Their Brut Rosé helped pioneer the style of lighter, more delicate rosés we see today at a time when many were dark and more extracted. The palate is fresh and refined, with vibrant red-fruit flavors—think raspberry, strawberry, and rhubarb—balanced by bright acidity, a creamy texture, and a chalky, lingering finish.

	In the land of Chardonnay, White Burgundy is king. Jean-Michel Gaunoux makes wine throughout the storied village of Meursault, but this wine is made with fruit entirely from the Premier Cru vineyard of Les Perrières. Somewhat controversially, Meursault has no Grand Cru vineyards. But if it did Les Perrières would be top of the list. All Gaunoux wines are made without chemicals in the vineyards and with hand-harvested grapes. We're fortunate to be able to offer this wine with about a decade of bottle age, so you can expect more savory, mineral characteristics alongside the classic baked apple and lemon curd from the Chardonnay grape.

To drink this Albariño is to imbibe history, as some of the vines are up to 150 years old and are mere meters from the Atlantic Ocean. Their roots run deep, tapping resources that result in a wine with bracing acidity and a sharp, saline minerality typical of the region but in the highest definition possible.

	A rising star of the Rheingau after having cut her teeth at the famous Weingut Leitz. She went from cultivating .25 hectares to 17 hectares in a mere decade and is pioneering organic and bio-dynamic viticulture across steep, diverse terroir. This is a perfect example of a dry Riesling that over delivers and often gets overlooked because of the misconception that these wines are always sweet. There is no sugar in sight here, but instead look for complex aromatics and a long finish on the palate.
W5806	Riesling , Carl Loewen, 1896 , Trocken, Maximin Herrenberg, Mosel 2021 	95
	A leading voice in the revival of traditional Mosel Riesling, working with ungrafted vines and spontaneous fermentation to let the vineyard character shine. His "1896" bottling comes from one of the oldest documented Riesling parcels in the world, planted on red slate in the Maximin Herrenberg vineyard. This is a dry Riesling with serious depth- dense with stone fruit, electric with acidity, and layered with the kind of mineral intensity only old vines can deliver.

	Randy Dunn, a Napa Valley icon, made his name crafting powerful, age-worthy wines at Caymus before founding Dunn Vineyards on Howell Mountain in 1979. At 2,000 feet elevation this is the ceiling of the Napa Valley that sits above the fog that creeps in from San Pablo Bay during the growing season. The result is that these grapes get more sunlight than they would on the valley floor, resulting in thicker skins, more tannin, more concentration and ripe fruit flavors.

Brij Wines is described as a ‘love letter to the San Luis Obispo coast’, which is located in California’s Central Coast region. Raj is making this wine in the style of his favorite producers of France’s Northern Rhone Valley, the ancestral home of the Syrah grape. Their wines emphasize site expression, low-intervention techniques, and a deep respect for heritage vines. Kirschenmann Vineyard is in Lodi and was planted in 1915 on silica-rich sandy soils. This wine spends 15 months in oak barrels, 20% of which are new, and has a splash of Mondeuse Noir, Cinsault, and Carignane blended in. This is the benchmark for Old Vine Zinfandel.

Château La Croix-Toulifaut is a family-owned estate nestled in a prized section of the Pomerol plateau, flanked by the renowned Châteaux Beauregard and Figeac. With a history spanning over 150 years, its vineyards are planted to 85% Merlot and 15% Cabernet Franc, yielding consistently outstanding wines. Only about 900 cases per year are made. It's very special to be able to offer a Pomerol with almost 20 years of age, and it's rare for a winery to hold back releasing their wines for this long until they're ready. Age has treated this wine well, softening the tannins and creating the perfect marriage of earth and fruit.

On the Atlantic Coast of France, just below Bordeaux sits the region of the Southwest. This area is known for its unique grape varieties, a commitment to quality and traditional winemaking, and for being a region that delivers incredible value for the price. Domaine Philémon is a multi-generational, family-run estate that focuses on traditional grapes of the region. There are no added yeasts to start fermentation, so this wine has a seriously earthy character complemented by the spicy, tart qualities of the local Braucol grape.

	Domaine des Tours is the Vacqueyras estate of the illustrious Reynaud family—who also oversee Châteauneuf-du-Pape's legendary Château Rayas—where Emmanuel Reynaud has organically farmed since taking over in 1989. Their Vaucluse Rouge is crafted from Grenache, Syrah, Counoise, Cinsault, and Merlot, fermented separately in oak with native yeasts before blending, then aged in neutral vessels to yield a wine that's weighty yet elegant, expressive of old-vine Provençal terroir, and bottled unfiltered for maximum authenticity

	At the absolute top of the boot in the region of Lombardy, high in the Alps on the border with Switzerland, lies the region of Valtellina. Surrounded by mountains in every direction, it's an oasis of wine making glory in an unexpected terrain. The slopes are steep, allowing for maximum sun exposure to counteract the cool nights. This results in a long ripening season which is perfect for their specialty: the Nebbiolo grape of Barolo and Barbaresco fame. Unlike their Piedmontese cousins however, the wines of Valtellina are more delicate and Burgundian, with floral and spicy aromatics and a more medium-bodied palate.
