the letter "W" first and then the number of the chapter. The password won't be accepted with your first attempt, though. If you enter it four times, you will begin in the selected chapter.

Enter "W" and the number of the desired chapter and retry four times. This method gives you lower experience points than the previous method.

This Is The End

The quickest way to get to the end of The Magic of Scheherazade is to enter "END" as your password. Of course, this won't give you any of the satisfaction of actually saving Princess Scheherazade. But, it will give you something more to work for while you continue your quest.

Take a sneak peek at the end of the game.

The activities are limited and the game might not be as deep as the mines you'll be exploring, but the character animation and movement are top-notch.

THUNDERBIRDS

Years ago the Thunderbirds, a puppet family of ace pilots, soared in their own television series. Now, they're back in action, working together against a mad scientist set on destroying Planet Earth. Fans of action shoot-'em-ups with a vertical scrolling screen will like this one.

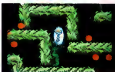

PIPE DREAM

Stop the oozing contents of a plumbing system from spilling by building a network of connecting pipes. Fast thinking and strategy are a must in this quick puzzler.

STREET FIGHTER 2010

As the super athletic Street Fighter, Ken, you must take on a horde of mutants in a futuristic battleground. The action is similar to Capcom's Bionic Commando and Strider.

DESTINY OF AN EMPEROR

Travel back to 18th-Century China in this role-playing adventure focusing on the power struggles of competing Chinese warlords. You are Liu Bei, a descendant of the Han Dynasty. Your goal is to gather an army, gain experience and take on the evil Yellow Scarves, led by Zhang Jiao.

TAKE YOUR BEST SHOT!!

Do you ever wonder how you stack up against other NES players on your favorite games? You can check it out right here in every issue. We'll print the most outstanding scores we receive from our readers. Would you like to see your score in the next issue?

First, we need evidence of your great achievement, so be sure to capture it on film. For best results, use a 35 millimeter camera, turn off all of the lights in the room (make it nice and dark), and don't use a flash. Take a couple of shots, and send us the best one.

Some days do you just know you are going to be hot? Well, when you get that "ain't no stopping me" feeling, follow the Boy Scout motto and "Be Prepared." Get out the camera and make sure there's film in it, so you don't miss a golden opportunity to document your potentially record breaking accomplishment.

We want to hear from as many of you as possible. So, warm up your thumbs, crack your knuckles, rub the sleep out of your eyeballs and get ready to score! Mail your photo, along with a note listing the game, your score, your name and address, to:

 - Keep the shutter open for about 2 seconds.
 - Take several shots, and send us your best one.
- Good Luck, and we hope to hear from you soon!

PAK WATCH

A LOOK INTO THE FUTURE OF NES GAME PAKS!!

While most NES licensees are gearing up for the big holiday gift-giving season and are concentrating on finishing games that we've all known about for a while (at least if you've been reading Pak Watch), we still managed to come up with more details on a few hot new items. We suspect that some companies are keeping the lid on their projects until the Winter CES in January.

"A Nightmare Comes True," is the subtitle of DeJa Vu, the new NES detective thriller from Kemco-Seika. As in Shadowgate, you play the game from the viewpoint of the main character, and the situation facing him (and you) is indeed nightmarish. The mystery begins as you regain consciousness feeling like you've really been put through the ringer. Blood stains your hands and you're in the lavatory stall of a dirty run-down bar. No sooner do you realize that you have no memory of your own identity than you stumble on a dead body in the next room, giving you two mysteries to solve (and that's just for starters).

DeJa Vu's play mechanics are very similar to Shadowgate, which was a big hit with many NES players, and sure generates a lot of calls to Nintendo's Game Play Counselors! In DeJa Vu, you'll have to find and use clues, weapons and other objects to not only discover your own identity, but also solve the murder. In the rough and tumble streets of Las Vegas, you won't find many friends, so look for our future review to get some clues you can use.

Just Around The Corner

MEGA MAN III PAK WATCH

Mega Man is back in action in his biggest adventure yet! Just when you thought the incredible Dr. Wily had been devastated by Mega Man's mighty mechanical power, the twisted scientist has returned with another diabolical scheme. By pretending to join up with Dr. Light, Mega Man's brilliant but glib creator, Dr. Wily has been able to use Mega Man's abilities to create the ultimate robot. All the while, Dr. Light has been under the impression that he has joined forces with Dr. Wily to make a peace-keeping machine but, Wily has had other intentions.

NEW ROBOT ENEMIES! NEW ALIEN WORLDS!

While the plot is complicated, the emphasis is on the action. The game is set up like Mega Man's first 2 adventures where you can select any of the first 8 stages from the beginning and fight to an ultimate battle with the stage leader, earning that enemy's special weapon. There's also a 8

Stage battle inside Dr. Wily's new hideout and, this time, there are 4 extra stages between the first 8 and the ultimate goal.

This is where Mega Man will battle the 8 foes from his last adventure, 2 per stage. Once again, the fun comes from watching the new robot creations and figuring out how to beat them.

Dr. Wily is waiting!

Dr. Wily isn't the only one that's been busy. Mega Man has undergone some improvements, too. He now has the ability to slide into tight areas with a quick move.

Slide under light spots.

Mega Man also has a new best friend this time around. Rush the Robodog is Dr. Light's latest invention. He helps Mega Man with three special skills. He can be used as a springboard, an underwater vehicle, and a hover-pooch for in-the-air maneuverability. Rush's powers will come in very handy once Mega Man enters Dr. Wily's headquarters.

Rush the Robodog springs into action.

Fly the not so friendly Skies with rocket Rush.

Take all the fun from Mega Man's first two games, add new robot creations and more stages and you've got a great new adventure that every Mega Man fan is going to go for!

THE SIMPSONS

We recently got a chance to play an early version of Acclaim's upcoming NES release, The Simpsons. In it, Bart Simpson must convince his family and the people of his hometown that aliens, disguised as humans, are in their midst. On his way around town, Bart will collect useful items such as spray paint, skateboards and money to help him on his way. Some of the outrageous obstacles Bart tackles include an amusement park complete with carnival-style games, and a museum full of dangerous exhibits. Programming on the game is being done by Absolute Entertainment. In the development copy we played, we especially liked the animation of Bart's walk, and the detailed background graphics. Bart and family should be hitting your store shelves early next year, but here are a few mondo screen shots to keep you from having a cow until then.

THE SEARCH FOR DOUBLE TROUBLE BEGINS AT YOUTH EXPO '90!

As part of the world premiere of Skate Or Die 2: The Search For Double Trouble, Electronic Arts recently sponsored the National Skateboard Association's "Back To The City Streetstyle and Freestyle Skateboard Competition." The competition, which was part of the September, San Francisco Youth Expo '90, attracted some 70 professional skateboarders and thousands of Bay Area kids.

In addition to promoting the game, the skaters also visited the San Francisco Children's Hospital to sign autographs and bring the competition to those who weren't fortunate enough to actually attend. At the hospital, the pros demonstrated their skills playing Skate Or Die 2 on systems and games donated to the hospital by Electronic Arts and Toys 'R Us. Both Electronic Arts and the National Skateboard Association hope that gestures like this will help dispel the widespread perception of skaters as free-wheeling troublemakers.

Catching some air at the S.F. youth fair.

Fabio Sanchez gets a visit from skate pros Adrian Dainin and Tom Knox.

This ramp looks like trouble to us, but the pros managed it easily.

You'll find the real Double Trouble in Skate Or Die 2.

SKI OR DIE

If you're into cold weather shredding action, Ski Or Die from Ultra, due out this winter, may be just the ticket to lift your spirits. Hit the slopes with your skis or inner tube. Look out for moguls, ravines and other natural objects while avoiding more active threats like Punk Penguins and Beaudacious Polar Bears. It's a great mixture of skiing action and humor.

NINTENDO HAS FUN IN 1991

Nintendo has some interesting games slated for release next year. Although all are set in the present day, each has a unique plot and play mode. Barring any last minute changes of plans, here's what to look for:

EARTH BOUND

Due out in the Fall of 1991 is Earth Bound, an epic adventure with game play like Final Fantasy, but set in the modern world. Baseball bats and psychic (PSI) powers take the place of swords and sorcery. The main character, a kid with latent PSI talents, searches for the truth behind the legend about a mysterious ancestor. Many things will hinder the lad's quest, including poltergeists, giant rats and crazy hippies. Earth Bound (which was released as "Mother" in Japan) features a giant world to explore and tons of puzzles to solve, all with a touch of humor.

SIMCITY

Another of the games we hinted at last issue is the NES version of the home computer mega-hit SimCity, scheduled for Spring release. This city-building simulator is an engrossing strategy game that requires planning and brain power rather than quick reflexes to win. As the mayor of a growing city, you'll try to keep your citizens happy by zoning your city in a productive fashion. You also might find yourself rebuilding after a city crunching disaster such as a giant monster attack, tornado or earthquake. The early NES version we saw played a little different than the P.C. version, but it had all the same options. This is definitely one to check out, especially if you don't have the computer version. Although SimCity is completely different from games like Tetris and Dr. Mario, it has the same qualities that make people play it obsessively, and appeals even to those who don't usually enjoy video games.

SUPER FAMICON

Last August at the Shoshinkai licensee show in Tokyo, this Pak Watcher got his first peek at the Super Famicom and the awesome new Super Mario World from Nintendo. Both the game and the 16 bit system were all you'd expect, and a lot more! In the shots below you can see the great colors and detail, but you can't see the scrolling background screens that give the game a real feeling of depth and motion. Sound great? Yeah, it does that, too. The digital stereo effects and music added a whole new dimension to stomping Koopas. We'll give you more juicy details on Japan's new generation of games real soon.

STARTROPICS

We jumped the gun just a little previewing StarTropics in our May/June issue (see that issue for details). However, it looks like this super island-hopping adventure will be kicking off the Nintendo line-up in early 1991. Join Mike as he searches for his missing uncle, Dr. Jones, with his Island Yo-yo and mini-sub. Sub-C. StarTropics is full of surprises, action and mysteries to solve.

WEIRD HEROES

Everybody knows the big league characters of NES gaming: Mario, Link, Mega Man, Simon Belmont, etc. While these guys bask in the glory, the minor league stars continue to toil along, hoping to one day make it big. Here are four up and coming characters who might have a chance to break into "the show."

SHADOW OF THE NINJA

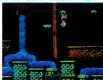

Shadow Of The Ninja, the first offering from new NES licensee Natsume, looks promising. In Shadow Of The Ninja, you and a friend each control two new Ninja warriors (with two-player simultaneous play) and battle your way through a high-tech fortress full of martial arts foemen. With great graphics reminiscent of Sunsoft's Batman, and fairly challenging game play, Shadow is a bright spot on the NES horizon. Natsume's next game should be a science fiction battle game titled S.C.A.T., which focuses on the action as two space marines blast their way through enemy forces. It too features two-player simultaneous action, and the Natsume trademark—the two space marines, like the Ninjas in Shadow, are a male and female team (a first in video games!).

Co-ed action from Natsume!

KABUKI QUANTUM FIGHTER

Are you into exotic weaponry, but bored with super lasers, bionic assault rifles, and nuclear hand-grenades? Then try Kabuki Quantum Fighter from HAL. The hero of this action game (we call him Kabuki Man) knows how to kick some tail as well as the best of 'em. But, in grand Kabuki style, he uses his hair to attack enemies!?

Kabuki Quantum Fighter is weird and wild with great graphics and animation.

This guy doesn't let anyone get in his hair!

WEREWOLF

Data East plans to package a full color, 20-page comic book with its new action game, Werewolf. This mini-comic tells the story of the Werewolf warrior hero who is the lone survivor of a world devastated by a mad scientist's mutation chemical. The game follows his fight as he attempts to restore the world to normal and defeat the evil forces of the scientist. The Werewolf hero has three levels of power: Human, Werewolf and Super Wolf. Higher power levels give him better attack force and the ability to scale sheer surfaces.

The Werewolf doesn't just get mad, he gets angry!

CONQUEST OF THE CRYSTAL PALACE

Asmik put their sci-fi thriller Wurm on the back burner in favor of this "side-scrolling" fantasy action game. Highlights include a boy hero, Farron, who can customize his powers and summon his dog, Zap, to help him with the battle. Conquest Of The Crystal Palace has a distinctive Japanese feel to it with dramatic pagoda backgrounds and mythical creatures to overcome. Some of the boss characters are pretty large and are well animated. Wurm, an adventure game that we thought already looked good, is going to be even better once Asmik's developers make some programming adjustments.

SPORTS GAME PAK WATCH ROUND-UP

Attention sports fans!! A great selection of sports games are coming soon for the NES. Whether you're a player or just an enthusiastic fan, you'll find a lot to cheer about. Here's a look at what you can expect in the near future from video stadiums and arenas.

EURO CUP SOCCER, WORLD TROPHY SOCCER AND NINTENDO WORLD CUP

What's a soccer fan to do in the four year lapse between World Cups? Play the world's most popular sport on the NES, with one of this trio of new soccer games. Euro Cup Soccer from Matchbox features a rapid screen scroll and attention to real soccer detail that should appeal to hardcore fans. World Trophy Soccer is a translation of the popular arcade game and is being produced by INTV. Both of these should be out early next year.

Nintendo World Cup, which should be winging its way to stores near you as you read this, is Nintendo's own addition to the soccer craze. It's a humorous and fun-to-play version of the game with characters that look like they stepped out of River City Ransom. Both Euro Cup Soccer and Nintendo World Cup can be played by four players using the Satellite or Four Score! (Look for more on Nintendo World Cup and other four-player games in a special edition Strategy Guide.) Perhaps these games will help prepare the American public for soccer mania when we host the World Cup in 1994.

WWF WRESTLEMANIA CHALLENGE

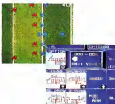

Two players can also beat up on a two-wrestler computer tag team.

Acclaim/LJN announced WWF Wrestlemania Challenge (sequel to Wrestlemania) at the Summer CES, but we recently got some more information on it. WWF Wrestlemania Challenge features a different vantage point on the ring along with a roster of eight wrestlers, including: the Ultimate Warrior, Brutus "The Barber" Beefcake, Ravishing Rick Rude, Big Boss Man, Hacksaw Jim Duggan, Andre The Giant, Randy Savage and Hulk Hogan. You can go at it in or out of the ring, create tag teams of two men or play a "survivor series" with a three-man team.

MIKE DITKA'S BIG PLAY FOOTBALL

Chicago Bear's Head Coach Mike Ditka endorses Accolade's new football NES game. Titled Mike Ditka's Big Play Football, the game makes it simple to throw a pass by freezing the action when you're ready to cut loose. With the inexorable pass rush halted, you can then scan your receivers and select the open man to throw to. Big Play Football lets you play against the computer, against a friend, or with a friend against the computer.

WAYNE GRETZKY'S HOCKEY

If you're a fan of strategy oriented hockey (believe it or not, hockey is more than just "every man for himself" on ice) you might want to check out Wayne Gretzky's Hockey from THQ. Although the men are a little smaller than in Blades Of Steel, more of the ice is shown, giving you a big picture perspective.

GOSSIP GALORE

With our new Now Playing section covering all the most recent releases for the NES, we're free to cover the best of what's a little ways off. Our Pak Watch Planner will cover the best of what's in the "Crystal Ball." As you can see, that's quite a few titles!

DOUBLE DRAGON III

The most popular video martial arts legend ever, Double Dragon, will soon get a third installment in an episode entitled The Rosetta Stone. In this world-spanning adventure, tons of martial arts mayhem awaits the brothers Lee as they search for the three Rosetta Stones and the world's toughest enemy. Double Dragon III is still under development and probably won't be out until next Fall.

THE FLINTSTONES AND THE JETSONS

Hanna-Barbera's famous cartoon families, The Flintstones and The Jetsons, will soon become NES stars in a pair of Game Paks being developed by Taito. The games, which may be the start of a series of titles starring these popular characters, will be tied together by one story line. Although you don't have to have both Game Paks to play, you may find clues for one game in the other. Plus if you play your cards right, you can even make Fred Flintstone meet George Jetson (through a time warp)! Taito is also working on an ice hockey title with smooth animation and an unique interactive coach feature, as well as a NES version of the arcade/Game Boy hit, Qix.

MECH WARRIORS AND ULTIMATE AIR COMBAT

Activision has some hot projects under development. In addition to the Aliens Vs. Predator game we told you about last issue, they are also developing a Mech Warriors game set in FASA's Battletech universe, and an Ultimate Air Combat game flight simulator with advanced features. By the way, Activision is the first American developer of games for the Japanese Super FamiCom! It's good to know that they haven't stopped working on great titles for the American NES.

ROBOCOP 2

RoboCop 2 is under development for the NES by Data East. Although we haven't seen much of it yet, the game's plot will follow the movie closely.

MAGIC OF SCHEHERAZADE 2

Word is that along with its many kung fu oriented titles, CultureBrain is working on a sequel to the fantasy adventure game The Magic Of Scheherazade. We'll keep you posted.

CELEBRITY PROFILE

KADEEM HARDISON

Many a "Starsky And Hutch" fan in the 1970's wanted to be just like the cool crime-fighting duo. So did Kadeem Hardison, better known as the sunglasses flipping Dwayne Wayne on the popular NBC comedy "A Different World." "'Starsky And Hutch' was a trip, man," Kadeem said. "They should make a Nintendo game out of that show. It was great!" As it turns out, however, it was Kadeem's mother who had more influence on his decision to pursue acting than did "Starsky And Hutch."

"When I was little, my mom recognized that I had a natural acting talent and did all she could to encourage me to become an actor," recalled Kadeem. "The first jobs I got were mostly commercials, but it didn't take me long to land a role in an afterschool TV special called The Color Of Friendship. That's when I knew what I wanted to do for the rest of my life."

It was through acting that Kadeem was introduced to Nintendo. During the filming of Spike Lee's "School Daze," Kadeem and his fellow actors played many an inning of Nintendo Baseball while waiting on the set.

A huge fan of Nintendo sports games such as Racket Attack and Tecmo Bowl, Kadeem can't seem to get enough of Super Spike V'Ball. "I was recently a guest on the talk show Live With Regis And Kathie Lee," recalled Kadeem. "They surprised me by bringing out an NES and a Super Spike V'Ball game. Then they pulled this guy out of the audience who just happened to be a Nintendo PowerFest finalist. Man, that guy was good!

He beat me cold."

When it comes to "A Different World," Kadeem is in control the whole way. Now entering its fourth year, the show focuses on the lives of a group of students at Hillman College. Kadeem sees certain similarities between his character on the show and the person he is in real life.

"First of all," said Kadeem, "we're both nice guys and we like to have fun. But the biggest difference is that Dwayne doesn't have time to play Nintendo. He's always too busy talking to girls!" On the set of "A Different World," the fun often starts before the cameras even begin rolling. "When you have a guy like Sinbad on the set, it can get pretty crazy," Kadeem said. "All it takes is one person to encourage him and you get a 45 minute stand-up comedy routine."

Away from the hectic pace of "A Different World," Kadeem likes to play basketball and listen to music. His favorite musicians range from Bruce Springsteen to Run DMC to Theltonius Monk. In fact, at one time, Kadeem wanted to be a drummer but couldn't find enough time to practice.

Eventually, Kadeem would like to write short stories for children as well as write and direct screenplays. But in the meantime, he's not quite ready to give up acting or playing Nintendo.

"I'll guarantee you one thing," Kadeem said. "If I ever see the PowerFest champ who beat me, he'd better watch out. I just cleaned up on Super Spike V'Ball's American Circuit, and I'm ready to take him on...anytime, anyplace!"

Celebrity Game Review—NES Play Action Football

"This is the best game Nintendo has ever made!" said Kadeem when asked for his thoughts on NES Play Action Football. "I haven't gotten to the Power Bowl yet, but I think I've got a good chance with the San Francisco team," he added.

On his personal player roster (and based on a scale of 1 to 5, Kadeem gave the game high marks all around. For Graphics and Sound, he rated NES Play Action Football a 4. On Play Control, Kadeem gave the game a 4, saying, "I would have probably given it a 5, but I had a hard time trying to press the ball." On both Challenge and Theme and Fun, Kadeem awarded the game a resounding 5 on each.

Kadeem had these tips for aspiring coaches: "Call a pass defense as much as possible and defend against the run with your player if you need to. Also, on running plays, sweep to the wide side of the field—you'll get more yardage that way. It's also a good idea to substitute players once their energy level meter begins to flash."

Nintendo

POWERFEST 1990™

Who are the best players in the country? That's a question the Nintendo PowerFest set out to answer as it toured 30 major U.S. cities this year. Of the estimated one million players who attended, only 90 will qualify for an all-expenses paid trip to Orlando, Florida, December 7-9 for the national finals. Head-to-head competition will determine the nation's top three video wizards. Who are these elite players? What makes them so good? How did they handle the pressure of the competition? We caught up with some of these video game wizards to find out.

HIGH SCORE!

Thor Aackerlund
Houston Finalist
Winning score: 1,495,000
Age: 13 1/2

Thor might thunder at the NWC finals. Not content with conquering 112 games and blasting through the semi-final competition in Houston, he's practicing intensely for Orlando, scoring over 1,900,000 points 11 times! As we go to press, his practice score of 2,296,000 is tops in the nation. Although he rarely scores under 1,700,000, he admits that anything can happen. Like other finalists, he lists nervousness as his greatest obstacle. Competing before a huge audience will only intensify the pressure.

WHO'S THE MASTER?

Jason Orlando
Boston Finalist
Winning score: 1,200,000
Age: 15

Is Jason destined for greatness in the city that shares his name? Only the final competition will tell, but judging from his performance so far, he'll be tough to beat. With 1,949,225 points, he held the NWC record for a time, and he even challenged Game Master Howard Phillips....and beat him three times! He's played ever since the NES was first released. For him, becoming a finalist was "a dream come true."

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON

Bruce and Mike Trogdon
Pittsburgh, PA, Finalists
Winning scores: Bruce 659,000
Mike 990,000
Ages: Bruce 34, Mike 10

Bruce and Mike are currently the only father-son finalists. Bruce didn't think he had much of a chance to win against the younger competitors in his over-18 age group, but his experience with arcade classics in years past certainly paid off. His high score for his favorite game, Tetris, is over 450,000. Both Trogdons say that competing first at Cleveland helped them win their finalist spots at Pittsburgh, but Bruce claims that he drew on his own driving experience to cruise through Rad Racer. Let's hope that he doesn't go 255 kph all the time!

PRACTICE PAYS

Jacob Winch
Chicago Finalist
Winning score: 1,050,300
Age: 10

Once Jacob decided to enter the NWC, he got serious about practicing. He set up three televisions, each connected to an NES, to simulate the triple Game Pak. When he was certain that he had the right stuff, he entered the Chicago NWC and sure enough, made the finals on his first try! And Jacob isn't the only talented player in the house—his father reached the final seven in the over-18 age group in Chicago. Jacob's father also appeared on the Oprah Winfrey Show to talk about the Nintendo competition's ability to boost self-esteem and bridge the generation gap.

FIRST FEMALE FINALIST!

Heather Martin
Oklahoma City finalist
Winning score: 535,800
Age: 11

At press time, Heather was the only female finalist. After being beaten in the semi-finals at Dallas, she analyzed her game play, made some improvements, and headed for Oklahoma City and the next NWC. This time, Heather made the finals. She says that it felt "awesome" to beat the boys who didn't think she had a chance! She's honing her game play and looking forward to her first plane trip to Orlando. She's confident that she can win but hopes that the other finalists continue to underestimate her ability. Watch out guys!

YOUNGEST GUN

Nicholas Membrez-Weller
Seattle finalist
Winning Score: 700,000
Age: 7 1/2

At only 7 1/2 years old, Nicholas is the youngest finalist so far. Not discouraged by reaching only the semi-finals in St. Paul, Nicholas attended the Seattle PowerFest and won the city championship for his age group. He feels good about being the youngest finalist, though playing against older players makes him a bit nervous. When he's not playing NES games, he plays tee-ball and studies math.

HOT CONTENDER

Patrick Keesel
St. Paul finalist
Winning Score: 454,000
Age: 29

Patrick, a professional fire fighter from Warren, Michigan, attributes his NWC success to consistency. After being first runner-up in Chicago, he decided to try again at the St. Paul stop. His highest competition score was over 800,000, but he usually scores between 400,000 and 650,000. He's looking forward to the championship challenge and plans to take his wife, Sheri, and daughter, Andrea, to Orlando to share the excitement...and get tani!

CELEB GUEST

Rob Blawie
New York City finalist
Winning score: 968,000
Age: 16

Rob had never played Rad Racer before competing in the NWC, but that didn't stop him from driving away with a finalist's spot. Having his family there helped him relax, and he kept the pressure off in the final rounds by imagining himself in his own living room. In preparation for the finals, he's concentrating on Tetris and has racked up a score of 532,255, easily one of the best Tetris scores we've seen! After winning in NYC, he was asked to appear on the television talk show, "Live With Regis And Kathie Lee," where he tested his expert game play skills with Kadeem Hardison, of "A Different World." (See this issue's Celebrity Profile.)

JUST FOOLIN' AROUND

Richard Wetson
Phoenix finalist
Winning score: 960,000
Age: 22

Having not played a Nintendo game for more than two months, Richard went to the PowerFest just for fun. Now, after reaching the finals, he knows that he has as good a chance as any other finalist to win the championship. Richard suffers from Lupus disease, but hasn't let it slow him down, and his whole family is looking forward the NWC finals. The only thought he'll have while playing, he says, is "Don't Choke!"

LOOK OUT, ORLANDO!

You'll see these and many other great players in the final NWC competition to be held in Orlando, Florida. Who will be the first Nintendo World Champion? Why not come down to Florida and see for yourself. Join in the fun!

NINTENDO CLASSICS REISSUED!

If you didn't buy Mike Tyson's Punch-Out! when it was first released, you're in luck. After making a couple of minor changes, we're producing it again.

When our contract with Mike Tyson expired, we removed his character from the game and shortened the title to Punch-Out! The reissued version still has 13 rounds in minor, major and world circuits, and it features international boxers such as Paton Honda, Glass Joe and Super Macho Man. But this time, all fights lead to a championship bout with the legendary Mr. Dream.

Look for Punch-Out! at a World of Nintendo location near you. If you don't have this classic in your collection, get it while you can. A limited number are being released!

Look for these highlights in the January issue

MEGA MAN III

Mega Man is on his biggest adventure ever and you'll get the inside scoop in a great, big review. Meet Mega Man's mechanical pooch, Rush, and get a glimpse of his latest robotic rivals. Word is that Dr. Wily has gone to the good guy's side, but we'll believe it when we see it. Take a look and see for yourself.

GREMLINS 2: THE NEW BATCH

They're cute, clever, mischievous, intelligent and now they're coming to the NES! Gizmo, the reluctant creator of the nasty Gremlin hordes, has got his hands full with a big batch of them loose in a high tech office building. Give him a hand with maps and strategies.

A young wizard takes on trolls, goblins and more dungeon dwelling creatures in a search for his master, who is trapped at the bottom. This new fantasy adventure features beautiful graphics, cool close-up battle scenes and many mysteries. You'll see it all next issue.

PLUS: Our Regular Round Up of Radical Readings

Dear Readers,

Happy Holidays! Thanks for sending your suggestions and Player's Poll responses. Your ideas have helped us make decisions about the future of the magazine, and now we have a truly big announcement: We're going monthly!

Beginning in January, with your subscription you'll receive 12 issues instead of 6. The extra issues will replace the Strategy Guides. You'll find the same kind of coverage in your regular issues, but now we'll cover more games in depth—more often!

We're committed to reviewing only the best games each month, so every issue will contain complete, specialized info on a few that we recommend highly. We've dropped our shorter review columns like Video Shorts and New Games in favor of bringing you more maps, more tips, and more strategies than ever.

You'll be the first to get the rundown on all new products in "Now Playing," which will list essential information about games released that month. It's a fantastic, quick reference to the world of video games.

You'll still find NES Achievers, Player's Pulse and Top 30—but now you'll get them twice as often. And of course you can count on our regular Player's Polls. We want to hear your opinions, so be sure to complete your card and send it today. Who knows? You might start the New Year as a Player's Poll Winner!
