WALTER G. SMITH - EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 3

Honolulu does well to send $3300 to the Galveston sufferers—well for Galveston and well for itself.

Strikes are after all a healthful sign. Idle labor never strikes; that is the pastime of the employed class.

The September Democratic vote in Maine was the smallest in fifty years but the chances are it will be smaller still in November.

B. F. Dillingham not being here to register Henry Waterhouse will go on the Senatorial ticket in his place. There could be no better substitute.

Bryan often quotes Lincoln but he never shows where the great war President ever advised his countrymen to haul down the flag in annexed territory.

As a greater part of the West came into the Union by the process of "imperialism" it is not surprising that the paramount issue should find hard work to make connections there.

The Maine Republican majority, which exceeds 30,000, is accepted as a sure sign in the East that the masses of the people are as well satisfied with the performance of the McKinley policy as they were in 1896 with its promise.

A lot of money is being spent on sidewalks about Thomas Square while the streets in its vicinity are so full of bumps and other inequalities that wheeling is a detestation and carriage riding a snare. Cement sidewalks are well enough, but they can be dispensed with better than smooth thoroughfares.

If Prince David should miss registration there would be a chance to center all the anti-Wilcox men on one ticket, which ought to have been done in the first place. Wilcox likes nothing better than to have two opponents and if one retires his outlook will be blue indeed. Let us hope that Sam Parker's Waimea cowboys will do their duty by David when they see him.

The tendency to build all American cities of a pattern was the ruin of Galveston, which used the balloon frame house with a prodigality which no town in the hurricane belt can afford. What Galveston needs, if it is to be rebuilt, are houses and stores of brick and stone, no sky-scrapers and a massive, stone-shouldered levee on the waterfront. With these it may even defy a cyclone.

The Advertiser's artist, viewing Mr. Damon's willingness to take any kind of a nomination that will bring him votes, has conceived the idea of an auction where the various political parties come to bid. It cannot be said that the bidding is high; indeed the parties seem to be impressed with the idea that money should come in on the candidate's account and not go out. Even the Democracy is not liberal with its offers, possibly from well-grounded doubts of the party enthusiasm of a man who is at the head of a gold standard bank, is a conscientious believer in trusts—especially landed ones—and as a member of the annexationist provisional government of Hawaii did his level best for what Bryan calls imperialism.

THE DELEGATE WE NEED.

Hawaii needs a Delegate in Congress who can get what it wants in the way of appropriations and organize resistance to any measure that is designed, through reciprocity treaties, to expose our staple products to injurious competition.

If Hawaii is to have a Delegate who is useful in these respects he must be able to command party support. He must be either a Republican or a Democrat. Third party men are usually found in Congress but they are the least useful of representatives. Only in the rare, almost unknown instances where they can, with one vote, give either side a majority, are they able to win anything for their constituents. The Populists never got much for their districts though they were full-fledged members of Congress. A Prohibitionist in either house, or that hybrid politician, a Silver Republican, could do little else than draw his pay. What then could a voteless Delegate from a new Territory, who is neither a Republican nor a Democrat but inimical to both, possibly hope to accomplish? Such a man would be a lay figure, a nonentity. He could get no one interested in Hawaiian matters on party grounds; he could not make an impression on committees; he could not catch the Speaker's eye and get a chance to be heard on the floor; the Departments would have none of him. Given a bad character and bad social relations to such a man and he would have less influence on Congress than an assistant janitor of the Capitol's basement.

The vital interests of Hawaii demand that its Delegate should be a party man. As the chances are best that the Republican party will control the Presidency and Congress for the next four years, common sense urges the choice of a man of the same faith. It is fortunate that the Delegate in the field already has a wide acquaintance with party leaders from the President down; that he is popular, obliging, intelligent and amenable to good counsel and that he knows what Hawaii wants and is not afraid to ask for it. The next best man is Prince David, though his knowledge of things American and political is hardly more impressive than that of John Wile.

But the idea of Wilcox is intolerable. The man is a cheap adventurer who always got those who followed him into trouble; a moral reprobate and a creature of the discarded lobbyist Moreno; the representative of a party whose success would probably lead Congress, on the petition of the business interests of Hawaii, to remodel the suffrage in the line of white sovereignty. To elect him would be to challenge Congress to ignore Hawaii and leave it out of the appropriation bills. The natives would harm themselves as well as their country by choosing such a Delegate; the Delegate himself would only be conspicuous at Washington as a failure.

THE MONTHLY DEATH ROLL.

Deaths from tuberculosis, pneumonia and typhoid fever totaled twenty-eight during September or about 33 1-3 per cent of the aggregate number of deaths from bubonic plague during four months. Tuberculosis accounted for ten, typhoid fever nine and pneumonia eight.

These three maladies are the real plagues of Hawaii, and have carried away more people than all the pestilences, not excluding smallpox, which the medical history of Hawaii records. Tuberculosis is both an importation and an indigenous growth. A great many people in whom the seeds of consumption have been sown come here to get the benefits of what they believe to be an emollient climate and a certain proportion of them succumb to dampness. We also have a great population, native and Asiatic, that knows nothing about the peril of draughts. What these people mistake for common sense teaches them to get into a cool, breezy place when they are perspiring, or to plunge into a stream or the ocean. Naturally they suffer for their temerity and every month shows a long roll of deaths among them from tuberculosis and pneumonia.

Typhoid fever doubtless owes its prevalence to the use of bad water. We have seen a native drink from a stream which receives sewage and a Chinaman send his child with a tumbler to get water to quench his thirst from a flooded rice field. Probably the lack of filters in the storage reservoirs accounts for some typhoidal cases and filthy living for others; but the real cause is the use of impure water for drinking purposes by people who are ignorant of the rudiments of sanitary science.

It seems to the Advertiser that if the principles of sanitation were taught in our public schools much practical good would ensue. There are isms and ologies enough and perhaps too many; but there is not as much instruction in the art of living as the practical importance of the subject deserves. It is of more value to a Hawaiian or Portuguese girl—and to most others for that matter—to learn the laws of health and the rules of housewifery, which includes good cooking, than to acquire any knowledge which is usually imparted to school children above the common grades. A well-kept school of hygiene, domestic science and manual training would be worth supporting at public expense as a department of the regular educational system; being vastly more useful to the common run of pupils than a school of drawing, music or any of the decorative sciences.

In the meantime there can be little hope of an amelioration of our death rate as the native and Asiatic population is wedded to its careless modes of life. The best we can do is to head off epidemics; after that, nothing can be better than to teach all school-going youth how to avoid the obvious agencies of disease.

How do Mr. Damon and his wealthy Democratic confederates stand on these issues which call for Legislative attention?

A reform in the land laws to encourage the homesteading of small tracts at the expense of long leases of large ones?

A reform in the fishing laws that will abolish the small net abuse by which Konohiki profit and good fishing is destroyed?

A modern usury law? We should like to know how they stand but they needn't all speak at once.

New York does not really get the benefit of its natural population; if it did, the census would credit that city with more than 4,000,000 people. Geographically the New Jersey cities, which are separated from New York by the Hudson river are as much a part of it as Brooklyn, which is separated from the parent town by the East river. It was practicable to take Brooklyn in because it belonged in New York State; but a municipal charter cannot cross State lines and as a result the Jersey side of the American metropolis cannot be counted as a part of it.

The allied troops did not teach the Chinese any lessons in humanity whatever they may have taught them in discretion. At Tien-tsin and elsewhere the conduct of the Russians was murderous; and we notice that even the Americans have so much loot that General Chaffee is hesitating whether to burn it or sell it at auction. The memory of babes tossed on bayonets and householders robbed of their little savings by so-called Christian troops will not tend to reconcile the Chinese to missionary teachings.

In coming out for Bryan Richard Olney is consistent with his own foreign policy and inconsistent with his financial principles. Weighing the two issues of "imperialism" and silver, Mr. Olney chooses silver as the least of two evils. To a Republican mind "imperialism" seems a much less tangible danger than 16 to 1, but Olney thinks otherwise and of course has a right to his opinion. It is noticeable that his former chief, Mr. Cleveland, is still in doubt.

If Bryan did not want the United States to take the Philippines why did he urge the ratification of the Spanish treaty which ceded them to us? It was his advice to Senator Jones which saved the treaty by one vote. Hence if taking the Philippines is "imperialism" who is to blame but the Presidential candidate of the anti-imperialists?

OF CURRENT INTEREST.

H. E. Huntington.

The sycophants and boosters have already discovered in H. E. Huntington the ablest railroad magnate of the age, gossiping Victor Smith, in the New York Press, a greater man in every way than Uncle Collis Pacific, and one who will cause the memory of the old Forty-niner to look like the much vaunted was a stranger to the world. So much for prospects of heirship and succession. Like molasses, they catch flies. "Twelve years ago I knew H. E. Huntington as vice president and general manager of the Kentucky Central Railroad, an affair of 250 miles, since 1890 the property of the Louisville & Nashville system. He was under the discipline of his uncle's brother in law, Mr. I. E. Gates, president, and his education in railroad was there completed. When his road was sold he became first assistant to the president of the Southern Pacific, and carried about in his pocket a collection of blank passes that was the envy of the railroad world. If friends wanted to go across the country all that H. E. had to do was to fill up the blank and sign his name. The latter was honored everywhere."

Bocklin's Bad Break.

Hans Bocklin, the second son of the great German painter, Arnold Bocklin, recently stabbed at Zurich a young woman named Rosine Vaterlaus, whose lover he had been for ten years. The motive was jealousy. Bocklin is thirty-four years of age and a painter. His father, who lives in Rome, declares his son is irresponsible. As a child he showed wonderful talent for drawing so that his father said: "If I had Hans' talent for drawing I should have been a much better artist than I am." At sixteen he was a good landscape painter, and was sent to Brussels and Paris to study. He came back a complete wreck. He was confined for awhile in a Zurich asylum, and after his release, took to drink. The girl may recover.

Venerable Veteran Awheel.

James A. Rappe, of Marinette, Wis., a veteran of three wars, rode a bicycle to Chicago to attend the G. A. R. national encampment. He is just eighty-four years old, and fought in the Seminole, Mexican and civil wars. Last year he rode his bicycle from Marinette to Philadelphia to attend the encampment. He made the 1,200 mile trip with apparent ease, and, although he was run over by a wagon after his arrival in Philadelphia, and had an arm broken and other injuries, he returned home in good condition and determined to make another long bicycle journey this year.

Only One Left.

An interesting and puzzling sight greets the visitor to Mount Moriah cemetery, Philadelphia. Some twenty years ago three eccentric men of wealth put up in the most secluded corner three tall shafts of rough-hewn granite. They had been friends a long time and they agreed that as each died his shaft was to be broken and the fragments left where they fell. The second of this trio has just passed away and his column has been shattered, as was that of his former friend years ago. No fence encloses the strange monuments, and no names are carved on the granite.

Our "Brown Brothers" at Ann Arbor.

Our island possessions will be well represented among the students at the University of Michigan. Thus far one Cuban and several Porto Ricans are registered for the coming semester, and last week three Filipinos arrived. The student body of the International Club of Manila, and were successful candidates in a competitive examination for scholarships in this country. Four Filipinos have already been sent to this country by the club, one entering the University of California, while three came to Ann Arbor through the influence of Commissioner Worcester.

Great Greater New York.

There has been an increase in the inhabitants of the territory covered by the present limits of New York during the decade of no less than 944,611, or 37.99 per cent, which is a pretty lively growth. These figures (3,437,202) leave New York the second city in the world, with much to spare, but still far behind London. The last census of the British metropolis shows that in London itself there are 4,633,018 inhabitants, while the dwellers in the metropolitan district number 6,650,000. Paris has a population of 2,676,963 and Berlin 1,787,931.

A Wisconsin "Conventioner."

Judge Elisha W. Keyes, of Madison, has attended every Whig and Republican State convention held in Wisconsin since 1850. The first Republican convention was held September 5, 1855, and was, he says, largely political organization, which had a slate for every nomination and was successful in the nominations for governor and lieutenant governor. The governor was the only candidate elected, and he was counted out by the board of canvassers, but was seated by the supreme court of the State.

The Trap "Worked."

For some time Isaac Mulford, a farmer living near Bridgeton, N. J., has been missing chickens, so he set a man trap without letting the family know. His son, Alfred, stayed out late the other evening, and while slipping up to the house, was caught in the trap. Fearing a dressing down from his father for staying out so late the young man stayed there all night. His martyrdom was in vain, for the first person to see him next morning was his father.

No Frills on Francis Joseph.

The Emperor of Austria is one of the most democratic of sovereigns so far as his own personality is concerned. When in a city in other than his official capacity he insists on walking about a great deal, and has thus made many friends who have to this day no idea that he is the ruler of the Austrian empire.

Mark Twain's Censor.

Mrs. Clemens plays a very important part in her husband's (Mark Twain) literary life. All that he writes passes under her severe censorship; she is the most acute critic, and if there is anything in what he has written which does not meet with her entire approval it goes straightway to the waste basket or is held back for revision.

"Bobs" Was There.

An orderly in South Africa who happened not to know the commander in chief, for whom he was bearing a dispatch, asked another orderly in a loud voice, "Where's 'Bobs'?" In reply the cheery voice of Lord Roberts answered: "Here I am, my lad. What can I do for you?"

Must Have Been High Rollers.

As recently related, two Viennese named Enzemann and Trebische started on a wager of 5,000 francs to roll a wine barrel from the Austrian capital to Paris. They have arrived ahead of the stipulated time, thus winning the money.

SUPREME COURT SETTLES QUESTION OF RESIDENCE

Must Have Lived
In Hawaii One
Year.

MALIHINIS CAN
NOT VOTE NOW

Decision in the Loucks Case Crushes Hopes of the Newcomers.

To vote at the coming election one must have resided in Hawaii for a year before the time of registering. So decided the Supreme Court yesterday and the matter which has been so much agitated of late is definitely settled.

The decision came in the case brought by Frank Loucks against the Board of Registration to compel the Board to register him despite the fact that he had been in the Islands less than a year. Loucks contended that according to Section 1859 of the Revised Statutes of the United States all American citizens who were in the Territory at the time of its organization had the right to vote at the first election. Lorrin Andrews who presented the case for the Board held that Section 60 of the Organic Act must be held to be in force despite the terms of the old statute and that where they conflict that Section 60 should control as it was passed with the view of meeting the particular needs of this Territory.

The decision is important as it involves the question of the right to vote of all American citizens who have been in the Islands since June 14th last.
The opinion quotes the language of the Organic Act wherein it provides for registration of all voters and that they must have been in the Islands for at least a year before registering. The section of the Revised Statutes under which the contention is made that all Americans could vote is also quoted and then the opinion says:

"The Organic Act covers the entire subject of elections in Hawaii in minute detail. If there is anything clear from the whole act, it is that Congress meant to provide for the election of members of the Territorial legislature.
There is nothing whatever in the act itself to indicate that Section 60 was not intended to apply to the first election. On the contrary if Section 1859 of the Revised Statutes should be held to apply it would be necessary to hold that not only Section 60 but other sections such as Section 18 which provides that persons convicted of certain criminal offenses and certain other persons shall neither vote nor hold office under this government do not apply to the first election, although there is nothing in those sections to so indicate and Section 104 expressly provides that they shall take effect within 45 days after their approval.

"On the other hand Section 1859 may be satisfactorily explained consistently with this view. That section was intended to provide for Territories created where there was previously no local government or provision for elections and where Congress intended to leave it to the people of the Territory to enact their own election laws. . . .
Hawaii had already a local government with a system of election laws. These laws were for the most part substantially reenacted by Congress in the Organic Act. Congress did not intend to leave it to the local legislature to determine the qualifications of voters after the first election and there was no necessity for its providing the qualifications for the first election, that is, before the local legislature could have an opportunity to so provide itself. On account of peculiar conditions here Congress deemed it best to prescribe itself the qualifications of voters at all elections.

The court goes on to hold that the Organic Act is a later and more particular statute than the one relied on in the Revised Statutes and hence it should control.

Going on the court says: "Special emphasis is laid upon the requirement of Section 60 that the applicant must have resided in the Territory not less than one year. It is contended that this not mean the Hawaiian Islands but that it can only mean the Territory" strictly speaking and that since the Territory was not established until the 14th of last June, no one could under this section vote at the first election which is to be held in November next,
and that therefore Congress must have intended that Section 1859 should apply to the first election. It may be conceded that it would have been more appropriate to have said 'Hawaiian Islands' here than 'Territory' and that in most other section of the Act the words
'Hawaiian Islands' and 'Territory' are used appropriately. . . . But the word 'Territory' is used in the Act with reference to the Islands rather than the government and 'Territory,' 'Hawaii,' and 'Hawaiian Islands' are used interchangeably to some extent, and it would it would be very natural to interpret 'Territory' where 'Hawaiian Islands' would be more appropriate, the attention for the time not being directed, especially to the circumstances of any particular election. No uniformity is found in the Act in the use of these terms.

"It is clear from a consideration of the Organic Act as compared with the chapter of the Revised Statutes referred to, that Section 60 of the former and not Section 1859 of the latter was intended to apply. Section 60 should, therefore, if possible, be so construed as to apply. The word 'Territory' might very naturally have been used as meaning the territory or islands making up the Territory and not with any special reference to the time when a territorial government was established here, the attention not having been especially directed to the circumstances of any particular election, and all elections to take place only after the establishment of the territorial government. In our opinion the clear intention may be given effect consisten-ly with the language of Section 60 and therefore should be given effect. The appeal is dismissed and the decision of the Board of Registration refusing to register the name of the applicant is affirmed."

The opinion was written by Chief Justice W. F. Frear and concurred in by Justices Galbraith and Perry.

REPUBLICANS AT KAILUA.

How the Second District Made its Nominations on Hawaii.

The Republican convention of the Second District was held in Kailua, Hawaii, on the 29th day of September, 1900.

There were twenty-four members present.

H. L. Holstein and J. D. Paris were unanimously nominated for the Senate, and the secretary was instructed to cast the ballots for endorsing the candidates for the Representative. When the nominations for the Representative candidates were in order, the following names were proposed: C. K. Stillman, E. A. Fraser, J. C. Lenhart, W. J.
Wright, G. P. Kamaooha, J. H. S. Martin and J. Monsarrat. A vote by ballot was adopted to decide the matter, and after the ballots were counted the chairman announced the following as the nominees: E. A. Fraser, J. C. Lenhart, G. P. Kamaooha and J. Monsar-rat. Speeches by the candidates followed the nominations, and before the motion of adjournment was put in order a resolution endorsing the candidates for Senators passed by the First District was adopted.

Mr. H. L. Holstein writes as follows:
"We had a very successful meeting,
and from the enthusiasm shown so far,
it is a foregone conclusion that the Republican ticket will win hands down."

Holstein made the following forcible speech after his nomination:

"Fellow Delegates—You have conferred on me a great honor in nominating me as one of your candidates for the Senate. I am deeply indebted to Hawaiian born to be an American citizen, prouder to be a Republican, and when you have unanimously selected me as one of your standard bearers, you cannot realize nor can I express the gratitude which I feel towards you for having conferred this honor on me.
I can only say to you in the simplest phrase, I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

"The coming issue is not one of merely partisan importance. For the election of good men to the Legislature, honest Republicans can rightly ask all independent and public spirited citizens to unite with them. To put up a good Legislature it will be necessary that every good citizen do his whole political duty. No man should shrink from
it. Those who have not yet joined the Republican club of this district should attend to that duty. The victory is not going to be won by the talking of honest politics on the street corners, but by getting out and working for it. I would be pleased, fellow delegates, to receive a message from you on election day, that the Second District has joined her sisters in overwhelmingly voting the Republican ticket."

"The ticket you have framed of both Senators and Representatives is bound to win. They are men endowed with all the qualifications necessary as legislators, the majority having had practical experience in the legislative halls in the days gone by. The people will certainly vote for men who are qualified, experienced, and who have the confidence of the business community of the country, rather than for those who are running for the office solely upon the ground of opposing the party who helped them to get the political advantages they now enjoy. The platform is before us, promulgated by your representatives in the convention of the 24th instant.

"It will be my duty to support each and every plank in that document, and while we return home to our respective districts to work for the ticket, let us not be unmindful of the fact that the earnest prayer of all loyal Americans in Hawaii is 'God speed the Republican party, and bless its candidate to Congress.'"

BOB WILCOX BACK FROM STUMPING

He Concedes the Election of H. P. Baldwin on the Island of Maui.

Bob Wilcox and D. Kalaokalani returned yesterday morning by the Maui Loa from their stumping trip on Molokai. During their absence they visited Kaunakakai, Kailua and Ha-lawa. Early last Saturday morning Bob, Kalaokalani and Wilson White boarded a sloop named Volante at Halawa and sailed for Kailua. They reached their destination at 11:45 o'clock a. m. and tied their boat alongside the wharf. At 12 m. the stump-ing of the Home Rule leaders began.
The fight of the day was opened by D.
Kalaokalani, who spoke for an hour,
followed by William White and Bob Wilcox. Wilcox said yesterday: "We had a large and a very enthusiastic attendance at Kailua. The meeting was closed with one of the old songs about me and Hawaii. Leaving the leper settlement we started for Lahaina, fully convinced that the Independents will carry the day at Molokai.
Then the fun came. There was no wind, and we were almost two days on our way to Lahaina. On Sunday evening at 9 o'clock, we reached Halawa, and a half hour later we left there for Lahaina. We arrived at Honolulu early Monday morning. We telephoned for a carriage from there, and soon we were at Lahaina proper. The Independent party is strong at Lahaina."

On being asked about the prospects of the Republican party, Wilcox said:
"It is almost an assured fact that H. P.
Baldwin will be elected. The Republican party is pretty strong at Wailuku
and East Maui."
When asked about the Independent Democratic trouble in Wailuku, Bob continued: "The Democrats are trying to get a fusion, but it is impossible for them to do it. They have taken some of our candidates and it is likely they will put up a new slate altogether. The central committee has the matter in hand now. The Democrats have no show on Maui."

When asked about his prospects for Congress, Wilcox said: "I think I will be strongly supported by the inhabitants of the leper island and the Mauians."

Steamboat Is Not Right Kind Of Life.

TARS MUST LIVE
ASHORE TO VOTE

The Inter-Island Sailors Will Cast
no Ballots in Election
This Fall.

Sailors on the boats plying between Honolulu and the other Islands of the group will not be allowed to vote at the coming election, according to an opinion handed down by the Supreme Court yesterday. According to this a sailor who has no home but his cabin on the steamer on which he is employed is completely disfranchised and cannot vote anywhere.

The question was brought before the court in the case of Joseph Irving. Irving was a sailor on the steamer Iwalani plying between this port and other Islands of the group. He lived on the boat and her permanent berth was at the Inter-Island wharf in the harbor.
Irving asked to be registered last week but was refused because he had no permanent place of abode in the Sixth precinct, in which he claimed residence.

"For the purpose of this case," the Court says, "it is not necessary to determine whether 'residence' as used in Section 60 of the Organic Act is equivalent to domicile. However from the authorities we do reach the conclusion that a house of brick or of stone or even of wood is not essential to enable one to become a resident of a precinct and a qualified voter therein.

"He might live in a tent, in a grass hut out in the open canopy by the 'silent stars.' But there must be some definite and permanent place designated and occupied in order to entitle one to clothe the same with the rights and privileges surrounding the residence or domicile of a freeman. Clearly one could not reside in a wagon or building on wheels and move the same from precinct to precinct and establish a residence in any voting precinct unless his wagon or place of abode remained in the precinct the length of time required by law.

"The record shows that the residence of the appellant for the past seven months has been on the steamer Iwalani, in a 'fixed and permanent room,' that this steamer is engaged in the inter-island trade, her home port is Honolulu and when here she is docked at a wharf in the harbor designated as one of the boundaries of the Sixth precinct.
It is clear from this statement that when the 'Iwalani' goes to Lahaina or some other port that the 'fixed and permanent room,' the residence of the appellant aboard the steamer goes also,
and that his residence during the time the steamer is away is not at Honolulu and within the Sixth precinct as claimed."

Several decisions are quoted by the court which are in point, whereby it is held that a seaman retains his domicile of origin although he is regularly employed on a steamer unless by actual residence he acquires a domicile elsewhere, and that residence upon a steamer has none of the characteristics of a fixed or permanent abode. The court therefore holds that "the contention of the appellant cannot be maintained for the reason that he has not established a voting residence in the precinct." The appeal is dismissed with costs. The opinion is written by Justice Galbraith and concurred in by Chief Justice Frear and Justice Perry.

NEW ROAD AROUND DIAMOND HEAD

To Start From Kapiolani Park and Make Circuit of the Crater.

Surveys are to be begun at once under the direction of the Public Works Department to complete the projected boulevard around Diamond Head crater, and it is hoped that it will not be long before this fine new roadway will be added to Honolulu's boulevard system.

The new road will start from Kapiolani
Park and follow the general line of the road which leads to the Diamond Head lighthouse. It will not run to the lighthouse, however, but will keep lower down toward the beach, and will skirt the base of the crater, keeping about twelve to fifteen feet above the beach all the way. After passing Diamond Head it will continue in the rear of the little colony of cottages along the beach and will sweep around,
touching the edge of the Kaimuki tract,
and will return to the rear of Kapiolani Park, coming into the park near the Kapiolani road in all likelihood.
This will make a fine circuit giving beautiful views of the sea, of the mountains and of the city. It will be some time before the new road will be completed, Superintendent McCandless said yesterday.

To be Tried for Riot.

Chester Doyle left yesterday on the Kinu to charge of twelve Japanese who are to be tried by Judge Edings in the Fourth Circuit Court for being involved in the "contract riots" at Kailua, Hawaii. The men were brought to Honolulu some time ago for safe keeping during the interval between their commitment and trial.

A typhoon kept the American Maru back one day on her trip from Hongkong to Honolulu. The American Maru, which arrived here yesterday afternoon, was to have left Hongkong on September 11th. A fierce typhoon from the Southwest, however, rendered it necessary for the big vessel to wait until the 13th. All during the two preceding days the storm raged outside while the Maru waited in port until it should subside. On the run from Amoy to Shanghai the steamship weathered the fog end of another typhoon. Very little inconvenience was experienced by those aboard. The finest of weather was enjoyed during the rest of the journey to this port.

Besides bringing two cabin passengers, two in the European steerage and twenty-five in the Asiatic steerage for Honolulu, the America Maru has, for San Francisco, six European steerage, ninety-nine Asiatic steerage and the following cabin passengers:

Mr. H. Olin Cady, Mrs. H. Olin Cady and child, Mrs. Goodrich and 3 children, Dr. F. W. Haker, Mr. S. H. Knowles, Mr. F. B. Morse, Mr. K. Nakrasin, Mr. M. Nitta, Mr. L. Rosenthal, Mr. L. Rosenthal and child, Mr. R. S. Keel, Mrs. R. S. Keel, Capt. R. E. Walker, Mrs. A. E. Walker and child, Mr. O. K. Davis, Lieut. Dolgoroukoff, Rev. F. D. Gamewell, Mrs. F. D. Gamewell, Mr. J. H. Greefken, Mr. K. Kamio, Rev. J. A. Miller, Mrs. J. A. Miller and 3 children, Miss K. L. Ogborn, Comdr. R. P. Rogers, U. S. A., Mr. K. Ushijima, Mrs. K. Ushijima, Mrs. Van Namee and child, Mrs. G. T. Williams, Mr. J. D. York, Mrs. J. D. York.

The following are missionaries going home from China: Mr. and Mrs. H. Olin Cady and child, Mrs. Goodrich and three children, Rev. and Mrs. F. D. Gamewell, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Miller and three children and Miss K. L. Ogborn. The America Maru has $261,000 in her treasure vault, in transit. She sails for San Francisco at 9 o'clock this morning.

THE MAUNA LOA.

Steamer Mauna Loa arrived early yesterday morning. Her report is as follows: "Cleaned out Honolulu and left 283 bags of sugar at Punaluu. Little rain and smooth weather. There were 4,500 bags of sugar at H. S. Co., and none at P. S. M. No rain and smooth weather. The Mauna Loa touched bottom at Maalaea bay. She backed off without any trouble and, as far as can be learned the steamer has suffered no damage."

She brought the following cargo: 19,250 bags sugar, 39 bags coffee, 63 bundles bananas, 34 kegs butter, 35 bundles hides, 7 bundles tobacco, 6 hogs and 251 packages sundries.

ORIENTAL SHIPPING.

The steamship Bergenhus for Honolulu, San Diego and San Francisco, will leave Yokohama on the 6th instant.

The United States hospital ship Relief arrived at Nagasaki from Taku on September 29th, with 102 invalids, of whom 36 were suffering from dysentery. She will stay at Nagasaki for about a month for repairs, and the sufferers will be sent to San Francisco by another steamer.

The Fukuoka Maru, with over eighty hands of the Mitsubishi shipyard on board, has sailed for Formosa to float the stranded steamer Taichu Maru. It is reported that the steamer has fortunately sustained no damage to her bottom.

It is anticipated that the wintering of the allied armies at Tien-Tsin will increase the activity of the shipping traffic of Japan with North China in the near future, and there are already indications that the freight rates for China will be raised by 20 to 30 per cent before long.

It is rumored that the steamer Nagata Maru, which left Kobe on September 10th for Taku with 500 Japanese transport coolies for the French army on board, has met with an accident in the Gulf of Pechili, with the result that some damage has been done to her hull. The vessel was able, however, to reach Taku safely.

There was a serious disturbance on September 13, on the Dutch bark Pax, which arrived at Tokyo from New York on the 12th. Four German seamen, armed with revolvers and knives, broke into the cabins of the first and second officers, and besides threatening their lives, destroyed everything they could lay their hands upon. The water police, who were at once notified, promptly arrested the offenders and took them ashore.

The following well known people left Yokohama for Australia on the Shinano Maru, last month: Gen. J. M. Bell, U. S. A.; Mrs. Col. S. M. Mills, Miss Bryant, Miss E. Ferord, Miss Shaw, Miss Helen B. Wilson, Mrs. Wardell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Keenan and child, Lieut. W. J. Jolly, S. N.; Capt. R. Beatty, Mr. H. S. Wheeler, Mr. E. W. Nardin, Rev. A. R. Fuller, Mr. Nikolai, Mr. J. Sturche, Mr. J. B. Brown, Mr. T. Miyoshi, Mr. I. Yezaki and Mr. H. Sayeki, in cabin.

The steamer Shinano Maru has been chosen to replace the late of the late founded Futami Maru. She is the largest of the newly built steamers of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, and is of 6,390 tons displacement, and over fifteen knots speed. She is said to have 36 cabins and 285 steerage rooms.

The United States transport California arrived in Manila from San Francisco, says the Japan Gazette, fifteen days overdue in consequence of a breakdown in her machinery. One of the blades of her propeller broke when she was about nine days out from Honolulu, after which she was compelled to lessen her speed and get to Guam as best she could. Within seven days of the breaking of the first blade another blade of the propeller, contiguous to the one first broken, also gave way, and the vessel steamed into Guam harbor, almost a helpless cripple. She was compelled to lie at Guam for the period of fifteen days, while the repairs were being made, and in order to complete this work, 24,000 pieces of cargo had to be shifted from stern to forward, tilting the vessel seventeen feet, sufficient to enable the workmen to get at the broken propeller.

AMERICAN SHIP GREAT ADMIRAL, NOW IN PORT

THE AMERICAN ship Great Admiral, Captain E. R. Sterling, now in port, is a full-rigged ship of about 1,400 tons. She is a vessel of graceful proportions, great strength and excellent sailing qualities. Captain Sterling is her owner, having bought her in 1897. The Captain, though a young man, has been to sea nearly twenty-four years, being master of a vessel for the greater part of that period. He takes his wife and children along with him wherever he goes and the cabins of the Great Admiral present a most comfortable and cozy scene of domestic life. Mrs. Sterling has traveled on the ocean with her husband for many years, is a good sailor and enjoys her life on the briny.

Captain Sterling's first voyage with the Great Admiral was begun in July, 1897, when he sailed from Brooklyn with a general cargo for Rio de Janeiro. Rio was reached in September of the same year and left in October. From Rio the Great Admiral went in ballast around the Cape of Good Hope to Newcastle, where she Captain Sterling was in Manila during the Spanish war and his vessel was the last to leave Manila before the entrance of Admiral Dewey's fleet into the harbor. The Great Admiral was afterwards chased by a Spanish gunboat, while on her way to Hongkong, but cleverly managed to give the enemy the slip under cover of darkness. On arriving at Hongkong, the Great Admiral was detained. York she went into the Newcastle, Honolulu and Coast trade. She has here about this time last year with coal from Newcastle.

Captain and Mrs. Sterling have traveled pretty nearly all over the world, and have friends in all the corners of the earth. The Great Admiral in her career has sailed the world around many times and knows her way in almost all the oceans. The hundreds equals too numerous to mention, gales uncountable, storms by the hundred, hurricanes by the score and a few typhoons to boot. She has blistered her paint in the tropics, refrigerated her rigging where ice is King and felt the varied breezes of the temperate zones. From here the Great Admiral goes to Seattle, in all probability. Captain Sterling expects to sail on Saturday.

With the Change in Tariff

Comes a sweeping reduction in the price of all goods of American manufacture.

We have cut on every piece of jewelry and silverware in the house, and you will be surprised at the great difference from former prices. No fear of comparisons here, where quality and pattern are considerations.

What do you think of full-sized solid silver teaspoons being reduced to $8.00 a dozen, with engraving thrown in, and all articles of silverware reduced in like proportion.

These are by no means catch prices, but regular prices which will prevail here from now on, on all the different lines of goods from the States.

While reducing all our American goods we have not changed the prices on any of our European potteries, glass and chinaware, and although the present cost is forty per cent more than formerly, while out present very large stock lasts we will sell at the old rates. This is a very large saving to you, and we recommend that you make your purchases from these lines now, before an advance becomes necessary.

PLANS OF THE PARTY

Republicans Discuss the Campaign.

PROGRAM IS ARRANGED

Speakers Leave for Hawaii and Maui—James H. Boyd's Good Advice.

The Fifth Republican District held a meeting last evening at Republican headquarters. A large number of Hawaiians were present and to them George R. Carter, president of the Fifth District organization, talked principally. It was a meeting called for the purpose of educating the Hawaiians in the principles of the party and to instruct them as to the manner of doing work in their precincts.

The main business of the evening was the division of the precincts into spans and the appointment of a captain for each, to take charge of the distribution of literature and to arrange meetings in the district. They were also instructed to notify the people when meetings were to take place and also to bring in a census by next Saturday evening of the strength of the Republican party in each span.

FIFTH DISTRICT PROGRAM.

The meeting which was to have been held tonight at Kalihi Church, has been postponed, as the church will not permit the use of the structure for political meetings of any party. The remainder of the political meetings have been re-arranged. The meetings are as follows:

Thursday evening, Oct. 4—Kaula School.
Friday evening, Oct. 5—Reformatory School.
Monday evening, Oct. 8—Kalihi-waena School-house.
Tuesday evening, Oct. 9—Detention camp Kalihi.
Wednesday evening, Oct. 10—Niolapa Church, Wylie street.
Thursday evening, Oct. 11—Moanalua School-house.
Friday evening, Oct. 12—Aala School-house.

FOURTH DISTRICT MEETINGS.

The Fourth District arranged for its meetings on Monday at the Republican headquarters. The list, as made up by T. McCants Stewart and reported to the district committee, was as follows, subject to change:

Thursday, Oct. 4, Waimanalo—Speakers, Jonah Kumalea, Mr. Keiki, Archie Gillilan.
Tonight, Oct. 4, Kamohi Church—Speakers, Wm. Aylett, Cecil Brown, Archie Gillilan, J. H. Boyd.
Friday, Oct. 5, Makiki Reservoir—Speakers, A. G. M. Robertson, Clarence Crabbe, Andrew Brown.
Friday, Oct. 5, 7:30 p. m., Manoa Valley—Speakers, J. H. Boyd, Clarence Crabbe, A. V. Gear, Wm. Aylett, Frank Pahlia.

Saturday, Oct. 6, Waikiki Church, evening—Speakers, Cecil Brown, Clarence Crabbe, Archie Gillilan, T. McCants Stewart.

Monday, Oct. 8, Cycloamer Park, evening—Speakers, Clarence Crabbe, George Carter, Frank Pahlia, Jonah Kumalea, Lorin Andrews.

Tuesday, Oct. 9, H. house lot—Speakers, George R. Carter, T. McCants Stewart, J. L. Kaulukou, L. L. McCandless.

Wednesday, Oct. 10, drill shed—Speakers, Cecil Brown, Clarence Crabbe, A. G. M. Robertson, J. T. Green, Jonah Kumalea.

Friday, Oct. 12, Paoa School-house—Speakers, Wm. Aylett, Mr. Keiki, J. Kumalea, Clarence Crabbe.

Saturday, Oct. 13, Royal School—Speakers, George R. Carter, A. V. Gear, Enoch Johnson, Frank Pahlia, Clarence Crabbe.

Saturday, Oct. 13, Normal School—Speakers, W. C. Achi, W. J. Coelho, Lorin Andrews, Wm. Aylett, Archie Gillilan, J. L. Kaulukou.

MEETING AT LAIE.

On Saturday a large number of speakers of the Republican party will leave for Laie on the morning train. A Mormon quarterly conference will be held there that afternoon from 2 to 4 p. m., after which the speakers have been privileged by the elders to speak to the people. As the Mormon conference will include all most every one in the district, the Republicans expect a large attendance. The speakers for this meeting have not yet been chosen, but Henry Waterhouse will be asked to make the trip with a number of others, principally from the Fifth District.

SPELLBINDERS SELECTED.

The following speakers were sent out by the Executive Committee of the Republican party yesterday to Maui and Hawaii:

For Hawaii—W. C. Achi and W. J. Coelho. These accompanied Samuel Parker on his initial tour of Hawaii for the Republican ticket. They went on the Kinau. For Maui—Enoch Johnson, L. W. T. Kanaelli and Rev. S. Kapu. They went by the steamer Maui.

On Hawaii the campaign will be opened at Hilo. On Maui they will first speak at Hana and close at Lahaina.

BOYD SAYS "WORK"

At the joint session of the Fourth and Fifth Districts, held yesterday afternoon at Republican headquarters, James H. Boyd, the chairman, expressed his opinion as to what work for the campaign consisted of. He is himself the embodiment of political activity. He emphasized his feelings in the matter and told the members of the committees to put their shoulders to the wheel and work with those who have already done more than their share.

"The campaign work has begun," said he. "I hope every delegate and every man will put his energies into this work and carry it on. Don't let a few men do all the running around. Our ticket is a strong one. But to assure its election we have all got to work for it. Every delegate should make frequent visits to headquarters and ascertain how affairs are moving, and if there is anything to be done in his district—get out and do it. Don't wait for some one else to do it. There has been some slack work lately. I hope you will all turn in and help." George R. Carter was of the same opinion. "If we all have the spirit of work which Boyd has we will be sure to win this election," he said.

RALLY TONIGHT.

The Republicans of the Second Precinct, Fourth District, will hold a big meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at "The Tent," corner of Piikoi and Kinau streets. Speeches will be made by the candidates and others.

PUSH BUTTONS THE CAUSE OF ABSENCE

THE WHEREFORE of the departure of Mr. Lloyd M. Robbins, the erstwhile assistant to the Deputy Attorney General and general law clerk to Attorney General Dole, has been solved. The mystery of his sudden determination to leave the fair shores of Hawaii and a fat billet in the Government has been explained. Electric push buttons were the cause.

Mr. Robbins is fresh from a law college. He came to Honolulu on pleasure bent, for study and recreation. He ran across a job at the Government building, no less a position than that of assisting an Attorney General in arguing cases in court and so forth. He had progressive ideas. His office had a fine desk. He had a telephone, nickel-plated and bright, and a number of push buttons, that his office would be modern in every respect and fit to live in during the droning hours which the law clerk must put in for the benefit of his chief. One push button was to call a clerk. Another would summon a stenographer. In fact, all Mr. Robbins had to do beside yawning over his work, was to push a button, and lo! as if by magic this or that person was at his side awaiting his commands. This was ideal.

The electric light man came and put in a handsome electric bulb. The telephone man installed a pretty 'phone which could be moved about at will. An electrician put in a row of pretty pearl push buttons. Mr. Robbins smoked his cigars leisurely and began to take life easily.

One day, not more than a week ago, his chief entered the office during the young lawyer's absence. He saw the wires on the wall. He traced them up and found they entered the desk. Mr. Robbins came. His desk was opened. "What is this button for?" inquired the chief nervously. "Oh, that calls a clerk," was the careless answer. "And this?" "That is for the stenographer."

"Who put them in?" "Oh, I've made a year's contract for all these things." That was all. Zip! Bang! Rip! Down came the wires from the wall. The telephone company was told to take out the 'phone, the electric company the light, the electrician the buttons.

The next day Mr. Robbins severed his connection with the Department. Two days later he continued his pleasure trip to the Orient.

ert, and music will form a special feature of the entertainment.

INTERPRETER FOR COMMITTEE.

George Sheldon may be appointed interpreter for the Republican campaign committee. His name has been handed in to the Executive Committee for consideration.

The Republicans will hold a rally tomorrow afternoon at Puuloa, and another in the evening at Alaka.

MUST DO TIME ON ALCATRAZ ISLAND

Two Soldiers Who Deserted the Army, Prisoners on the Australia.

Two United States military prisoners, handcuffed by the wrists and guarded by a non-commissioned officer and a private, fully armed, were taken from the guardhouse at Camp McKinley yesterday afternoon, and aboard the Australia. Upon arrival in San Francisco the sergeant will take his prisoners to the Presidio and hand them over to the commanding officer.

One of them was John W. Hart, a soldier of the Sixth Artillery. He deserted his battalion some time ago, donned citizens' clothes and went to Wailua plantation where he obtained employment as a luna. A few weeks since he came to Honolulu and took up quarters in the Sailors' Home. He intended leaving for the Coast, and remained in the home to prevent detection. Officer Hanrahan caught sight of him and watched his movements. At 11 o'clock one night the officer went to the home, found Hart in bed, waked him up, and made him a prisoner. The next day he was sent to Camp McKinley, and now has a sentence of two years' imprisonment hanging over him.

HAWAII IS MUSIC SAD

Kappelmeister Berger
Gone.

SAILS ON THE AUSTRALIA

The Ever-Faithful Bandsmen Blow
Their Famous Leader
To Sea.

Berger's gone—our Kappelmeister,
And are heard around the town
Sounds of grief and lamentation
That his baton of renown
Will not wake the voice of music
Till four weary weeks have flown.

Emma Square and that of Thomas,
Likewise Island of Makee,
Till your merry men you summon
Naught will know of rhythmic glee,
All their glory has departed
With your matchless harmony.

We shall miss those moonlight concerts
Underneath the greenwood tree,
Miss the waltz and merry medley,
Stately march and symphony,
And the sweet-voiced native maidens
Singing "Lei Poni Mo."

We shall also miss the lovers
On the benches at the back,
And the sound like pistol's popping,
When flirtatious lips "kersmack"—
Osculation bees will languish
Till Herr Berger wanders back.

Hasten, then, good Kappelmeister!
To our palm-girt island shore;
Let your swift-gyrating baton
Conjure melody galore,
And the air be filled with music
Evermore and evermore!

H. M. AYRES.

When Kappelmeister Berger, from the hurricane deck of the departing Australia, yesterday afternoon, kissed aloha from his finger-tips to the members of his famous band on the wharf, who, as a surprise to him, were putting his going-away to music, strong men were overcome with emotion and beautiful women wept silently into their accented pocket handkerchiefs. And the band played "Just Break the News to Mother."

It was a moving spectacle, especially when the steamer began to get away from the wharf. The band boys were weeping copious tears into their big brass instruments and the toot of the tooters was muffled by half stifled sobs.

Suddenly the hefty agent of a big brewery on the Coast, wearing exactly forty leis and a small jag, burst into the middle of the circle of musicians and commenced to beat time with his cane in about the same manner as a man would attempt to hall a runaway street car. Berger's face assumed a terrible look. What impudence! What unmitigated gall! What infamous desecration! What right had this bearded pocket edition of a brewery to assume the role of the only Berger. The Kappelmeister frowned but his fierce scowl was drowned in the sea of music which flooded his soul. His spirit soared high above the little worries of life for below him were there not many tear-stained, sad-eyed faces, looking up and saying farewell?

Herr Berger forgot the man with the cane for he realized at that moment how glorious a thing it is to have the affection of the people. His bearded lips trembled; great, manly tears welled to his expressive eyes. His heart thumped wildly against a number of cigars in his left vest-pocket and, with a reverent gesture of his right hand, he removed his hat, bowing to the cheering, weeping multitude.

One often deals lightly with serious subjects on account of their very seriousness. It is a fact that the best known and most popular man aboard the Australia, when she went away, as far as Honolulu is concerned, was Kappelmeister Berger.

OSCAR K. DAVIS HERE.

Famous War Correspondent Passes Through on the Maru.

Oscar K. Davis, the famous war correspondent of Harper's Weekly and the New York Sun, came in on the America Maru and spent the night in town with friends. He is returning to his desk in the metropolis.

At the outbreak of the Spanish war Davis was one of the Sun's staff of special writers who got a naval detail. For some time he was on the San Francisco or Columbia cruises detailed to watch for Spanish warships off the New England coast. After Dewey's victory at Manila Davis was sent to the Philippines, going out with Merritt's army. He stayed in the field until the "backbone of the insurrection was broken" for the first time, and was then recalled, going back when war blazed up afresh. During the intermission he married a young lady of Southern New York.

Mr. Davis' work as a correspondent has put him in the front rank of that vocation and has made his name familiar to tens of thousands of American readers. He is young yet, and it is but a few brief years since, as a college undergraduate intent on getting hold of sophomore banquet programs, he appeared in the guise of a tramp printer in the country office where the type was being set and got the entire text. Since then his rise in journalism has been rapid.

HIS TURN.

"Excuse me for yawning, but everything that fellow is getting off is so old."

"It all sounds new to me. How do you know it's old?"

"I heard him in New York last week."

ALSEN PORTLAND CEMENT

WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED a large shipment of this celebrated Cement, which is the STRONGEST AND MOST SERVICEABLE CEMENT MADE, and will permit the admixture of a larger amount of sand and gravel, with less loss of strength than any other brand; it is therefore the most economical.

ALSEN has no equal in color, fineness and sand carrying capacity. It weighs less per bushel, measuring about 10 per cent more cement to a barrel than other brands, which very materially reduces its cost as compared with other cements, is therefore an economical cement to use, and specially adapted for fine concrete work.

The following tests, made in actual work by Col. D. C. Houston, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., at the sea wall around Governor's Island, New York Harbor has never been equalled by other cement. It is as follows: Tensile strength per square inch—One day, 384 pounds; seven days, 600 pounds; thirty days, 818 pounds.

For sidewalks it gives the best color and the most durable wearing surface.

A few of the large contracts in which Alsen Cement was used: Cable R. R., Baltimore, 35,000 barrels; Quebec Harbor Improvement, 30,000 barrels; Northern Pacific R. R. Bridges, 20,000 barrels.
