Overall, there is a clear trend in Rachel’s behavior: she demonstrates no remorse for her words or actions and consistently avoids accountability. Instead, she deflects by pretending to identify with the race targeted by her racial slurs.

This document is not intended to expose her but rather to shed light on the kind of person she is. My hope is that, upon reflection, she will recognize the harm in her behavior, take responsibility for her actions, and respond with the maturity expected of an adult.
